

There'll Always be A Christmas

Now, He that in a manger lay
Still lives in the hearts of men
The world is keeping His Christmas Day
As the Wise Men kept it then.
For ever the heavens shall ring with song
And ever the bells shall chime
And the glorious day that has lived so long
Shall live to the end of time.

—Edgar A. Guest.

