TEN YEARS AGO IN TIMMINS

From data in the Porcupine Advance Files

Ten years ago there was a collision between two cars, the cars being somewhat damaged, and a passenger in one of them sustaining a serious cut on the knee when thrown forward. More serious injury would have resulted had it not been for the fact that the heavier car of the two had "shatterproof" glass in the windshield. The Advance ten years ago chronicled the fact that the first U. S. car to come over the highway to Timmins that year reached here on April 22nd. The driver was Ontario Perini, a brother of Al Perini, famous here at that time as the leader of the orchestra bearing his name.

Another car accident here in April of 1935 resulted in two ladies being injured, though not seriously, when the car in which they were passengers collided with a truck. The ladies were taken to the hospital but were able to go home again in a short time. Trinity United Church Choir, Schumacher, made so great an impression with the rendition of the anthem, "The King of Glory," on Easter Sunday that by special and general request the anthem was repeated at the church services a couple of weeks after.

References in these columns to car accidents may seem scarcely warranted by the lack of seriousness of the mishaps, but all the accidents seemed to have the one feature—that they might easily have resulted much more seriously. Chief Ralph Paul and his staff took special note of this fact, and there were very numerous traffic cases in police court those days. Chief Paul's idea was to encourage such carefulness and attention among the motorists that accidents would be reduced to the minimum. Chief Paul's policy soon bore fruit, both the police court cases and the accidents being reduced to a minimum.

Word was received here ten years ago of the death of Mrs. Robert Stevens at Morewood in the Ottawa Valley. The late Mrs. Stevens was born on Nov. 6th, 1863, in the Summer's Settlement, south of Winchester. She first married Ezra Countryman, a former deputy reeve of Winchester, who died in 1920. Later she married Robert Stevens, who survived her. Among the near relatives surviving her were two sons, Gordon and Reginald, of the Dome Mines, South Porcupine. The coroner's jury enquiring into the death of Fredrico Marini ten years ago found that no one was to blame for the fatality, all due precautions having been taken to prevent accident. The evidence showed that a piece of earth frozen to the consistency of concrete had fallen away from the edge of an excavation being made for the construction of the new Palace theatre. Some of the men in the excavation had gotten away when a warning shout was given, but Marini apparently had stumbled and was hit in the abdomen by about 200 pounds of frozen earth. Although the earth was lifted off him almost immediately and he was rushed to the hospital. He sustained such internal injuries that he died shortly after being admitted to the hospital. H. E. Montgomery was the coroner and C. W. Yates, Assistant Crown Attorney, assisted in the inquiry.

In 1935 Hon. W. A. Gordon, Dominion Minister of Mines, had an ambitious programme of prospecting passed by the Dominion House. It provided for 180 parties to be sent out throughout the Dominion to prospect for gold. Fifteen of these parties were to prospect in Quebec, and thirty in Ontario. A million dollars was earmarked in the estimates to finance the programme.

In the files of The Advance in 1935 there are found continual references to the need for a government broadcasting station in the North. Other newspapers took up the idea and it was evident that the people did not want any privately-owned station here. One of the ardent advocates of a government station, and able to show clearly the disadvantages of any private concern here was Mr. J. A. Bradette, Dominion member for this riding. He placed the case so well before the Conservative government of that time that there is every reason to believe that had the Conservatives remained in office the North would have received a fair deal in radio. But the Liberals came into power and when Mr. Bradette continued his advocacy of a government station here he was apparently silenced by the suggestion that he would hurt the government if he did not keep quiet.

In an address ten years ago to the Timmins Kiwanis Club, D. J. Pommerleau, district representative for Coe-ran district for the Ontario Department of Agriculture, showed very clearly the value of agriculture to the North, and the serious difficulties experienced by the settlers in establishing themselves. He expressed the belief that the land bonus was the safest and surest way to help the real settler. This was a view advocated for years by the Advance. President Arch Gillies introduced Mr. Pommerleau, while the thanks of the club were expressed by Frank Feldman.

On April 25th, 1935, The Advance was boasting about daffodils, hyacinths and other spring flowers being in bloom in this land of summer sometimes.

On Saturday, April 20th, 1935, John Hooker, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hooker, passed away after a brief illness. He was a particularly bright little lad and there was wide sorrow at his death and deep sympathy with his bereaved parents. The funeral on the following Monday was largely attended and there were many beautiful floral tributes.

The sensation in Timmins ten years ago was the arrest of two town employees for fraud and forgery in connection with the town payrolls. One of them was from the town clerk's office and the other a clerk in the public works department. The latter was released on bail of $10,000 to await trial on the charges, while the assistant to the clerk and treasurer had his bail set at $15,000.

Edward Garland, C.C.P. member in the Dominion House for Bow River, Alberta, spoke to a crowded hall in Timmins ten years ago when he called at this town on a speaking tour during the Easter recess of parliament. In writing of the meeting here The Advance said:—"He is a gifted speaker and his address was listened to with much interest."

An objective of $2,400 in a special Easter offering at the United church at Timmins was oversubscribed in 1935. The purpose of the special offering was to clear off the complete indebtedness of the church.

Ten years ago Timmins Kiwanis Club sponsored a Potato Club for Timmins. Twenty-five boys were chosen from the schools of the town and given the opportunity of growing a crop of potatoes. The land was generously donated by Frank Feldman. The Kiwanis were ready with advice and assistance for the boys, while there were also good prizes offered by the Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture.

The Sons of England annual banquet ten years ago was a very pleasing and successful event. Worthy President G. Hobbs was in the chair. Among the speakers were: Mayor R. Richardson, District Deputy Bro. J. Goode, Past President W. A. Jenkin, vice-president C. Bartle, Bro. S. Nichols, Mrs. E. Lory, Bro. C. W. Trevanna, W. H. Wilson, G. Kinsey. Those contributing to the musical part of the programme included: Mrs. J. Gregson, W. A. Jenkin, W. H. Wilson, and Mayor Richardson. Dancing and games were also enjoyed during the evening. The event was held in the Oddfellows' hall, and the catering was very ably looked after by Mrs. Sheppard.

Among the weddings recorded in The Advance ten years ago were the following:—Donald H. Stevens, of the McIntyre Mine, Schumacher, to Miss Mary Louise Jenkins, Toronto, the wedding taking place at Toronto; Vernon Joseph Murray, of Timmins, to Miss Mary Heavener, of North Bay the marriage being at St. Mary's Cathedral, North Bay; Paul Grant, accountant at the Bank of Nova Scotia, Timmins, to Miss Helen Margaret Denison, at Calvin Presbyterian Church, Toronto.

Among the local and personal items in The Advance ten years ago were the following:—"The first golf of the season was played on April 19th when ardent enthusiasts went around the course." "Miss Edith Richardson returned on Monday from a holiday spent in Toronto and Windsor." "Mrs. D. B. White left this week for a five weeks' visit to Shediac, New Brunswick." "Wild geese have been seen during the past week winging their way north." "Leonard Traver returned home last night from Queen's University for the holidays." "Cochrane has been having an epidemic of measles." "Mrs. Geo. S. Drew is at present confined to her home through a recurrence of a former illness. It is hoped that she will be quite well again soon." "W. W. Tanner, principal of the Timmins High and Vocational School, is in Toronto attending the annual O.E.A. convention." "W. S.

Blake, principal of Schumacher High School, is attending the O.E.A. convention in Toronto." "E. C. Ward, formerly of Timmins and Cochrane, but more recently in charge of the London district for the Confederation Life Co., was a visitor to Timmins last week, being here to attend the meeting of the Life Underwriters' Association, of which he is provincial vice-president."

It's Much Better to Clean Up Than to Burn Up Says Chief

Some Observations by Fire Chief Stanley on Clean Up Week

A young man's fancy may turn to love in the weeks just ahead, but a fireman sees spring as a season of arduous days and sleepless nights.

Statistics recently compiled for a ten year period by the National Fire Protection Association show that the months of March, April, and May have a high record of fire loss. And the dollar loss for the winter, always the worst time for fires, only slightly exceeds the spring loss.

"This is the reason the Fire Department is urging everyone to join whole-heartedly in observing 'Clean-up Week' this week," Chief Stanley said today. "These figures make it perfectly clear that it is just a matter of common sense and self-protection for each of us to rid our homes and the community of the hazards which have accumulated during the long, severe winter."

"Take the heating plant, for example. It has been working overtime. Likely, there are worn parts which need to be replaced. Almost certainly it is dirty, and needs a good cleaning, particularly when much of the fuel is of an inferior grade. And tolerating a dirty furnace just isn't good citizenship when a clean heating system can cut fuel consumption as much as 25%."

"A dirty heating plant," Chief Stanley continued, "is one of the principal causes of fire, followed closely by flammable wood shingle roofs, which are apt to be set afire by sparks spewing from dirty chimneys. Take time now to clean the furnace from fire pot to chimney top, and recover weather-worn flammable roofs with fire-retardant roofing, such as asphalt shingles, or some similar protective covering," Chief Stanley advises.

"Accusing housewives of poor house-keeping may not win friends, but may stop fires," Chief Stanley said. "Let every homemaker ask herself whether she has papers, rags, magazines, boxes old furniture, and the like, stored away in the attic, basement, or some forgotten closet. Then, let her decide whether these items should not be turned out of the house and in for salvage, bearing in mind that such debris is the largest single cause of fire now attacking homes at the rate of one every 90 seconds."

"Housewives now are busy cleaning winter clothes before storing them away for the summer. But it is imperative to use only non-flammable cleaning fluids. If unavailable, send clothes to a commercial cleaner. Remember, the act of rubbing a dirty spot out of the material may cause a spark which will explode naphtha or gasoline."

"Here are some other sound ideas for busy housewives to add to the list of 'must' jobs" Chief Stanley concluded.—

- (1) Make sure gas and electrical equipment is clean and operating properly. Have frayed and worn cords replaced.
- (2) Keep matches out of reach of small children and in metal containers. Be a careful smoker. Do not smoke in bed.
- (3) Extend your clean-up to the yard and alley. Burn leaves and trash—but only on days when there is no wind and then only in metal containers.
- (4) Check your fire extinguishers to make sure they are ready in case of need.

No Music Festival for the Town of Cochrane This Year

For the past four years the Town of Cochrane has had a Festival of Music somewhat similar to the one held annually at Timmins for several years. However, Cochrane finds it necessary to forego this attraction. This is not because it was not a success in Cochrane, but on account of the fact that the turnover in teachers in Cochrane in the past year has made it impractical to hold the Festival this year.

New Paper for Employees of Hill-Clark-Francis Ltd.

(From New Liskeard Speaker)
A new publication was born last week under the mast-head of "Knotty Notes" with Al Chauvin filling the editor's chair. The little paper which is published for Hill-Clark-Francis Ltd. employees, covers the doings at all branches. The pages cover many doings of the employees of the firm and sayings are both wise and otherwise. The little monthly will serve a very useful purpose as time goes on in keeping employees posted on "what's doing in the wood products line by those who do it."
