Cigarettes and Letters Chief Needs of the Lads Now Serving Overseas

Many Send Thanks for Cigarettes Sent by Community Fag Fund. Capt. Pat Andrews Married. Other Interesting Letters from Overseas. Some Notes on the Fag Fund Committee.

The Timmins Community Fag Fund has received another group of letters of thanks for cigarettes received by the lads overseas. The letters suggest these things worth keeping in mind: First, the boys are appreciative, and this should spur all to greater interest in the Community Fag Fund. Second, cigarettes from Canada are particularly desired by the lads overseas, as they find the English cigarettes when they can get them are not as desirable as the Canadian brands. Third, in addition to cigarettes, the boys like letters from the home town. "Ask the citizens of Timmins to write often to the boys," says one soldier writing from overseas.

The following excerpts from letters received by the Fag Fund Committee will be of interest to many in this district:

Pte. J. O. E. Constantineau writes:—Just a few lines to let you know that I was very happy when I received my cigarettes for Christmas, and many thanks for them. Would you kindly ask the citizens of Timmins to write to the boys often. You should see all the anxious looks when the mail comes! How happy they are when they get a letter, and how disappointed when there is none for them.

LAC. H. Wharton writes in part:—Your last generous parcel of cigs has been following me around from station to station and at last it has caught up with me. Rest assured that I'm grateful to all the folks way back home who help you in your good work.

L-Sgt. A. Meecham writes:—I thank you very much for your gift of cigarettes which I have just received. During 1942 your parcels came very regularly and all the boys from the Porcupine, about fifty of them in this unit, join with me in expressing their thanks and wishing you all a happy New Year.

Spr. L. J. Krzon writes:—Dear Sirs, This is to acknowledge receipt of cigarettes. I wish to thank you for your thoughtfulness in sending these parcels. Saying thank you seems a poor way in which to describe my appreciation of your gifts. Cigarettes are scarce in this country and are not so acceptable as our own Canadian brands, you can imagine how much we enjoy seeing our names on the cigarette list. Wishing you all the compliments of the season and good luck for the future.

Edr. A. J. Noonan writes:—Thank you! Cigarettes from you have saved the day many times now. Really appreciated by all the boys over here, who have thoughtful friends at home. When it's raining and dreary and cold, a good smoke makes all the difference. Cheers!

Cpl. G. D. Boyd writes:—Received cigs O.K. Thanks a million for same. We are doing fine over here and do appreciate the smokes. It is fine to be able to take a smoke when things are getting a little tough. To-night it is a typical old country night with the wind blowing and the rain pouring down. Best wishes for the New Year and thanks once again.

Here is an interesting letter from Capt. Pat Andrews:—Hello Folks: I must first ask your forgiveness for not writing to thank you for your generosity in sending the last parcel of cigarettes. How welcome they were. Mail from Canada at the time had not been too plentiful and I had been reduced to smoking what they call tobacco in this country. Lord knows where they get it but it certainly is not grown in Essex County in Canada. Since writing to you last I have married and I am now quite settled down, even to the English habit (not a bad one) of having afternoon tea. Have seen very few of the gang from Timmins, but did have lunch with Father Rooney, now with the R.C.A.F. in London, about six weeks ago. He gave me all the news of Timmins in a good afternoon chin wag. I also saw Capt. Dan Casey, who was Manager of Simpson's store in Timmins. He was driving down the strand to CMHQ so we had quite a talk. Things are quiet; as far as the Canadians are concerned, but we are racing to go at Hitler and his so-called invincible army. Morale is very high and we can be very proud of an army that will stay so long in one place and still have the high morale and also the good feeling of the civilian population of the country. All units are giving parties for the local children, so we will try to give the poor kiddies a little fun for a short while. May I be so presumptuous as to thank you for the many who haven't written you from over here and to say "thanks a million" for your generosity and kind thoughts in 1942. May you have all the best in 1943 and by 1944 may we over here be back with you over there having a real Christmas with turkey and all the trimmings. With best wishes to you all—Pat Andrews.

Margaret Keeley and Alex Fulton are Dominion Pair Skating Champions

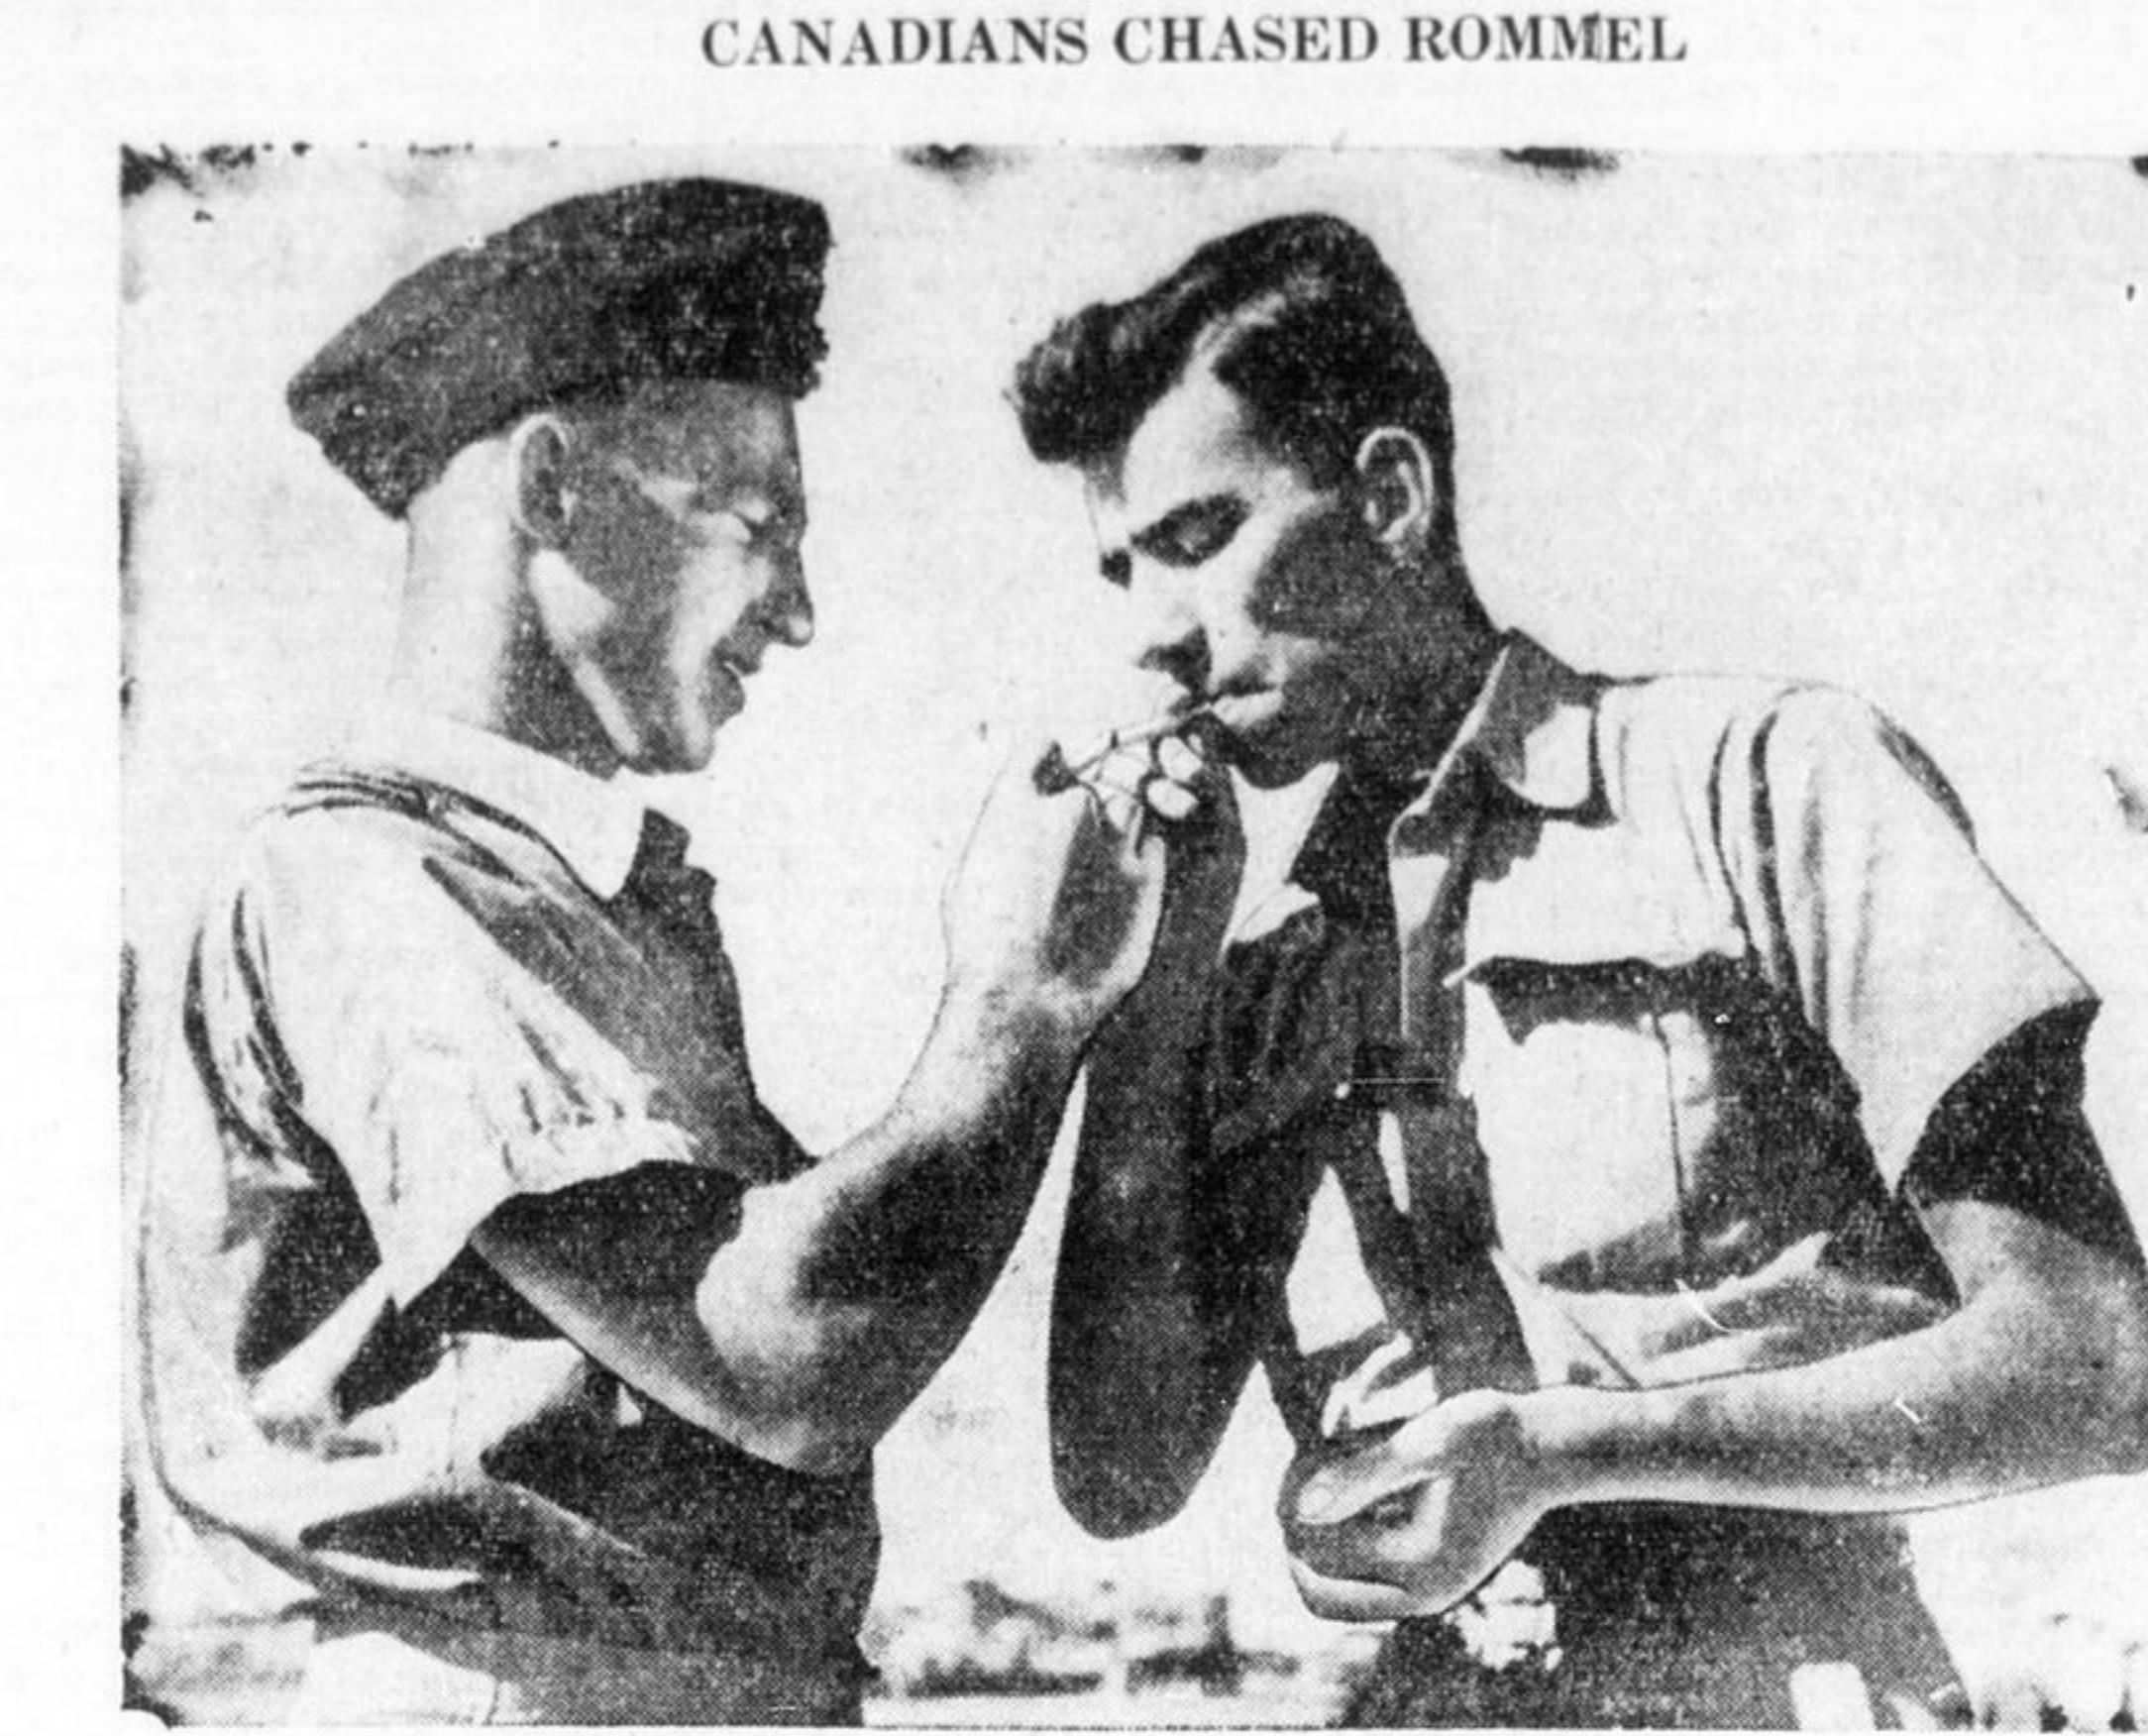

Schumacher Couple Bring Honour to Porcupine Skating Club, by Winning Dominion Championship at Toronto Event Last Week. Other Entries from Several Large Centres.

There was very general pleasure in town and district at the week-end when it was known that Miss Margaret Keeley and Mr. Alex Fulton had won the Dominion Pairs' Championship. These able, and graceful skaters have shown such talent here that the honour coming to the Porcupine Figure-skating Club is not altogether unexpected.

The Junior Championships of the Canadian Figure Skating Association were held over the week-end at Toronto. Due to so many of the Senior skaters being in the Armed Forces and the Women's Divisions also, no senior competitions were held. Rules of the contest also state that no previous champion can compete in this class, but can compete in the senior division.

Ages are from 10 to 22. The Porcupine Figure-Skating Club entered two of its members Miss Margaret Keeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Keeley, Buffalo Ankerite Mine, and Mr. Alex Fulton, son of Mr. and Mrs. "Sandy" Fulton, Schumacher, in the junior pair. Both these clever skaters have featured in the Skating Carnivals, held at the McIntyre Arena in the past two seasons.

Under the tuition of Miss Madge Austin, professional instructor, they became very proficient at the art. They wear the Bronze medal and bar for figures and the Silver Medal for dance tests. They have both practised hard

CANADIANS CHASED ROMMEL

These two Canadian airmen were among the fighting fliers of the United Nations who helped light the fuse that exploded Hitler's pipe-dream. They were part of a bomber crew which flew with the air forces, keeping Rommel's Afrika Korps in frantic retreat. Advance Canadian personnel have arrived in North Africa for special training. The National Film Board's film in the CANADA CAR-

RIES ON series, "PINCHERS ON AXIS EUROPE," gives a full report of the North Africa operation, from the landing of the vast United Nations force to the race across the desert after Rommel's fleeing army. Importance of the move to the United Nations offensive, in its relationship to the struggle on the Russian front is dramatically presented.

Need More Attention to Artistic and Cultural Subjects in Education

Thought-Provoking Address to Timmins Kiwanis Club by Mr. J. J. Bowden on the Subject "Education for Leisure." Too Much Attention Paid to the Material.

Timmins Kiwanis Club at their luncheon at the Empire hotel on Monday had an address that held their keenest attention from beginning to end, and that has formed food for thought for them since then. The speaker was Mr. J. J. Bowden, of the staff of the Timmins High and Vocational School, and his subject was "Education for Leisure".

"Our approach to education has been fairly materialistic in the past," he said, "success being measured in terms of whether the student became financially successful, or entered one of the professions. The aim was not sought in terms of a fuller life or of improved citizenship."

There should be three general aims in education, each overlapping the other perhaps, but each distinct enough to be recognized, the speaker said.

"First," said Mr. Bowden, "we should provide as broad a cultural, artistic and aesthetic training as possible; second, we should train the intellect; and, third, we should teach as many skills as possible. Our materialistic attitude has led us to emphasize the second, and now, partly due to the war, is leading to stress the third. This change is a good thing, but let us not let it obscure the need for artistic and cultural education."

Mr. Bowden proceeded to show the need for education for leisure. As industrialization has increased the hours of work per week have decreased gradually. This development, he said, will continue, so that the labouring man will have more leisure time in the future. Provision should be made for this by shifting some of our emphasis to the cultural and artistic subjects.

"We cannot allow the next generation to depend on entertainment or diversion that is purchased," the speaker said, emphasizing the need for "education for leisure." Beneficial changes, such as the introduction of music into the schools, better language texts, the introduction of manual and technical training, the greater freedom in the English literature courses, were cited.

"The speaker pointed out that all this is little more than a beginning. He said that music should be carried further, and art should receive much more attention. Both deserve a place in the High School course. He felt it was regrettable that High School students receive so little opportunity to progress very far in these subjects.

"An obvious objection," commented the speaker, "is that we have always stressed the languages, social studies and kindred subjects, but these have been taught more as a basis for further education than as an end in themselves."

"We should make a greater effort to give a more complete and better rounded education to those who do not go on for higher education," was another thought expressed by Mr. Bowden. He added that, if necessary, those who have the ability for higher institution might be segregated.

Mr. Bowden suggested that one of the best ways to provide for leisure time would be to increase the scope of adult education. In this respect, he said larger communities fare better. Night school classes are available, though he thought there were often too restricted, being concerned chiefly with increasing working efficiency or earning power. He believed that these night classes should be extended to include as many cultural subjects as possible.

Mr. Bowden did not overlook the more optimistic part of the picture. "Hopeful signs," he said, "are the increased library facilities, the interest in good musical programmes, the flourishing state of the 'Little Theatre' movement in some communities, and the encouragement given to gardening and landscaping by horticultural societies. One of the most promising developments has been the use made of university extension lectures and courses, where they are available."

In concluding his very thoughtful and effective address, Mr. Bowden said that adult education should be encouraged

A local professional man phoned The Advance on Tuesday afternoon to the effect that he had just seen a robin abroad on Hemlock street. Asked if it were the famous "Globe Robin", the noted prophet of spring, the gentleman was not sure that he had heard of the Globe robin, but he was sure that it was a robin on Hemlock street and that it seemed a prophecy of an early spring.

Man Arrested on Serious Charge

Last night George Zabo, a man of about 40 years of age, was arrested after he had run from the barn of the Timmins Packing Co., and is held in jail here to face a charge of attempted sodomy. On account of recent injury and interference with cows at the property, the police were watching the place last night. Zabo ran out of the barn and was caught and brought back, and eventually placed under arrest. On his arrival at the police station a doctor was called and following further investigation, the charge was laid against Zabo. Last year Zabo was in court on a charge of defrauding his landlady and was ordered to pay her the amount due for board and lodging.

The guest speaker was introduced by Kiwanian E. H. King, while Kiwanian A. W. Pickering expressed the thanks of the Club for the thought-provoking and valuable address enjoyed.

The special visitor for the day was Dr. F. K. Switzer, of Toronto, who is in charge of the dental car touring the North Land. Dr. Switzer spoke briefly on the work that is being done, this dental car calling at all outlying areas to provide the dental services that would otherwise be unavailable in the sparsely centred areas far from the larger centres.

The winner of the War Savings draw for the week was Kiwanian Phil LaPorte.

The community singing at the meeting was led by Kiwanian F. Woodbury.
