Scenery in Africa Very Beautiful Says Timmins Man

Air Mail the Only Means of Communication, Lance-Bombardier K. Lainsbury Says.

A very interesting letter arrived this week in Timmins, the recipients being Mr. and Mrs. Lainsbury, of Balsam St. S. The letter was from their son, Lance-Bombardier Kenneth Lainsbury, who has been with the Royal Canadian Artillery for nearly three years, two of which were spent in England. The letter tells of his arrival in North Africa. In part the letter says: "Arrived in this land of heat and sunshine. We are only two miles from the beautiful Mediterranean Sea. Watermelons, grapes, lemons and tomatoes are very plentiful and quite a treat. There is also plenty of wine! The buildings here are all white and the palm trees and the scenery are very beautiful, but the natives are wild looking. Air Mail is the only means of communication. No cable stations are here as yet."

Lance-Bombardier Lainsbury was born and educated in Timmins and all friends will be interested in the above note of his travels while in the service of his country.

Hit-and-Run Driver Gets Two-Year Term at LaSarre, Que.

Penitentiary Term for Driver Who Struck Cyclist.

Magistrate A. Boly, of Rouyn, sitting in court at LaSarre, gave an exemplary sentence to Leon Auger, convicted of failing to remain at the scene of an accident and neglecting to give aid to a man struck by his car. The sentence was the maximum permitted by the law—two years in the penitentiary. In passing sentence Magistrate Boly pointed out that the sentence of two years in the penitentiary would serve to impress on all the seriousness of this type of offence and might have some weight in preventing the recurrence of similar offences. The accident that resulted in the charge against Auger occurred at Duparquet on June 19th. Jean Lamarre was passing by on his bicycle when he struck by Auger's automobile. The driver went right on without stopping to lend any assistance to the victim, and did not even take any steps to see whether the cyclist was hurt or not. Following a police investigation, Auger was arrested. In view of the fact that it was his third such offence and that he had not stopped to investigate the extent of the victim's injuries or to give what help he could to the injured man, Auger was given the maximum sentence provided by the law.

Fish Should be Used to Help Out the Rations of Meat

Fish Can be Used Interchangeably With Meat.

Meal planning is a necessity to-day. To obtain the required amount of efficient protein you should have your portion of rationed meat 4 or 5 times a week and substitute a food containing efficient protein for the other 2 or 3 days. Fish is one of the foods you can use interchangeably with meat as a source of protein without affecting materially the nutritive value of your diet. Salt water fish is valuable in your diet for the iodine content. Salmon, halibut, cod, are rich in vitamins A, D, and G.

The locality and season influence the price of fish, so if you are not too far from where the fish are caught, you should buy fish every week when it is in season. In fresh fish the eyes should be full and bright, the gills red, the flesh firm and elastic and there should be no disagreeable odour. Fish may be preserved by one of several methods of a combination of two or more e.g. freezing, salting, pickling, smoking and canning.

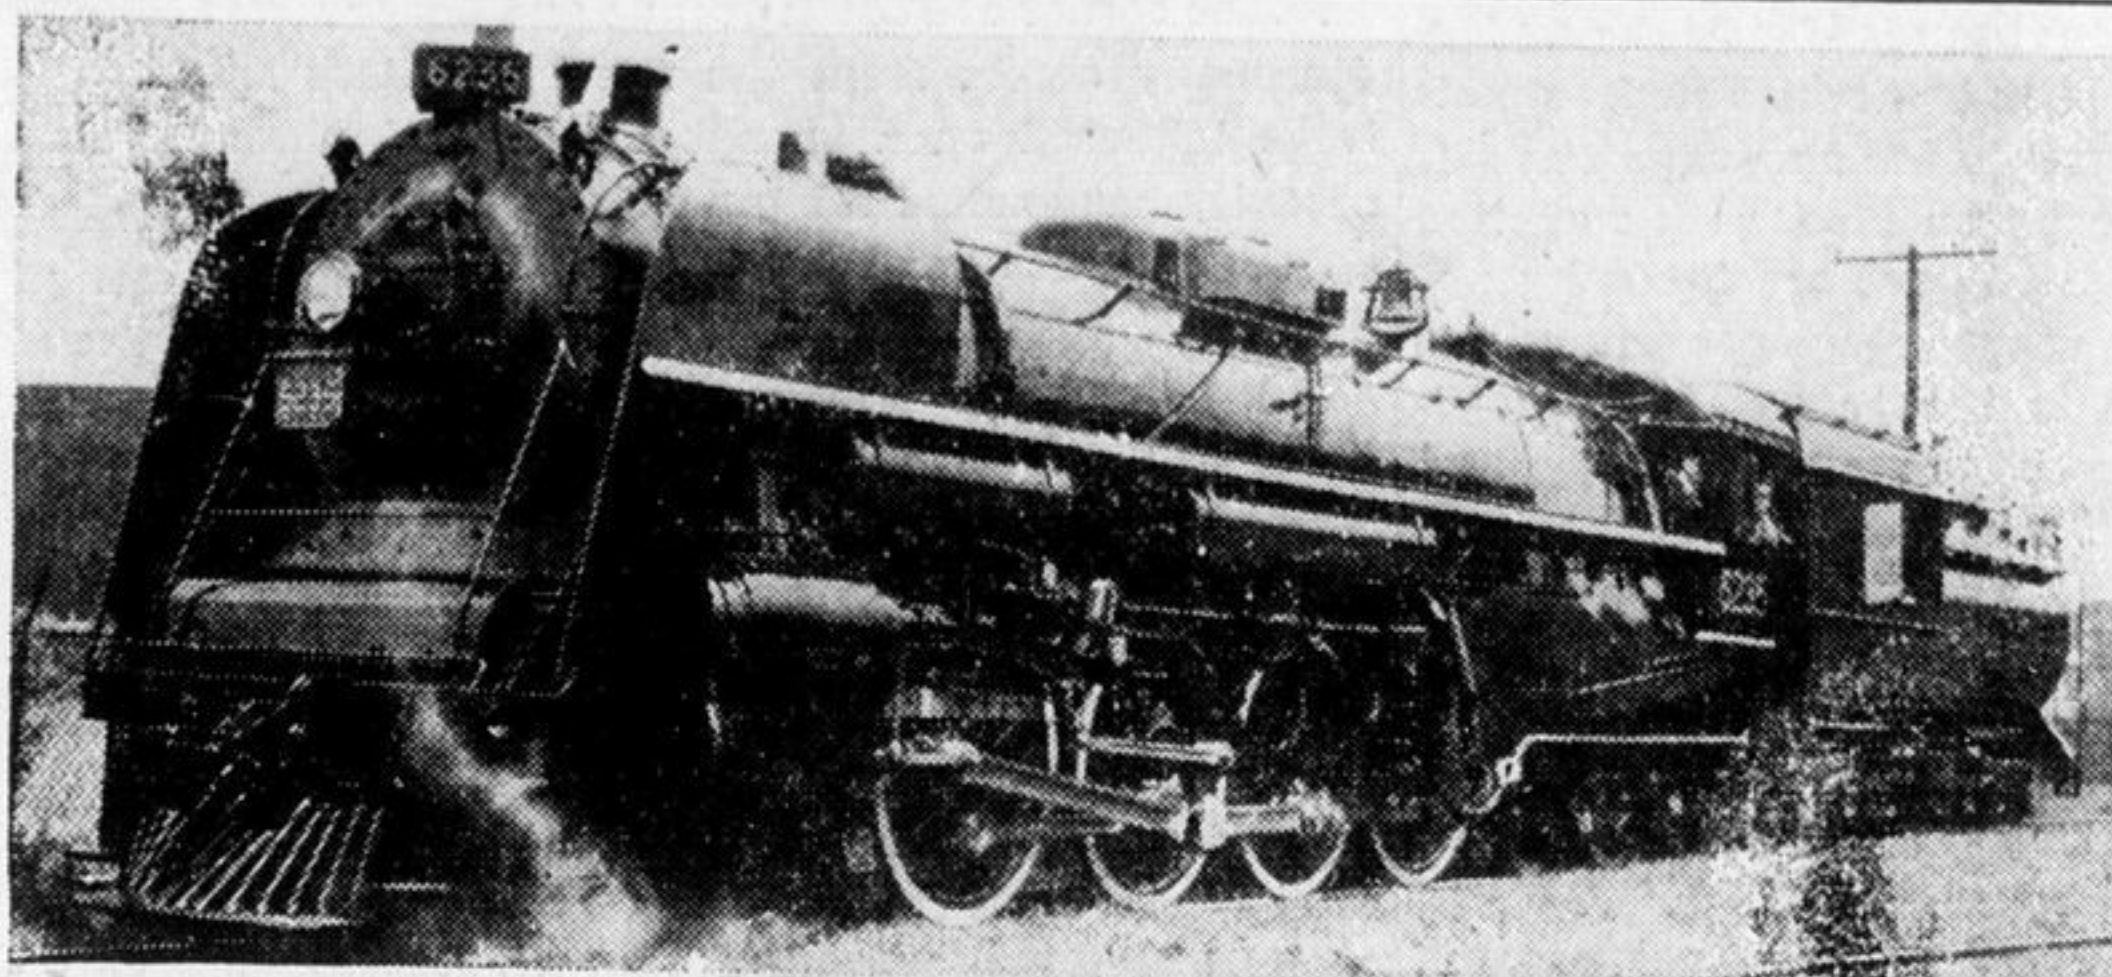

You probably have noticed that fish is never tough, this is due to the fact that there is no connective tissue, as there is in meat. As a result you only cook fish to develop a flavour and change the texture. These facts should always be kept in mind when cooking fish, as prolonged cooking dries out the fish and spoils the flavour—10 minutes per pound is sufficient.

You should cook fish several different ways to add a variety to your menu. Fillets and small fish may be broiled or pan-broiled in oil or fat and basted during the cooking to prevent the fish drying out. Fish could be coated with bread crumbs and egg or corn meal and fried in fat at a high temperature to prevent the fat soaking into the fish. Larger size fish may be stuffed and baked in a moderate oven, basting with melted fat, or salt pork or lean bacon placed on top of the fish will add richness and flavour. You could wrap fish to be boiled in cheese cloth to facilitate handling.

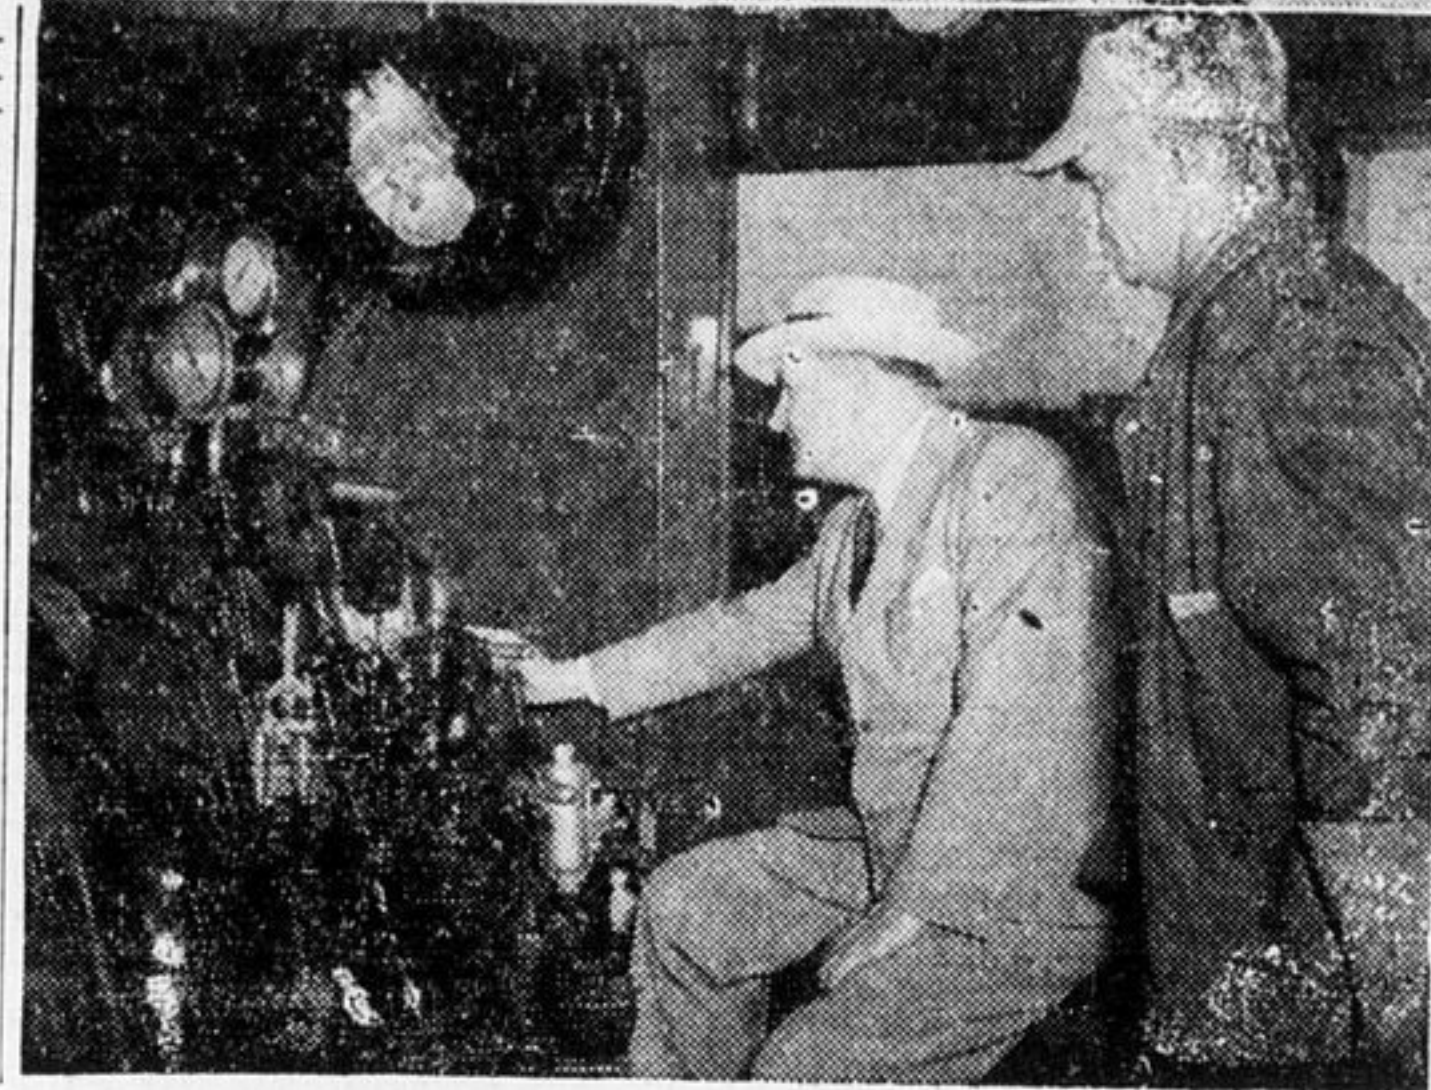

Lack of colour, flavour and richness in fish can easily be supplied by garnishes and sauces, e.g. lemon, cucumbers, parsley, tartar, tomato or egg sauce.

Big Fleet of New Locomotives for War Duty

HEAVIER wartime freight and passenger traffic on lines of the Canadian National Railways calls for more power and R. C. Vaughan, Chairman and President of the National System, has welcomed the delivery of the first of 30 powerful 6,200 class, Northern Type, locomotives. This new 6235 is already in service carrying war freight needed by the armed services, and as each succeeding engine is received it will be promptly broken in for war duty. These locomotives are really "monsters," being 94 feet 9 1/2 inches overall and weigh 677,890 pounds in working order. They carry 11,600 gallons of water and 18 tons of coal. A feature of these engines is a wartime substitution of steel plate bells manufactured in the company's Montreal shops, for the traditional bronze bell, the bronze being required for war needs. Mr. Vaughan, inspecting the first of new engines, sat in the driver's seat as F. G. Pike, the driver, explained the use of the instruments.

Timmins Legion Observes Decoration Day Sunday at the Timmins Cemetery

Ladies' Auxiliary and Platoon of Algonquins Also Take Part. Services at Gravesides. Union Jack Placed on Each Veterans' Grave and on Graves of Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Plots Well Kept and Beautified

There was only a fair attendance of members of the Timmins branch of the Canadian Legion in attendance at the Decoration Day service held on Sunday at the Timmins cemetery. Accompanying the Legion were members of the Ladies' Auxiliary and a platoon of the Algonquin Regt. Proceeding from the Legion hall to the Cenotaph, President Les. Nicholson, placed a wreath, on behalf of the branch, upon the memorial at the Spruce street park.

Buses were boarded and upon arrival at the cemetery the members of the various denominations assembled at the Legion burial plots. Capt. Church of the Salvation Army, conducted the service at the Protestant plots and Rev. Fr. Murray at the Catholic plots. Both services were in keeping with the occasion. "Last Post" and "Reveille" were sounded by Bugler Dickinson, after which the members placed a Union Jack upon each grave of the veterans now buried at the cemetery. The plots showed the care which have been given them this year by the committee in charge, Bert Ketley and his assistants have done a hard job in splendid manner. The first completed plot made a striking contrast to those not yet ready for beautifying, and gave all in attendance an excellent example of how each and every plot will appear when completed.

The members of the Ladies' Auxiliary also placed Union Jacks upon the graves of wives or veterans and have also beautified and kept in good condition these sacred spots.

License Cancelled on Account Black Market

Montreal, Aug. 12 — In the first action of its kind to wipe out black market activities, the prices board last week cancelled the business licence of the Modern Poultry and Egg Company in Montreal's central section.

The board also served the proprietor with an order empowering the board to take possession of all the goods on hand. The goods will be sold at ceiling prices and the proceeds will be turned over to the company.

Two Royal Canadian Mounted Police Constables served the order on Koppel Mintz, holder of the prices board licence his brother Isy Mintz, and their father, Wolfe Mintz.

Brothers Who Fought in Two Wars Meet Again After 43 Years

John Gold, of Haileybury, and Frank, Toronto, Last Saw Each Other in South Africa.

War days are too often the time of partings for members of a family, but recently they saw the re-union of two brothers who had not seen each other for forty-three years, and then in South Africa during the war there. The brothers are John Gold, of Haileybury, and Frank Gold, for the past fourteen years a resident of Toronto. They were natives of Great Britain and both served in the South African war, seeing each other in South Africa in 1900. After that war John Gold came to Canada and his brother returned to Britain. Both the brothers served in the last war, but were not able to meet during that conflict. Early in the last war Frank Gold was taken prisoner and spent three years in a German prison camp. The war was over some months before he returned to his native land, and in the meantime John Gold had returned to Canada. In recent years John Gold knew that his brother, Frank, had also come to Canada, but had never been able to locate him on any of his occasional visits to Toronto, however, John Gold made a very determined effort to locate his brother, Frank, and through information secured from the Government departments at Queen's Park the re-union was made possible. On his return to Haileybury, John Gold told The Haileyburyian they certainly had a grand re-union, and that he also met a niece, Miss Kitty Gold, daughter of a younger brother. He had last seen her some twenty-six years ago, shortly after the last war.

What the British People Are Doing for Others Now

(From Ottawa Journal) Reporting that Britons' thoughts are now turning to the gloomy prospects of a winter short of fuel, the New Yorker's London correspondent writes this arresting paragraph:—"The problem, of course, will be not only to keep the home fires burning but also to stoke the liberating ones which everyone hopes will soon be spreading across Europe. A campaign has already been started to educate Britons in the important new idea that they must not only keep their own families warm, fed, and clothed but must help warm, feed and clothe strangers they'll never meet in towns and villages that they will probably never see. It was recently announced that 50,000 tons of British coal a week would have to be shipped to Sicily and that the public would have to do with less chocolate since most of the supply was being earmarked for occupied Europe against the day the great handout begins."

This is the kind of statement about Britain which must strike to the heart of every Canadian. What a people they are! Their own privations are known to us and put before us an example we should strive to emulate. "If Britons do such and so let Canadians at least buy War Bonds," we are told. Yet the Britons reach out and feed Europe from their already thinly spread rations. We trust that Canadian authorities are mindful of these sacrifices and that Britain's supplies will in turn be strengthened by help from Canada.

Northern Municipalities to Present Large Number of Motions to Government

Timmins, Tisdale, Teck and Whitney Join in Recommending Changes in Law and Practice to Aid the North and Its People. Taxation, Mining, Silicosis and Other Questions Discussed.

At a regular meeting on Monday evening in the town hall, Timmins, the Association of Northern Mining Municipalities (Timmins, Teck, Tisdale and Whitney) passed a large number of resolutions that will be presented both to the Ontario Municipal Association and to the Ontario Government. These resolutions dealt with silicosis, tuberculosis, taxation, election procedure, appointment of justices of the peace, payment for sanatorium cases, assessment, post war conditions and a number of other questions, all of interest and importance to the North and its people.

Mrs. Ann Shipley, reeve of Teck township, was in the chair, and carried through the difficult work of presiding over such a meeting, with efficiency and promptness. Despite this efficiency, however, the meeting lasted fully three hours. After the meeting there was a more sociable hour or two at the Empire Grill where the visitors from out-of-town were the guests of Timmins Council. The four member councils were all well represented at the meeting with the Reeves of the three townships and the mayor of Timmins and several councillors from each municipality present, as well as clerks, treasurers, assessors and other municipal officials.

On the suggestion of Reeve Shipley, of Teck, there is to be a central committee to study post-war conditions and the best methods to meet them, while each municipality is to have a committee of its own named by the mayor, or reeve, and council, and to consist of two to represent farming, two for lumbering and pulp and paper, two for mining, two for business interests and two for the Canadian Legion Councillor Ames, of Kirkland Lake, urged that organized labour should be recognized on these committees. Reeve Shipley pointed out the difficulty of choosing what was "organized labour" from the several unions now in the North. Councillor Bromley, of Whitney, noted that there was no organized labour in that township. Eventually it was agreed that in each of the cases of the representatives of mining, lumbering and farming, one representative should be for management and one for labour, organized or unorganized, as the case might be, the head of the municipality and the council deciding on the personnel of the committee.

Clerk McBain, of Kirkland Lake, reported on the matter of depreciation allowed under the income tax rules in regard to property under rental. It was felt that the present set-up was not equitable. A depreciation of 2 1/2 per cent was allowed on frame houses, 5 per cent on brick houses, while 15 per cent was allowed on mining property. It was felt that in mining towns the depreciation on houses should be closer to that on mining property, as town houses depended for their value on the life of the mines. Councillor McGuire, of Kirkland Lake, suggested that the resolution should be extended to houses occupied by the owners, but this was not considered desirable as owners did not pay income tax on the houses they occupied solely for their own use.

A number of resolutions were submitted by each of the four municipalities, the most of these being passed by the meeting and will be submitted to the meeting of the Ontario Municipal Association this month for approval. Some of the resolutions are also to be taken up with the Ontario Government and the Federal authorities.

Councillor Spooner, with assistance on occasion from Mayor Brunette presented a number of resolutions from the town of Timmins.

One of these provided for revision of municipal voters' lists up to the day before nominations. Another urged the government to assume a larger share of the cost of both primary and secondary education. There was a deplorable condition in regard to school facilities in some of the rural areas.

A third resolution asked that provision be made for the sending of assessment notices by ordinary mail instead of registered mail. There was also a resolution calling for provision for the sending of notices of the court of appeal on the assessment to places of business by ordinary mail.

Still another resolution suggested that it would be a great convenience to all concerned if all members of the council were commissioners for taking affidavits, by virtue of their office.

Yet another resolution from Timmins, duly passed like the others, was to the effect that the provincial government amend the Municipal Act to permit the setting up of reserves for specified purposes, and that the use or depletion of such reserve funds should not be legal by future councils without the express approval of the Ontario Municipal Department.

Tisdale township also had a number of resolutions all duly passed by the meeting. Some of these resolutions were presented and explained by Clerk P.

Murphy and others by Reeve V. H. Evans.

One of these asked for an increase in the amounts that could be paid in towns and townships to the heads of municipalities, while another referred to travelling expenses allowed. It was pointed out that conditions in this North made the present limits inadequate.

On the plea that the township or town was the one chiefly concerned, one resolution asked that provincial licenses for clubs should not be granted without the approval of the police of the municipality concerned; while another resolution suggested that the municipality have some consideration in the matter of beverage room licenses.

Tisdale also asked that some relief be granted municipalities in the case of patients returned from sanitariums. Still another dealt with the readjustment of mine taxation as between Dominion, province and municipality, to give the municipalities a fair deal. There was a general feeling that the better form of plan would be for the municipality to be given the right of taxation over mines as in other industries or business, with the Dominion or province giving any subsidy that might be considered right to the industry.

Some of the resolutions by Tisdale sought to keep politics out of affairs. One of these suggested that clerks of municipalities prepare lists of suitable persons to act as deputy returning officers and poll clerks and that the Dominion and province select from this list. Too often, through politics, very incompetent or unsuitable persons were placed in these positions.

Another request was that clerks of municipalities be Justices of the Peace by virtue of their office.

Councillor McGuire suggested that some of these resolutions were going far afield and he thought the association should stick more closely to municipal affairs.

Whitney township resolutions were presented by Councillor Bromley. The first one recommended that reforestation be one of the special post-war enterprises. To this was added industries allied to forest products and to plastics, as suggested by Reeve Shipley, of Teck.

The second Whitney resolution asked that the income tax act be amended so that members of council could deduct election expenses from council fees. Councillor McGuire thought this might prove unfair to candidates who did not incur heavy election expenses. He said he kept his own election expenses down to $25.00. Others present claimed that their election expenses did not exceed $40.00. Councillor Malkin, of Tisdale raised a laugh by talking about one local newspaper that offered him guaranteed election if he would put up $90.00. "I did not put up any such sum," he said, "for two reasons — I didn't want to spend that amount, and I didn't have that amount to spend for such a purpose."

Whitney urged that licenses for autos and drivers be available at all municipal offices, instead of at certain favoured spots as at present. Councillor Bromley explained that at present in his township motorists have to drive to Iroquois Falls of Timmins for these licenses, thus losing time, tires and gasoline. The meeting endorsed the resolution, the licenses to be obtainable from the municipal license office.

Kirkland Lake's resolutions were ably presented by Councillor M. T. McGuire. They dealt with needed improvements in the Workmen's Compensation Act and the composition of the Board. Councillor Ames, of Kirkland Lake, urged that organized labour should be represented on the Workmen's Compensation Board. Further reference to this matter is made elsewhere in this issue.

The Timmins Citizens' Band held its annual picnic last Sunday at the Buffalo Ankerite grounds. A good time was had by all. There were races for all. The big feature of the afternoon was two softball games between the married men and the single and also a challenge from the St. John Ambulance who were also enjoying a picnic. The single men tied up the game in the last innings.

The game with the Ambulance was very much top-sided as the First Alders pounded the ball all over the lot.
