We need many more workers. Our sewing quotas are large now. Many are in great need of warm clothing in Europe and United Kingdom. Knitted garments are also needed and we have quota for these.

Ladies, please put forth an effort to help out this very necessary work.

Many airmen who trained under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan formed permanent ties with Canada. More than 3,750 members of the RAF, and RAAF, the RZNAF and allied nationals under RAP quota married Canadian girls.

Junior Red Cross Aids Crippled Children Here

The Crippled Children's Fund has long been one of the projects of the Junior Red Cross. Canadian Juniors war services were magnificent; their peacetime services are important too. The Cripple Children's fund will be one of the major services now, along with aid to the children of Europe and Asia who were the victims of war. Last year many children in Ontario benefitted through this fund. Most of these were orthopedic cases which required costly boots, braces and other appliances which their parents were unable to provide. Many children are provided with needed eye glasses. At the present time in the Hospital for Sick Children there are three little patients being cared for through the Junior Red Cross Crippled Children's Fund. Two are from the northern part of the province. One little girl is having a major operation on her eye. A little boy, who has been lame for seven years, is also going to have an operation. Another girl lies in a body cast and must be hospitalized for some time. These are a few examples of the good deeds wrought through the fund by the pennies of Juniors. During the first week in October a drive for increased membership is being put on. Branches which have not enrolled or re-enrolled are urged to do so now.

Dear Mr. Charters:

I shall appreciate it if you will kindly convey my cordial greetings to the members of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, on the occasion of the observance of National Newspaper Week, October 1st to 8th.

On behalf of the government and myself, I wish to express the warmest thanks to the editors of Canada's weekly newspapers for the admirable support which they gave, through the past six difficult years, to Canada's war effort.

I am sure that, in the critical period of transition immediately following the war, the members of the Association will continue in their public-spirited work. They will, I know, do all in their power to bring to their millions of readers an intelligent appreciation of the domestic problems of rehabilitation and readjustment, and of all important international problems of building an enduring peace.

I send my best wishes to all members of the Association for the success of National Newspaper Week.

Yours sincerely,
(signed)
W. L. Mackenzie King,
Prime Minister of Canada.

Twenty Years Ago

From the Porcupine Advance Files

The big event at the beginning of October in 1925 was the visit of a group of British journalists who were on a tour of Canada and did not consider their trip complete until they had visited the gold fields. Nine prominent newspapermen were welcomed by Mayor J. A. McInnis and Frank M. Wallingford, president of the Board of Trade. After being shown around the town by motor car, having inspected the Advance office and shop, and being the guests of the Hollinger Mine on an inspection of the surface and underground workings, the visitors were guests of honour at a banquet in the Empire Hotel, at which Rev. J. D. Parks was chairman. It was a pleasant affair at which the Britishers told of their amazement on really seeing Canada and realizing for once what "wide open spaces meant". Speakers at the banquet were Dr. J. A. McInnis, F. G. R. Peterson, C. G. Williams, G. A. Macdonald, Geo. W. Lee, Norman Rankin of the C.P.R. publicity department, W. C. Nixon who was then Ontario's agent general in London, and Rev. Mr. Parks.

Two murder cases, both from Timmins, were to come before the fall sittings at Cochrane in 1925. One man was charged in connection with the death of Mrs. Senik, whose body was found near Hollinger mine by police. Another man was charged with murdering a man whom he found in bed one morning with his wife. He had battered the man's head in with an axe, on his own admission.

Dr. Sloan, a placer mining expert who had been brought from British Columbia by a firm to inspect the placer gold deposits in Keefer township twenty years ago, gave it as his opinion that the field would turn out alright, at least in spots.

Harvest Thanksgiving services at St. Matthew's Church twenty years ago were all attended.

To park on Third Ave. or not to park, was the subject of discussion in the fall of 1925. A number of Third Ave. merchants had petitioned the council asking that parking be restricted to 20 minutes in at least one block. The council promptly decided that a sufficient majority of storekeepers had petitioned and made a by-law acceding to their request. Then another group appeared, saying that the by-law was unfair. Three of the most successful business men in town organized a protest, took it to the council and to the board of trade. The council then reopened the subject for further consideration until the general opinion of the business men could be obtained.

Soccer in Ontario twenty years ago was in a mixup. Timmins, third round winners in the Ontario cup playdowns, were to have met Ulster of Toronto here. Ulster refused to come North and the club was promptly suspended and the field closed to them. Timmins thus automatically won the game and was preparing to meet Simcoe, Western Ontario Champions.

Richard Davis a resident of Schumacher for seven years prior to his departure for Florida in 1923, died in New England in 1925, where he had gone after giving up farming. Mrs. H. Fairhurst, of Schumacher, was a daughter of the former McIntyre employee.

The Altar Girls' Society of St. Anthony's Church gave a successful euchre and five hundred card party in the parish hall twenty years ago.

"From father to son" was a headline in the London Advertiser in September 1925. A part of the article read: "The current issue of the Kalkerton Telescope announces a change in the ownership whereby Lorne Eedy, for the past ten years its publisher, returns to St. Mary's to take over the Journal-Argus of that town, so long and so well published by his father, John W. Eedy." Lorne Eedy, still publishing the Journal-Argus, is a brother of Mrs. Arch. Gillies.

Hours of holding auction sales after legal closing hours was condemned by one Timmins merchant, who said that if it was not an infraction of the letter of the law, it was at least contrary to the spirit.

Council decided that it might be a good idea to do some local improvement work during the winter, for the benefit of the unemployed. "If men had work offered them, they would keep away from the town".

In 1925 four sets of grappling irons were ordered by the council following a fatality at the river a short time previous to the meeting. They were to be kept at the police station.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. opened their office in Timmins just 20 years ago this week. Walter H. Saitta of Ottawa was the first local branch manager.

Mrs. A. S. Porter was the winner in 1925, of the Mrs. Brigham Ladies Golf Trophy.

Mrs. F. J. Hamilton was elected president of the Home and School Association at South Porcupine twenty years ago.

Finland and English languages. Fallbearers were Messrs: Ivar Niemi, Isaac Jusila, Erkki Kivioja, Chas. Emery, Abram Haataja and Gust Leino.

Interment was in Timmins Cemetery.

The late Mr. Ylinen died at his residence early Friday morning, Sept. 28th. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Ylinen. He was born at Luomank, Kurikanp, Vaasa Province, Finland, about 55 years ago. He came to Canada during 1917 and has resided in Timmins most of the time since arrival in Canada.

To mourn his loss he leaves his widow, Mrs. Hanna Ylinen, nee Ylikoh-tamaki, and two or three children, who live at Jalasjarvi, Vaasa Province, Finland. He has no known relatives in Canada.
