Only a Small Docket at Police Court on Tuesday.

The docket at Tuesday's police court was a comparatively short one.

Paul Giroux pleaded guilty to a charge of false pretences, but said he was willing to pay if given a chance. appeared that he had hired a taxi and after driving around, gave the driver an address at which to call. When this address was reached he told the taxi driver to wait for him. The driver waited for half an hour and then called at the house only to find that his fare was not there. If he had entered the house he had gone out through another door. The taxi driver had to account for the time the car was out and so would have to pay the bill himself, so he made his next call at the police station. The police located Giroux who said he had no money and so could not pay. Magistrate Atkinson did not think this was a nice form of fraud and sentenced Giroux to thirty days in jail. Anthony Campbell was charged with being drunk in charge of a car and acted as his own lawyer, but it would lice, who said he was very drunk when The meeting closed with the Lord's arrested. He had asked for a doctor other preference he did not answer. Present at the meeting were:-Mrs. The police said that the reason he did owing to his condition. The man's explanation was that he was awake and sober but did not answer because he was annoyed at the attitude of the police. Some time previous to his arrest, he said, he had had a few drinks but not enough to affect him. Magistrate Atkinson pointed to the clear evidence of the police that left no doubt as to the condition of the cused when arrested. #### Funeral of the Late Miss Nina MacLeod at Leeburn, Ont.

Many Tributes Paid to the Memory of Miss MacLeod.

On Monday morning, October 25th, death removed from our midst an outstanding and well-loved member of the younger generation and the teaching profession, in the person of Nina Isabel MacLeod, after an illness of about four months. Born in Algoma District, near the village of Leeburn, she was the eldest child of the late Mr. and Mrs. her in 1938 and 1941, respectively. Her whole life had been devoted to them and to the profession which she entered in the year 1913, beginning her teaching career at Rydal Bank Public School. Later appointments were at Bruce Mines, McKellar, Ophir, Copper Cliff and finally Timmins, where she had just completed twenty years on the staff of the Moneta Public School.

In religious faith, Nina was a member of the First United Church, Timmins, where she also served as Secretary of the Sunday School for a number of years. She was a charter member of the Fireside Club, and an untiring worker in many other organizations, one of her faithful efforts in connection with the war being her hours for Kiwanis Club of work in the Red Cross Wool Room As a tribute to her memory Moneta chool remained closed on the day of her death, and a representative of the Teachers' Federation stood guard over the casket during the afternoon, while fellow teachers, former pupils and friends filed past to pay their last respects to one whose happy presence will be sadly missed. At four o'clock the Rev. W. M. Mustard conducted a private service for relatives and close friends, after which the remains were conveyed to the Northland train, for the sad journey back to the little farming community at Leeburn. There a host of friends gathered on Wednesday, October 27th, for a simple funeral service conducted in the family home by Rev. Jos. W. Dudgeon, of Bruce Mines Evans, Art Beasley, Sol Sky, Earl S. assisted by W. J. Rickard, a former pas- | Somerville, Dave Austin, Dan McLeltor and Rev. Ross Pace, Chaplain of the lan. Pallbearers who were chosen from former schoolmates and neighbours were: Howard Stewart, Wray Stewart, Hazen Dolsen, Ernie McKay, Johnnie MacLeod and Griff Hopkins.

Survivors are one sister, Mrs. E. L. Urguhart (Rhoda) of Timmins, and one brother, Clifford, at Leeburn; five nieces and nephews: Lois Urquhart, Timmins; Sheila, Isabel, Donald and Elvin Mac-Leod, Leeburn.

Many warm tributes paid by former pupils and associates confirm the fact that Nina was not merely a schoolteacher, but a conscientious characterbuilder, and her contribution to the citizenship of her country, and the Town of Timmins especially will never be fully realized. One of her greatest pleasures in Timmins and Copper Cliff was teaching Italian children, with whom she was particularly popular, and she never tired of praising them for their deep patriotism, and the eagerness with which they absorbed their education. Always her most outstanding characteristic was her love of children, and to many a little family among her friends, she was their beloved "Aunt Nina". Many a young heart was thrilled by a well told story, or a thoughtfully chosen gift that was always exactly right for the little recipient. Perhaps the story of this useful Donald J. MacLeod, who pre-deceased and inspiring life may best be summed up in the words of Robert Louis Stevenson, as found treasured in her scrapbook: "He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often, and loved much; who has gained the respect of intelligent men, and won the love o little children; who has accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it . . . whose life was an inspiration; whose memory is a bene-
