Consumer Branch Committees of the W. P. & T. B. Meet

South Porcupine Oct. 10th. Special to The Advance.

Mrs. Duggan—Co-ordinator of Consumer Branch Committees of the W. P. & T. B., of Toronto spoke on Tuesday in the Municipal Building in Timmins on the need of continuing the fight against inflation during this post-war period.

She spoke of the excellent work done by these committees during the war years, emphasizing how they have watched prices, distributed literature on the need of conservation of food and clothing and the rationing of certain scarce commodities, and assisted most materially in the work of the War Time Prices and Trade Board.

It is, she said, impossible to get back to pre-war plenty, in one stride. It will take time owing to re-adjustments in factories and shortages of raw material.

Now, more than ever, is the need for watching that inflation does not get a start.

People who need articles, now coming on the market for the first time in years are apt to pay any price to get them.

There is a ceiling on these articles. By standing firm and waiting and refusing to pay excessive prices, inflation can be nipped in the bud.

Need is still great for conservation of clothing and observation of rationing rules still desperately important, as is also protection of quality.

Education of the general public to the necessity for these fulfillings is part of the work of the women of these committees.

HYDRO provides fast, dependable "Made to order" SERVICE

Do you realize that Hydro power must be made to your order... made and delivered to you so quickly that it would seem to be always there? Electricity cannot be stored. It must be made within a tiny fraction of a second of the time it is used. The flow of water to the generators is controlled by sensitive automatic gates, so as to make only enough for the demands of the moment.

Whenever you flip a switch, you use electricity before the water which made it can leave the power house. Your order is received and filled faster than a good camera can wink its eye. Yet the power comes to you through a giant transformer station, a local distribution station, a small transformer near your home... all connected by many miles of transmission and distribution lines.

Millions of dollars worth of equipment and a multitude of watchful personnel stand ready to serve you at the touch of your finger on a switch at any moment of the day or night. That is what Ontario has learned to expect from Hydro service.

Quebec-Chippewa Generating Plant
Burlington Transformer Station

ONLY THIS ONE PART DEPENDS ON YOU

Your house must be adequately wired if you are to have full benefit from the electricity you may want to use. If your place is wired for a range and a water heater, you can assume that you have enough wiring from the small transformer to your house. From there, be sure that you have enough circuits and plenty of outlets conveniently placed in every room. Remember that any one outlet can supply only a limited amount of power efficiently and safely. Remember, too, that you will want an ever-growing number of electrical conveniences in the years to come. The economical time to wire adequately is when you are building or making major alterations. Plan now for your electrical future by wiring completely.
