TEN YEARS AGO IN TIMMINS

From data in the Porcupine Advance Files

The Honourable Charles McCrea, Minister of Mines, announced ten years ago the different geological parties which were to take the field during the approaching summer. He drew attention to the fact that in view of the increased interest in gold mining in this province as well as throughout the rest of Canada, and having taken into consideration the great number of prospectors who were expected to take the fields that summer, the Government had increased the number of parties. With gold at $35.00 an ounce the whole picture had changed. The conclusions as to the economic importance of the various fields based on the older price of gold, had ten years ago been revised, and for that reason the geological activities of the Department in the summer of 1934 would be confined mainly to the newer gold districts, although as many of the old areas as possible would be visited during the approaching summer.

Helpful Hints on Flowers and Gardens

In choosing seed potatoes one must, in this North country, take the shortest of the growing season into consideration. Everything else being equal, an early maturing potato should be given first thought.

Among the earliest Warba ranks high. Warba is reputed to give the highest yield of all early potatoes. It resembles the Irish Cobbler in shape and matures in about the same time. Irish Cobbler is an old favorite. It is ready to dig about twenty days before Green Mountain. Cobblers are fairly resistant to late blight but do not thrive in a dry season. They grow to medium size. Their deep eyes are definitely a fault that detracts from an otherwise excellent potato.

Green Mountain, Katahdin and Chippewa are all main crop varieties very much in demand commercially. They take about the same time to mature; one hundred and twenty to one hundred and thirty days approximately. Green Mountain is very susceptible to late blight; it does very well in a dry season, however.

Chippewa has been grown very extensively in this locality and north of here. It is an excellent potato in every respect. Rather flatish in shape, clean appearance, with shallow eyes.

Sebago, a new variety, was grown successfully in Timmins last summer. Sebago is a cross between Chippewa and Katahdin, combining the good, clean qualities of both, but it is later than either. Sebago was cut down by frost while still in full foliage before the tubers were fully developed. Even so it yielded twelve bags for one. Not a remarkable crop by any means, but Sebago's real claim to distinction seems to lie in its ability to resist late blight. Blight was unusually destructive in this locality last Fall, due to lack of spraying. The crop in question was not sprayed and out of the twelve bags harvested not one tuber showed signs of rot, either at digging time or since.

It might be mentioned in this particular that commercial growers do not consider late blight a hazard if potatoes are sprayed during their period of growth. We will take that subject into discussion in due time.

From potatoes to Asters is rather a broad jump, but this column is forced to keep an eye on the calendar to crowd in every phase of gardening suitable to this locality. It is time to think of planting Asters; Ageratum; Snapdragon (Antirrhinum); African Daisies (Dimorphotheca); tall varieties of annual Phlox; Stocks; Nicotiana; Mimulus (Monkey Face).

In a previous article we mentioned Carnations that flower from seed the first year. Carnations make a splendid addition to any border. They bloom continuously in heavy masses, but they are perennials. It takes more than one year for them to establish themselves. Here—they do not winter outside. Unless you can obtain seed for the type specified above it is better to buy second year plants to avoid disappointment.

The Carnation is related to the species Dianthus. Unless you especially wish to grow Carnations it might be better to turn to other members of the family that will give you equal satisfaction in the border. Brilliant effects can be produced by employing the Chinese or Indian Pink. These are easily grown from seed and flower fairly early. The double Japan Pink (Dianthus Heddeveigi) will give you a colourful mixture, from the most delicate rose to the richest, velvety crimson imaginable. The bloom varies considerably in form and is often very double and frilled. The plant grows to ten inches and blooms profusely from the time it comes into flower until frost. Dianthus are perennials, and with slight protection, most varieties will winter well outdoors.

Returning to North Bay after a trip over the whole T. & N. O. lines Geo. W. Lee, chairman of the T. & N. O. Commission, told newspapermen at North Bay ten years ago that he anticipated a mining boom for 1934. Having returned from a complete inspection, Mr. Lee stated that northern mines had never flourished more than they were doing then. Although detailed returns were not available, Mr. Lee stated that both passenger and traffic business for February were at last on a par with 1933. In regard to the effect of weather conditions, he noted that expenses for the winter were almost double the previous year's figures. This increase was due to severe cold weather and also to the heavy snowfall. In this connection Mr. Lee said it was the worst winter in the history of the T. & N. O. railway.

Gold production by Dome Mines Limited for the month of February 1934, was off slightly, as compared with the output in January, due mostly to the shorter month. During Feb. 42,707 tons were treated, and recovery before adding premium was $358,787. For the previous month 46,500 tons were treated for recovery of $382,497. In February, 1933 tons treated totalled 42,400 and recovery $381,363.

The third week in March 1934, the members of the Timmins police force received their new uniforms, and they all looked very smart in the new dress of the force. The uniforms were blue, with plain blue trousers, without stripes. The uniforms were all numbered in brass figures on the collars. The new police uniform was to be accompanied by the wearing of helmets instead of the usual caps or hats.

Among the list of tickets drawing horses in the Dublin sweepstakes the newspapers announced ten years ago: "Isobel" Box 746, Timmins, Ont., with ticket AH-03623 on "Lazyboots." It was understood that this was a young lady school teacher in the town. It was also understood that the drawing of this horse would mean a prize of $3,500.

There was great interest in the visit here on Monday, March 19, 1934, of "Bijou," the Wonder Dog, said to be most gifted dog on the continent. Kiwanian Ed Archibald, of Toronto, brought Bijou here under the auspices of the Timmins

St. Patrick's Tea Held Saturday at First United Church

Members of U. C. Choir Hold Very Successful Tea and Bake Sale.

On Saturday afternoon, the members of the First United Church Choir entertained at a charming St. Patrick's Day tea in the basement of the church. Green and white was the prominent colour combination, everything being done up tastefully in the St. Patrick motif. Placed at various points in the room were gay yellow daffodils and mauve tulips, and throughout the afternoon, piano entertainment was beautifully rendered by Mrs. D. Coombs, Miss C. Jardine and Mr. H. Trener.

Placed throughout the tea room were individual tea tables, each with a snowy cloth and a tiny St. Patrick's Day centrepiece, a green and white basket of candies. The main tea table, presided over by Mrs. W. Roberts, and Mrs. T. Gay, was fittingly decorated. Centering the lovely lace cloth were flowers which were flanked on either side by tall green tapers and tea was served from a silver tea service one at either end of the table.

Also featured at the tea was a bake table containing for sale all kinds of goodies, such as home made bread, rolls, pies and other pastries, cakes, cookies, muffins, jams, pickles, all of which were sold before the afternoon was nearly completed. Presiding over this table were Mrs. D. Coombs and Miss Edith Richards.

Among the servers, wearing bright green aprons with white frills, and tiny little white and green caps, were Misses Corinne Haystead, Helen Rogers, Peggy MacLeod, Ellen Farnan and Lucy Leach. In charge of refreshments were Mrs. E. Ormston, Mrs. K. Cambridge, Mrs. A. King, and Miss Catherine Jardine. Mrs. S. L. Whitehead was in charge of finances during the afternoon, and Mrs. W. Jardine, Vice President of the Choir, was convener for the very successful tea and bake sale.

ing 15 per cent; fast eating or washing food down 40 per cent; eating when overtired 29 per cent; irregular meal times 11 per cent; candy or sweets between meal times 57 per cent.

In her book "Nutrition and Physical Fitness", Dr. Jean Bogert states that the slender type will usually need an especially nutritious diet, relaxation, and extra rest, and often corrective exercises for posture, in order to build up the optimum or ideal weight.

We have been priding ourselves that as a race we are growing taller, but "the tall slender type which is the least sturdy and the most difficult to keep in good nutritional condition formerly numbered about one in every 5 persons (20 per cent) but has increased until it numbers about 50 per cent of the present generation of children and young people, largely due to breeding, fewer baby deaths and current living conditions."

The thought then as we think of undernourished and underweight children and adults is that food is only one factor in increasing weight. "Strain, worry, lack of exercise, fresh air and sunlight, hurry when eating, eating when tired, irregular habits and lack of rest, are all such familiar evils that we fail to appreciate how much they affect the individual's health and weight."

The Common Cold
One of the most dangerous ailments is the so-called common cold because it may develop in bronchitis and pneumonia and may be the forerunner of tuberculosis.
