Wonderful Record of Woman of 73 Years in Work for Red Cross

South Porcupine, May 5th. Special to The Advance.

We have heard of many wonderful records for knitting and sewing done by individuals during the war, for the Red Cross, but the following will be hard to beat we think:—

Mr. A. Clay, of Dome Extension, has a mother living in Stoney Creek, who is 73 years old.

Since the war began she has knitted 1000 articles — socks, scarves, sweaters, helmets, for the boys in the services, besides sewing for the Red Cross and the Bomb Victims. Added to this Mrs. Clay, Senior, does all her own work!

We hope to publish next week a clipping from her home town newspaper giving a full account of the war work of this wonderful old lady.

Successful Victory Loan Rally Event Presented by All-Slav Committee

Musical Programme of Much Interest. Event Made Colourful by Brilliant Native Costumes. Effective Addresses Given in Behalf of Fourth Victory Loan.

There was a packed theatre on Sunday evening, when the All-Slav Committee sponsored a Victory Loan rally at the Palace theatre.

Mr. Michael Karol acted as master of ceremonies, and Mr. Fred Wysluk organized the programme. The entertainment was under the direction of the Slavick people of the district.

There were many musical numbers presented during the evening, a Croatian trio singing many lovely numbers. The trio included Mr. Mike Novosel, Miss Zenka Brisky and Mr. Frank Bichevitch, at the accordion.

The Ukrainian sextette, dressed in the traditional native costume, did the Kratina dance. This was very enjoyable feature of the programme.

There were many lovely vocal selections presented, including one by Miss Helen Synos, accompanied at the piano by Miss Katherine Smuk. Miss Synos received a great deal of applause and encore for her number.

A choir of 30 Slavonian ladies rendered many lovely native songs, each one calling forth much enthusiastic applause.

There were a few instrumental solos, accordion and guitar, all being greatly enjoyed.

The guest speaker for the evening, was Mr. N. L. MacNames, district organizer of the 4th Victory Loan campaign. His address was both interesting and informative, stressing to all that they should back up the attack by buying Victory Bonds.

Mr. Sol Shankman, of the National Groups for Victory Loan, gave an address following Mr. MacNames', his topic being based on the title, National Groups for Victory Loan. His talk was much appreciated by the audience.

Mr. Michael Karol spoke a few words in his native tongue to the audience. Mr. Karol is one of the bond salesmen, and is canvassing the Slavonian people of this district. There has been a large response in this campaign from these people.

There were also two other speakers who appealed in their native tongue to help win this war by buying bonds.

A little table was set up in the front of the theatre, and girls dressed in their native costume canvassed the theatre with Victory Bonds, and received a considerably large response from the people.

During the evening, the Croatian string orchestra was in attendance, and played many lovely selections. All the entertainers and speakers must be complimented on their fine work in their effort to put over this 4th Victory Loan.

Magistrate Warns Against Interference With Young Girls

Even When Not Convicted Under One Section of the Code May be Liable for Contributing to Juvenile Delinquency.

Three young men charged in police court on Tuesday with carnally knowing a girl between the ages of 14 and 16 years were dismissed when the girl's own evidence showed that the accused men were not primarily responsible for her waywardness. Crown Attorney Caldwell agreed with the magistrate's suggestion that the charge could scarcely be upheld in view of what the girl herself said about previous happenings. In dismissing the cases, Magistrate Atkinson took occasion to point out that even though a young girl had already fallen from the right track that did not mean that men could help her continue in wrong ways. Men who interfered with young girls were liable under the sections dealing with juvenile delinquency for causing a child to be delinquent or to continue delinquent. The penalties for this, the magistrate pointed out, are heavy, young girls have to be protected, even against themselves. While, of course, it was not proven that the young men in question had been guilty with the girl in question, it seemed evident that some men had been to the effect that those proven guilty would find themselves liable to severe penalty under the regulations in regard to contributing to juvenile delinquency.

I.O.O.F. Smoker Nets $25.00 for the Local Fag Fund

At the smoker held by Timmins Lodge, No. 459, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Tuesday evening the sum of twenty-five dollars was collected and forwarded to the Timmins Community Fag Fund for the boys in the Armed Services Overseas which is administered by Branch 83 of the Canadian Legion.

The programme opened with the singing of "O Canada", followed by a short address by the chairman, Les. Bailey N.G. The following numbers ensued:— Community singing; songs by Jas. Cowan; accordion solos, R. Kleven; songs, J. McGrath; step dances, M. Jasmir; songs, Les Nicholson; review of progress of proposed Scout troop to be sponsored by the Lodge, Reg. Stoneman; songs, Ron Jones; cornet solos, Fred Wolno; and a comic skit, "Bluff Gets His Discharge, Bluff Got, oh Well" by Messrs Curtis and Kettle.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of 25-year Veteran Jewels to four members of the Lodge:— Bro. Blake Martin, by Bro. J. Morrison, P. G. Bro. Louis Halperin, by Bro. Geo. Drew, P. G. Bro. Jas. Brough, P. G., by Bro. A. Carson, P. G., P.D.G.M.

The recipients responded in a suitable manner.

The programme was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem. Walter Devine was accompanist at the piano for the evening. Lunch was then served which brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

There's a time to spend and a time to save

DURING the last war, men bought Life Insurance to an extent that was never known before.

These men created a cash asset, which has been of exceptional value to them. In many cases, it is their only asset that has not decreased in capital value.

Today, as then, there is an unusual need to build for the future. More and more people own Confederation Life Policies. No other long term savings program provides greater stability and security.
