TEN YEARS AGO IN TIMMINS

From data in the Porcupine Advance Files

Ten years ago a new section was added to the telephone equipment here, giving room for 700 more lines. This indicated the growth of the town in the years previous to 1935. The Advance of April 29th, 1935, noted that additional operators had been added to the telephone staff and a supplementary directory had been issued with 246 names.

Note was made ten years ago that one of the grand old men of the Porcupine camp had passed his 82nd birthday and was still hale and hearty. He was Thomas Strain, of South Porcupine, and he observed his 82nd birthday by following his usual occupation of building chimneys. He said that the work of building chimneys was not hard for him, but might be after he becomes really old. A few days before his birthday he was out working in the bush on some claims he had staked.

On April 24th, 1935, Mrs. V. Rev. Main avenue, while out in the woods near town picked trailing arbutus in full flower and bloom.

Ten years ago The Advance was working in co-operation with the Employment Bureau in town in securing odd jobs for unemployed. The Advance carried on a campaign urging all who could do so to get unemployed to do odd jobs around the store or home. It was pointed out that at this time of year there was a great need for a "clean-up" of premises for health and fire safety, and that to give these odd jobs to the unemployed helped in many ways. The unemployed were well looked after by the Government Employment Bureau here, and orders for men for "odd jobs" were always filled promptly. At that time some twenty men here were making a fair living just doing these odd jobs.

Albert Barsovich, a member of the South Porcupine "Cubs," ten years ago did one of the "Good deeds" for which Boy Scouts are justly famous. This "good deed" undoubtedly saved a child's life. Albert was watching a grass fire on Connaught Hill, when he noticed a little girl standing too close to the fire. Before he could warn her of her danger, the dress of the little girl, who was only eight years old, had caught on fire, and the child started to run screaming for her home. The "Cub," who had learned the lessons taught him in his Pack, called to the little girl to stop so that he could beat out the fire in her dress, but she was so frightened that she simply screamed the louder and ran the harder. Albert ran after her and tripped her, and then rolled her on the ground beating out the fire before the little girl suffered any serious harm. There was no doubt but that the lad's presence of mind and his prompt action saved the little girl from serious burns at least, while there is every reason to believe that this "Cub's" cleverness actually saved her life.

Fred Stock ten years ago delighted the Lions Club with a most interesting and informative address on the quaint republic of Columbia.

In the spring of 1935 the highway between Timmins and Porcupine Junction suffered considerably from the heavy rains. At Golden City there was a foot of water on the road for about a quarter of a mile, and there were other spots almost as bad.

Schumacher took just pride this time of year in 1935 in the new fire truck purchased for that hustling and up-to-date town. The new truck had a pumper with a capacity of 400 gallons per minute, and also carried 1,200 feet of hose. In addition it had chemical tank equipment for handling minor fires.

The Men's Club of Schumacher United Church had a large membership ten years ago. Mr. P. A. Boyce was president, and the closing of the season was marked by a most successful banquet and programme. In a witty address Rev. Murray Tait gave a comprehensive review of the meeting and work of the club for the season, pointing out especially the good work of the president, Mr. Boyce. The latter said that the real credit went largely to Mr. Beattie, the treasurer. Among those proposing and responding to toasts were:—John Beattie, W. M. Whyte, G. A. Macdonald, Rev. Murray Tait and others. Presentation was made to Ron Jones, choir leader of a baton, as a mark of the appreciation felt for his services. Mr. Carveth, on behalf of the session of the church, endorsing Rev. Mr. Tait's words in this respect. Solos by Thomas Brain were also features on the programme.

The Advance ten years ago noted that considerable work had been done on the Golden Arrow Mining Co's property at Ramore, with very promising results obtained.

The following were re-elected as directors of the Timmins Golf Club for 1935:—John Knox, R. J. Ennis, Dr. H. H. Moore, W. H. Pritchard and W. Rinn. Geo. Lake was re-elected captain, and Ted Ashton vice-captain.

There were less than 500 in the annual May Day parade at Timmins in 1935. The parade carried a large Union Jack, and no other flags, though there were many placards against militarism, capitalism, etc.

The Advance ten years ago announced that beer parlours in Timmins would be open until 12 midnight until further notice. The extension of time had been asked to allow opportunity for the men on night shifts to have the odd glass of beer.

A. Kembal, father of four Timmins citizens, died at Weston hospital on April 30th, 1935, after an illness of five years. He was well known to Timmins people as he had been visiting here for three or four years before going to the hospital at Weston. Two sons, Earnest and D'Arcy, and two daughters, Mrs. R. Potvin and Miss Ada, were residents here at the time of their father's death. He was a popular member of the Timmins Citizens' Band at one time. He was 60 years of age at the time of death.

An outstanding musical event ten years ago was the concert given by the Welsh Miners' Choir in the Oddfellows' hall. The Advance said that the event was one of very special excellence and that the Welsh Miners' Choir under the gifted leadership of Ron Jones was making very pleasing progress and perfecting its technique. The several numbers by the choir were noteworthy not only for their high standard of musical rendition but also for the understanding and expression with which they were given. In addition to the selections by the choir, there were solos by A. Bellamy, Tommy Williams, Tal. Bevan, Tommy Brain and Ron Jones. "Among the most popular numbers on the evening's excellent programme," said The Advance in its report of the event "were the piano solos by Mrs. Dr. Boutin, and the vocal solos by her sister, Mrs. Lises." Accompaniments for the evening were played by A. Garroway, Ron Jones and Mrs. Boutin.

Pioneer of Cobalt camp and of two great Porcupine mines, C. A. Johnson one of the most popular foremen at the Hollinger Mine, died at his home on Balsam street south, on April 29th 1935. In mining circles he was admired for the interest he took in the work and skill at it. He was popular in curling circles for reasons somewhat similar. He helped to sink the first shaft "on the McIntyre before there was any railroad here, and for twenty years he was with the Hollinger Mine. He was survived by his widow and two children, Godfrey Johnston, then at Kirkland Lake, but formerly of Timmins, was a brother of the late C. A. Johnson.

Among the local and personal items in The Advance ten years ago were the following:—"P. M. Bardessons, manager of the Empire hotel at North Bay, is quoted as saying that the hotel lost more than 1,000 towels by theft last year. Last week one room was found to be shy 1 bath towel, three face towels and several tumblers after some guests from New Liskeard (of all places) had checked out."

"Rev. Fr. McManus visited his home at Noranda over the Easter holidays." "A number of undergraduates of Varsity and Queen's arrived in Timmins this week to begin their regular summer's work at the mines in the Porcupine." "Born—in Timmins, on Monday, April 29th, 1935, to Mr. and Mrs. Adelaar Thibeault (nee Josephine Tremblay)—a son." "J. Y. Murdock president of the Noranda Mines, was named president of the Pamour Mines at the annual meeting of the latter company last week." "Mrs. R. S. Cushing left on Friday for a short visit to London." "Dan Barr is on a visit to his old home at Collingwood." Vivian Wallingford, teacher at Fraserdale Public School, spent the Easter holidays at his home in Timmins.

Returned Soldiers Should Guard Pension Rights

Every returned serviceman should carefully read and just as carefully heed the following editorial from "TORCH," the official publication of the Canadian Corps Association:—

It Cannot Too Often Be Repeated that any man back from overseas with a category lower than his category on enlistment should endeavour to secure a pension. The disability on discharge may seem slight. It may not at the moment affect his usefulness in civilian employment. For all that he should seek entitlement. If his application is rejected on first hearing, he should not be discouraged but should pursue the matter right through to the Appeal Board. Even then he may not be successful but will have firmly established a medical history which later may prove invaluable.

Slight disabilities have a way with the passage of the years, of becoming aggravated. What seems trifling now may within a few years become a crippling ailment. Without a proper medical history sheet almost anything short of the loss of a leg, is likely to be diagnosed as a "post-war disability." For this the pension medical officers are not altogether to blame. In general they want to deal justly and even with some degree of partiality with the applicant for pension. The pension commission members are not just chisellers, neither are they endowed with psychic powers. It is up to the applicant himself to help if he is to receive a pension. Thousands of men from the first Great War are without pensions today simply because they did not ask for them on discharge. TORCH urges all men with disabilities to fight their cases through. To do this, they should consult the District Pension Advocate. Paid by the government, though these officials are, they are the friends of the serviceman. They are not only free to do their duty, but it is expected of them by the pension commission.

Chairman of Loan Committee Host to Nearly 250 Guests

Russell T. Kelley, of Hamilton, Guest Speaker at Notable Event

At the McIntyre building on Friday evening last, Mr. R. E. Dye, chairman of the District of Cochrane Unit of the Eighth Victory Loan committee, was host to close to 250 of the sales-paign. The gathering was with the double purpose of showing appreciation for the efforts of the workers in loan campaigns through this "get-together" to spur on even greater efforts to put the campaign over the top in this district, and the banquet proved not only a delightful event but also an inspiration and a help to increased effort for the success of the loan.

Mr. R. E. Dye presided for the evening with his usual geniality and enthusiasm for the good cause. Among the speakers for the evening were:—V. H. Evans, reeve of the township of Tisdale; N. L. MacNamee, organizer for Cochrane Unit for the Victory Loan; William Roberts, chairman of the Public Relations Committee; Stan Saxton, Jos. Jackson, Sol Shankman, Emmett Smith, Adolphe DesRoches, Walter Honer and other prominent workers for the loan. In brief addresses these workers urged the greatest effort in the various departments to make the present loan a success.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Russell T. Kelley, of Hamilton, head of the well-known advertising agency bearing his name. Mr. Kelley was introduced by Mr. Dye. The guest speaker, who has a reputation as a gifted salesman as well as an able speaker held the attention of the audience and was successful in suggesting methods that would be particularly successful in selling the Eighth Victory loan bonds. He emphasized the fact that the people were not asked to give their money but only to lend it to the government to carry on the war. He made it plain that it was both a profitable and a sound investment. The security was the best in the world—the security of Canada—a country of untold wealth and resources. Wartime conditions in Britain and other countries overseas were compared with conditions obtaining here, the speaker making the suggestion that the only people in this country who had made real sacrifices were those who had given their loved ones to the war. He stressed the fact that it was the burden duty of all at home to support to the limit those who were risking their all in the cause of freedom and the right. Every Canadian should buy Victory bonds, the speaker said. Mr. Kelley's address was brightened and lightened by wit and humour and amusing stories that drove home the points made.

Mr. R. J. Ennis, honorary chairman of the Cochrane Unit of the Victory Loan Committee, in his usual genial and able way moved the vote of thanks to the speaker of the evening and to the others who had made the event so pleasant and so valuable in furthering the loan campaign.

The menu for the evening was as usual a credit to the McIntyre Community service, everything being of the best.

The McIntyre Orchestra, under the leadership of Lieut. J. W. S. Lomas, added to the pleasure of the evening by the excellent music provided for the occasion.

Lady of Seventy-five Suffers Severe Burns

(From Cochrane Northern Post)

On Saturday afternoon last while tending her household duties, Mrs. James Rose was badly burned when her dress came in contact with an electric heater. In a flash she was enveloped in flames, but with great presence of mind, rushed from the house and rolled herself in a ditch thus smothering the fire. Mrs. Rose (aged 75) then telephoned for the doctor who answered immediately and took her to Lady Minto hospital. Her back, from the neck to the hips, is badly burned, but at the moment she is progressing as favorably as can be expected. Four members of the family visited her over the week-end; a daughter, Mrs. Nick Kit, of Smooth Rock Falls, three sons, Mike, of Noranda, Felix, of South Porcupine, and Tony, of Holytre.

MUST COME FROM EVERY FRONT

"We shall strike the final blow from all directions", says FIELD MARSHAL MONTGOMERY.
"Every blow must count to bring final Victory".

FIELD MARSHAL MONTGOMERY'S words mean us too! Not only the fighting men, but all men and women on the home front . . . Every one of us is a co-partner for victory. It cannot be won any other way.

Every battlefield has felt the weight of Canada's might in men or war material.

Now comes the biggest job of all for the biggest prize of all—complete and total victory. We can't put this Victory Loan over the top by simply buying our usual amount . . . this time every man jack of us must increase his and her Victory Loan purchases. So let's do it—let's pry loose every dollar, pare our personal budgets and plan our purchase so as to put over this biggest of all Loans in the biggest way yet.

Above all, let's not break faith with our men "over there".
