TEN YEARS AGO IN TIMMINS

From data in the Porcupine Advance Files

There were nine clubs of the North represented at the annual tournament of the Northern Ontario Golf Association held at Sudbury on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 10th, 11th, and 12th, 1934. The clubs represented were Timmins, Cochrane, Iroquois Falls, Kirkland Lake, Halleybury, New Liskeard, North Bay, Idylwyde and Sudbury. Playing a brilliant game, Bill Edward, Sudbury Golf Club, won from Charlie Langlois, of Idylwyde, in the championship final. The winner of the first flight was George Lake, of Timmins, who defeated Bill Regan, of Sudbury, one up in the final of this competition. Results of the Northern Ontario Golf Association championship were: 1st Sudbury Idylwyde, 2nd; North Bay, 3rd; Timmins 4th.

An enjoyable picnic under the auspices of the Loyal Order of Moose Timmins Lodge 1658, was held near Gillies Lake on Sunday, August 12th, 1934. A very enjoyable time was had by the many attending the event. Sports were enjoyed and prizes for these were all donated by Schumacher and Timmins tradesmen to whom the officers of the lodge were very grateful for the very attractive prizes so kindly given.

Ten years ago a large party of tennis players from the Kapuskasing Tennis Club visited Timmins and played an inter-club tournament. The perfect weather made the courts fast and as a result some very good tennis was seen. The standard of play between these two clubs was very good and well worth seeing. The Timmins club's president, E. LaSalle, and Len Gott, chairman of the entertainment committee were largely responsible for the visit. Harvey Webb was the Timmins club's playing captain.

Word was received by the Hollinger Mines First Aid team ten years ago that they were placed third that year in the annual competition for the Coderre mines trophy for first aid work. The Hollinger team was only one point behind the runners-up in the contest, and only three points behind the winners. As the Coderre trophy was open for competition by first aid teams in all the mines in the Dominion and was always closely competed for all the crack teams out West, the Hollinger First Aid team was to be congratulated on the excellent showing made in the contest.

Ten years ago there was a fire alarm call to No. 2 Cedar Street South, the property of the Kist Beverage Co. owned by Mr. Marrinacci. At first it looked as if the blaze was going to prove a dangerous one and might cause damage to other buildings as well as to the one in which it commenced. Chief Berland, however, had his old rule in force—that a fire must never be allowed to get out of the building in which it starts, and also that other old rule of his that the firemen are there to extinguish fires as quickly as possible and with the least loss possible. Accordingly, the fire was killed by the prompt and effective use of a couple of the big chemical tanks and one water line. There was a big crowd soon gathered on account of the fire and Chief Berland and his men received many compliments on the able way in which the fire was handled. It was apparent that the fire started in the upstairs part of the building and seemed to have a good grip before it was discovered. The cause of the fire was not known and before it was extinguished it had caused a loss of $200.00 or more.

The following appeared in The Advance ten years ago:—"The funeral of the late Angus Campbell, one of the oldest residents of the town and widely known and highly respected took place on Saturday morning. Requiem mass was held at St. Anthony's church and interment made at the Catholic cemetery, Timmins. There was a very large attendance at the funeral to pay their last respects to the late Mr. Campbell. There was also a large number of beautiful floral tributes and many spiritual offerings." Among the local and personal items appearing in The Advance ten years ago were the following:—"Mrs. Jesse

Stewart, of St. Petersburg, Florida, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. Borland, Jr. "Mrs. I. Jensen and her sons, of Windsor, Ont., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ringstead." "Mrs. Guy Chaput left on the noon train to-day for a visit to Pembroke and also to visit her sister Mrs. Lavine, of Port Coulogne, Que." "Born—To Mr. and Mrs. A. Andrews, on August 6th, 1934, at 3 John St., Timmins—a daughter (Maragaret Mary Ellen)." "Born—At St. Mary's hospital, Timmins, on Sunday, August 12th, 1934, to Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Johnstone—a daughter." "Mrs. G. A. Macdonald, of Timmins and her daughter, Mrs. T. M. White, of Kirkland Lake, are spending a week at the Canadian Keswick, at Ferndale, Muskoka Lakes." "Soldiers back from Toronto and the Reunion there report the old Cobalt song as being among the favourites roared in the city by the returned men in their spasmodic sing-songs here in there." "Herbie Chulak, who was injured some weeks ago by being run over by a motor car, continues to make good progress to recovery at St. Mary's hospital." "Little Pat Percival, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Percival, is ill at St. Mary's hospital, having had an operation for an abscess on the lower jaw. He is reported as making progress to recovery." "The Northern News last week says: Mrs. W. B. VanRassel, of Timmins and small son, Bobby, who visited relatives here this week and last, went into Noranda over the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. A. VanRassel and family, 3 Station Road, to visit W. B. VanRassel at the Beaty Mine." "Roads in very bad condition" seems to be the general report by travellers on the roads in the North. The highway from Porquus Junction to Timmins and especially the part between Porcupine and Timmins is particularly bad the drivers say. Many add that it is a wonder that there are not more accidents."

Some "By-Products" of the Red Cross

Helps Build Friendships and Community Spirit

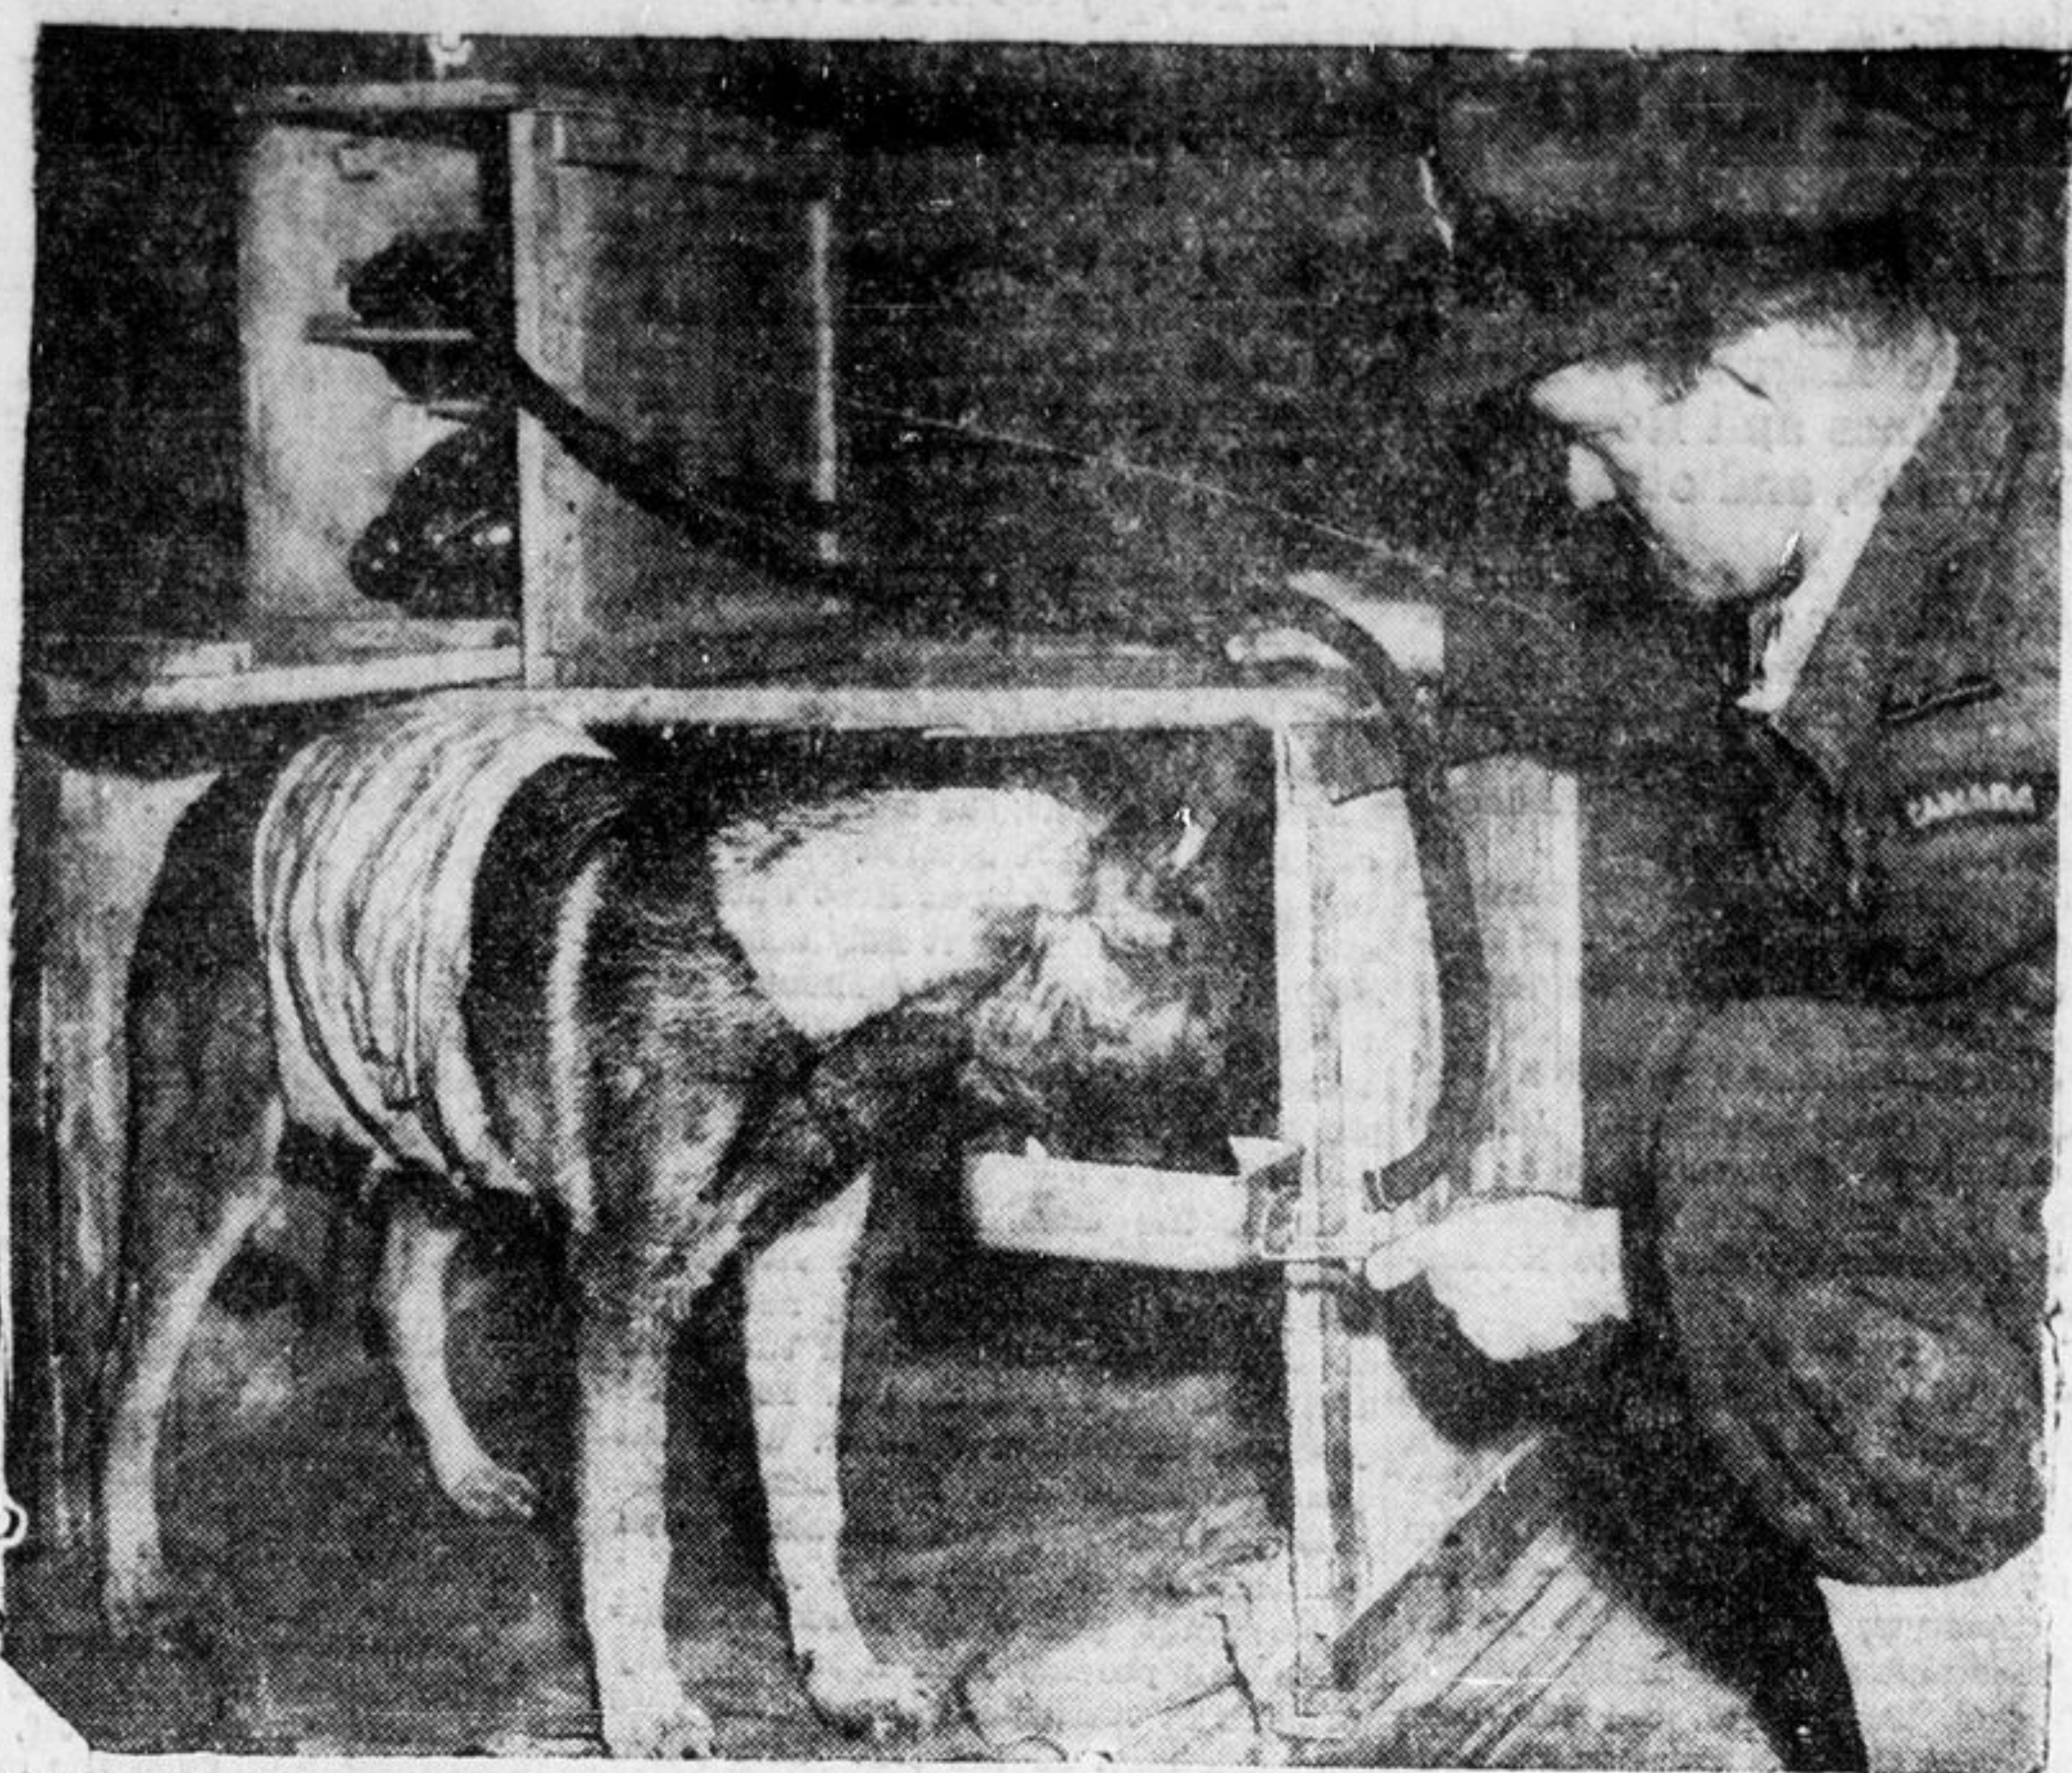

The following article was written for the Red Cross Bulletin by Major E. H. A. Watson, Field Secretary of the Ontario Red Cross:—"While the avowed aims of the Red Cross Society are "the mitigation of suffering, the prevention of disease and the improvement of health"—truly a big order—they represent but a part of the returns and rewards that accrue to those engaged in Red Cross work. People generally, whether in urban, suburban or rural districts, have a natural tendency to form themselves into groups or cliques, based on religious, political, social or other leanings.

One of the most valuable by-products the Red Cross has given to us during these war years is the breaking down of flimsy fences which we have built about ourselves, and the establishment of real community spirit. The chairman of the Women's work in one of our smaller cities in Western Ontario put it this way: "I have lived in this city all my life, but I never knew we had such a lot of splendid, lovely women. Groups from the different churches, Protestant, Catholic and colored, meet in our workroom daily. By a system of rotation we arrange that all meet each other at intervals. It's a real inspiration to see the perfect harmony that exists."

But it is in small towns, villages and rural parts that the genuine community spirit has been strengthened by Red Cross. Of course trivial squabbles and petty jealousies seem to thrive in some localities, but by and large there are fewer of these now than before the war. "We've never had as much fun as we've had this last year," said the president of a little rural branch of 750 souls all-told. "Plays, dances, bingos, suppers and euchres all winter, and auction sales and garden parties in the summer. Our Jamboree and Field Day alone netted us $800." And this little branch, during the four years of its Red Cross existence has raised through fund-raising events alone—not counting campaign and other donations—a total of $7,701, a yearly average of $1,940. This achievement is the result of a genuine community spirit.

But it is at a quilting that social pleasures reach a climax. I remember one day approaching a large, old-fashioned farm house built in the days of real families. As I crossed the lawn (the windows were open) I heard hilarious bursts of laughter mingled with the babble of voices. There in the immense living room were three quilting frames and a fourth in the dining room, each surrounded by its quota of busy, garrulous, and very happy quilters. Gossip? Perhaps, if you mean chatting over all kinds of matters of local interest—but I'm sure no word of unkindness. Here was a little war factory, just as truly as the city plant turning out guns and ammunition, for it was in hundreds of just such little factories that the women of Ontario in the year 1941 alone, made 74, 707 quilts for the bomb victims of England—and experienced the satisfaction that accompanies community oneness and fellowship."

OXYGEN SAVES FIGHTER MASCOT'S LIFE

"Smoky", Alsatian mascot of the "City of Oshawa" Beaver Squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Force Typhoon fighter bombers in Normandy, is shown receiving the oxygen-treatment which saved his life during a recent attack of bronchial pneumonia. Coaxing "Smoky" to drink, is his master, Flying Officer Anthony "Tony" Frombole, of Alameda, California, who serves with the Canadian Squadron in France. The anxious pilots were informed by a French veterinary surgeon near the airfield there was little hope for the puppy but he provided sulfa drugs from his scanty store and the lads rigged up an oxygen "tent" for their pet. A Canadian medical officer administered the drugs and Flying Officer Frombole acting as day and night nurse, remained as duty pilot for three days until "Smoky" was out of danger. part in the play. There were golf enthusiasts in attendance from North Bay, Halleybury, New Liskeard, Noranda, Duparquet, Que., Kirkland Lake, Timmins, Sudbury, Kapuskasing, Iroquois Falls. In the semi-finals, Bob Barringer won from John Poupore, of Sudbury, 4 and 2. David Morland eliminated R. Tomlinson, of Sudbury, 3 and 2. The outstanding feature of Saturday's play was a hole-in-one made by D. D. Hoare, of Duparquet. This is the second time in his golfing career that Barringer played steady golf in the final and took an early lead with the help of birdies on the third and fifth holes. He wound up the match with another birdie on the 14th hole. The medal score for the 14 holes approximated two over par.
