Beauty of the North Land Evident at South Porcupine

Other Items of Interest from South Porcupine and the Dome.

South Porcupine, Oct. 6th. Special to The Advance.

This Northland has never been more lovely than it is now, and has been over the weekend. The coloring in the bush is of breath-taking beauty, and while Southern Ontario may have more striking sheets of scarlet in its maple trees, our wild cherry and sumachs of the North flash their crimson brilliance in between the true gold of the poplars and the intense dark green of the pines just as gloriously. Our theory is that after the depredations made early in the spring by the tent caterpillars, the trees renewed their green leaves again, and the first frosts caught them at the height of perfection of form. Added to the beauty of the autumn leaves, the lovely days of late summer sun have intensified the blue of sky and lake—these last few days have registered truly gorgeous riots of color.

A DAY WILL COME..

... "— a day will come, when I'll walk up the hill back of our place, and see the colour of the wheat showing on the South quarter. I'll find the buckskin pony, and rub his ears, and ride him down to the lake. I'll want to check up on those Angus calves you've been telling me about."

"The farms round here are tiny, compared to ours, but I saw one that looked like the old Macgregor place on Highway No. 3. I'll want to drive over to the Macgregor's like we used to do for the Saturday dance in the barn."

"Hope Dad will have the tractor by then. We'll need it if we're going to put the pasture into flax. Think we'll have to paint the house, and put in electricity for Mom. Its fun thinking about it anyway — although it all seems so far away just now."

"Time to grab forty winks, and I still have to write Margaret. We didn't get much sleep in the last (censored) days coming here and we've had a hot time since we arrived, but it's a thrill to be in it with Montgomery's men."

Be seeing you — "

Yes, a day will come... when he'll be back, ready to take his place in a Canada he helped make safe for all of us. To speed that day is in our power. We at home... in factories, in offices, on farms... work long hours to hurry it along. We go without, and lend our savings to provide what he needs to win quickly. This is the least that anyone can do. And when that day comes—you'll want to welcome him—and to help him make his hopes come true.
