Young Fellows Do Serious Damage at Local Schools

Also Make Specialty of Taking Cars Without Owners' Consent

Three young fellows, one just over sixteen and the other two only a year or so older, were in police court here on Tuesday charged with an appalling list of recent crimes. The lads seemed to have been specializing in two forms of misdemeanors, breaking and entering and theft, and taking motor cars that they had no right to touch. Neil Ellis pleaded guilty to six charges, while Joseph Landers and a lad named Thiffault, who maintained he was over sixteen but who did not appear to be that old, pleaded guilty to three other charges each, in addition to the ones that Ellis was concerned with. The lads could give no reason for their actions and attitude. Their break-ins had been in connection with the Birch Street School and the Holy Family School. At the schools they had done a considerable amount of senseless damage, as well as some petty theft, taking Red Cross money of the pupils from the teachers' desks as well as money collected by the pupils for prisoners-of-war. Locks had been broken, doors smashed, papers and books thrown around and report cards destroyed. At the Birch street school particular damage was done by these lads. In regard to cars there were a number of charges against them of taking cars and trucks without the consent of the owners. The vehicles were driven around until they ran out of gas or too damaged to run further and were then abandoned. Some of the cars were quite seriously damaged. Most of the charges in connection with the taking of the cars were laid under the section relating to taking cars without the owners' consent, but in one case there was the more serious charge of the theft of a motor car. The magistrate did not wish to deal harshly with these young offenders, though the number and the type of offence did not leave much room for leniency. He pointed out that the minimum term for the theft of a motor car was one year's imprisonment, and this was the least sentence he could give Landers and Thiffault who were the guilty ones in that case. In the other cases he imposed a term of six months for each offence all the sentences to run concurrently. In some of the more serious cases in which Landers and Thiffault were concerned there were terms of nine months imposed, these also to be concurrent. This meant that Landers and Thiffault will each serve a year, while Ellis will serve a total of six months. Magistrate Atkinson told the lads that when they served their respective terms they would be free and he urged them to start on a new and better path when they came out again.
 When witnesses swore that Steve Cibo had struck an elderly man on street without any provocation, he tried to explain to the court that he was quarrelling with his wife when the gentleman came along. "Even if you are having words with your wife you can't hit the first man you see," commented the magistrate. The accused claimed that he did not hit the gentleman, but the evidence was all against him, and in addition he admitted to the court that he had been drinking and his memory of affairs was not perfect. On this charge of assault he was fined $20 and costs. Before he had a chance to pay up and go, as he said he did not want to stay in view of the fact that he wanted to get back to work, he was faced with assaulting another gentleman on Cedar street the same evening. Again the evidence convicted him, though he said that a number of men had ganged up on him and threw him into the mud. In the second case he was fined $10 and costs. In the two cases he paid a total over $50.00 in fines and costs.
 For improper parking seven paid $1 and costs each.
 Three interdicted persons were assessed $10 and cost each for illegally consuming. One of them was a young lady. When Magistrate Atkinson looked at the young lady he asked if this was her first time. The lady hastened to say that it was for this charge. The magistrate, who never seems to forget anyone that ever appears in his court, commented that the charge was laid as a first offence, so it would be $10 and costs like the others.
 George A. Finlayson, the cheque artist who pleaded guilty last week to passing the bouncing kind of cheque and also to illegally wearing a Military Medal that was not his, at Tuesday's court pleaded guilty to a couple more bad cheque charges. The charges against him included uttering forged documents, false pretences and attempted fraud, all having to do with cheques issued here, at Halleybury and at North Bay. He had been discharged from the army, and the magistrate said that it seemed to be planned to make a regular business of this bad cheque scheme and of course he could not do that. After some words of good advice, the magistrate sentenced Finlayson to six months on each count, the sentences to run concurrently. "That means that after you have served six months you will be free to start a new kind of life. I am giving you a chance to get onto right paths," said the magistrate, urging the prisoner to take advantage of the chance and get back to good citizenship.

 In juvenile court a lad under sixteen who had been mixed up in the breaking and entering of one of the schools and the taking of a car without the consent of the owner, was paroled for a year in the care of the Children's Aid.
 There were several remands, several lawyers being at court at Cochrane. In the absence of Crown Attorney Caldwell, A. W. Waters, assistant Crown Attorney, appeared for the Crown.

Change of Residence of Staff of N. O. Power Co.

All of the staff of the head office of the Northern Ontario Power Co. are known to most of the people in Timmins and district. Many of the staff of the Power Co. were former well-known and popular residents of Timmins and South Porcupine. E. V. Harrison, vice-president and general manager, was for many years in the early days of the Porcupine Camp the very able manager of the Porcupine Telephone Lines here, and proved his genius by the way he kept that haywire outfit in good standing with the public despite all its deficiencies. When the Northern Ontario Power Co. bought the Telephone Lines, he went with the Power Co. and soon his ability was recognized by the larger concern and he won high place for himself on his undoubted ability. Somewhat similar record was made by other members of the staff of the Ontario Power Co. when the Northern Telephone Lines took over the Telephone Co. from the Northern Ontario Power Co. and the latter devoted all its attention to the power business. In view of all this there will be more than passing interest in the following from last week's issue of The Rouyn-Noranda Press in regard to the removal of officials and staff of the Northern Ontario Power Co. to Noranda:
 "The head office of the Northern Quebec Power Co. Ltd., heretofore located with that of the Northern Ontario Power Co. Ltd. in New Liskeard this week transferred to Noranda and brings to that town eight or nine new citizens who will be gladly welcomed as residents of the community. They include B. V. Harrison, vice-president and general manager; J. R. Laidlaw, purchasing agent and merchandise manager; Scott Elliot, plant manager and C. O. Biggings, superintendent of the meter department, all of whom arrived on Monday, and four members of the accounting staff who will arrive next week, all to remain permanently.

 "For all of them except Mr. Laidlaw, who has already purchased a home on Tremoy road, the housing problem is a perplexing and difficult one. Mr. Harrison, whose home has been in Halleybury, plans to retain his attractive residence there for summer use, but hopes before long to purchase a dwelling place in Noranda, while some of the other officials and members of the staff will probably do likewise, since there are no houses or apartments for rent at present and not likely to be any for quite a long period. The removal from New Liskeard and Halleybury of eight or nine families who have long been active in the business and social life and other activities of the towns is a real loss to these communities and a distinct gain for Noranda.
 "The new office here, located in the Noranda Theatre building, is now fully furnished and equipped and all the business of the company, now wholly confined to Quebec since the transfer of the Northern Ontario Power Co. to the Ontario Hydro Commission, will be carried on from there. Company officials are confident that during the next few years there will be great expansion in the business of the company, brought about by demands for electrical power for extensive new mining development, and that in all probability in due course the business in Western Quebec will be fully as large as that in Northern Ontario."

Official Recognition of Early Spring in 1945

Everybody has been commenting on the early spring this year. Even the occasional cold spells following the summer weather has not offset the general opinion that this is the earliest spring on record in this country. Last week The Advance correspondent at South Porcupine pointed to the fact that the ice went out of Porcupine lake at a record early date this year. The same sort of record is reported for Lake Temiskaming. Then, of course, there is what may be termed official recognition of the early spring. This comes from the Ontario Department of Game and Fisheries. That department this year has set the dates for opening of the fishing season much earlier than usual. Saturday, April 14th, was the date set for the opening of the season for speckled trout. This is said to be the earliest on record for this province. Fishermen in this area have yet to report whether the speckled trout agree with the Department of Game and Fisheries in this matter. In any event there have been some good fishing days since that Saturday

A Message from GEORGE DREW to all with Relatives and Friends Overseas

ARRANGEMENTS have been made by the Ontario Government for members of all the Armed Services overseas to vote in the coming Ontario election by placing a ballot in a ballot box for the candidate of their own choice. The arrangements which have been completed for the Ontario vote are the best which have yet been made for any Active Service vote. The Government, however, can only make the arrangements for taking the vote. What is equally important is that those who are overseas know the name of the candidates, the party they are supporting and have a sufficiently clear picture of the issues to decide how they should vote. That can only be done if those at home supply them with information. May I strongly urge every wife, mother, father, sister, brother or friend of those overseas to write and tell them all they can about the coming Ontario election. By clippings from newspapers, by editorial comment, and by personal explanation, a clear understanding can be given of what is really at stake in this Ontario election.
 One of the things which will cause the greatest difficulty in the minds of those overseas, particularly those who live in large cities, is to determine which Riding they live in. Maps will be available, but even the best map sometimes leaves doubt when the voter has been away from home for a long time, or as is true in so many cases has never voted before. This difficulty will be increased because of the difference between the boundaries of Dominion and Provincial Ridings.
 I would suggest that you write immediately, by airmail, to all with whom you are in communication and tell them the Riding in which they live and give them what information you can about the party and the candidate in the Riding where they are entitled to vote.
 I should mention that every member of the Armed Forces overseas of any age is entitled to vote. They, above all others have the right to vote. They have preserved for us that free system of Government which depends upon the choice of our own representatives. Our job here at home is not only to make sure that they have the chance to vote but also to do everything possible to make sure that they are able to vote with knowledge of the real issues in the election.
 For the sake of convenience, I am suggesting that you simply cut out this message and address it to someone overseas giving the information required. Each one of us here at home has a responsibility to help them to choose the Government which will have so much to do with their future in the years of peace. May I again urge you to write at once, by airmail, not only to those closest to you but to as many as you know in any of the services outside of Canada. Tell them what Provincial Riding they reside in at home—then the name of the candidate and any further information you can supply.

Yours sincerely,
 George A. Drew
