Lloyd—In loving memory of Eliza Ellen who passed away October 19th, 1937. The dearest mother and sweetest grandma. One of the best who God could lend. She was loving, gentle, thoughtful and true. Always willing a kind act to do. It is not tears at the moment shed that tell how beloved is the soul that has fled. But tears through many a long night wept. And loving remembrance fondly kept. Lovingly remembered by daughter, Mrs. C. F. Hitch, and family. —42p

Fines for Breach of Regulations About Butter Coupons

The greater part of police court time this week was taken up with cases in regard to breach of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board regulations in reference to butter rationing coupons. A. R. Dubien on the charge of buying butter without giving coupons at time of delivery was fined $50 and costs. The same fine was imposed on H. Bates on a charge of aiding and abetting improper sale of butter. P. Burns & Co. were fined $200 and costs for selling butter without receiving coupons at time of delivery. According to the evidence of Mr. Bates the Burns Co. had authorized him to collect the coupons the day after delivery of sales. A letter was produced from the Company to substantiate this. There was no question of failure to receive coupons. The magistrate pointed out that the regulations demanded that coupons must be given at time of sale or at delivery and no firm or individual could authorize otherwise. W. O. Langdon for the Burns Co. submitted that any breach of the law was only technical and that the Co. instructed salesmen to get coupons at time of taking orders. S. C. Piatas conducted the case for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Allen Bullock, 16 but very stout for his years, and Wm. VanKoughnet, 18 much lighter, were charged with the theft of a car owned by Smith & Elston and abandoned at Swastika when it run out of gas. Bullock was given 18 months and VanKoughnet a year for the theft. Both are held here, Bullock to be tried on Tuesday on a charge of assault on VanKoughnet in the cell block after the trial, when VanKoughnet was badly beaten up.

Greg Evans counsel, for the accused, entered a plea of guilty for Jules Lefebvre, charged with the theft of a boy's wagon, window frames, etc. Mr. Evans explained that the theft were purposeless and foolish and that the accused had not been in trouble before but seemed to have fallen to a foolish passing temptation. The accused was bound over to keep the peace for a year pay the costs and restore the goods taken suspended sentence being allowed. Oliver Charbonneau, brought here from Toronto on a charge of theft by conversion, was also given suspended sentence on paying the costs and arrangements being made for return of the money in question. Greg Evans, his counsel, explained that the accused had been employed on war work in Toronto and was considered indispensable there. His employer was willing to advance the necessary money. The accused had a large family and had been put to great expense by the illness and death of his wife. He had taken $65 from Mrs. L. Miner for a tombstone and then converted the money to his own use. There were two other cases of similar kind, totalling $58. These are covered by the court arrangement. The accused was also bound over in the sum of $500. There were a number of other minor cases and several remands.
