

Problem of Heart Disease Mounts In Importance

The feeling of the general public that heart disease means total incapacity, a short life and a sudden and terrible death is far from the truth, writes Dr. Walter Modell in the October issue of Hygeia, magazine of the American Medical Association.

Such an idea is far from the truth, says Dr. Modell, who is instructor in the department of pharmacology at Cornell University Medical College, New York.

"We know a great deal about it—how to treat it and how to control it, what is required in the way of rest, diet habits, play and work," he writes. "We can treat it rationally. We must not bury it under an avalanche of superstition and ignorance.

"The majority of patients live a long and often a useful life. What is not generally recognized is that some forms of heart disease need not interfere at all with a normal existence. Whether any or many restrictions need be placed on the patient depends on an evaluation of the true nature of the conditions. This is a matter for the careful consideration of the physician only.

"In the case of heart disease virtually all popular notions of its causes are false. In the vast majority of cases the cause is still a mystery. Only in the heart disease which develops as a consequence of inadequately treated syphilis can we trace its origin to a particular set of circumstances."

In recent years heart disease had become the most important of all diseases, causing more deaths than any other disease, and thus making people more conscious of it and concerned about its increasing prevalence. Many people were asking why they heard so much about heart attacks and wanted to know if something was happening to their hearts.

"The answer is simple but paradoxical," writes Dr. Modell. "It is because people are healthier than there is more heart disease today. It is because people are living longer and because there are many more people alive today who are over 50.

"Our hearts are as good as ever. Nevertheless heart disease is a problem of mounting importance."

For the first time in many months Ontario's gold production showed an increase according to the Gold Bulletin released by the Ontario Department of Mines today. The increased number of miners is probably responsible for the improved condition.

Returns were received from 37 producing mines during the month of August and aggregate statistics show that 482,402 tons of ore were milled from which 119,407 ounces of gold and 28,130 ounces of silver were produced, valued at $4,607,639. Grade of ore was $9.56.

During every day of the month the reporting mines milled 15,561 tons of ore and produced 3,852 ounces of gold and 907 ounces of silver, valued at $148,634.

Clothing Collection Is Now Under Way In Timmins

When the businessmen of Canada balance their ledgers for the duration of the war, there is at least one item that should be added to the assets, although it may be difficult to measure, in dollars and cents, what the value of it has been to them. That is the personal comfort that they have been able to enjoy while doing their utmost in the war effort.

In the countries of Europe that were over run by the enemy, the businessmen had no comfort. They lost everything they had and today, while they have regained their freedom through the efforts of the Allies, the majority of them are destitute, and are in dire need of the most elementary essentials in order to cover their emaciated bodies against the cold and rain of the coming winter.

Throughout Canada members of the Boards of Trade and other business organizations are taking a leading part in organizing the National Clothing Collection, sponsored by the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund on behalf of UNRRA, to be conducted from October 1 to October 20 next.

The spirit that animates them is aptly expressed in a letter written by E. W. Bickle, president of the Board of Trade of the City of Toronto, to the National Chairman, W.M. Brks. of Montreal, urging the whole-hearted support of every Canadian citizen in the coming campaign.

Mr. Bickle writes: "We in Canada have suffered little or no physical discomfort during the war. Our gallant men in the Active Service Forces have brought honour and glory to our Dominion through their outstanding contribution towards the liberation from torture, oppression and untold suffering of the millions of children, men and women of Europe who are now destitute.

"It now behoves every one of us who have been spared the horrors of war, and by the sacrifices of others are privileged to enjoy peace and happiness, to share our good fortune with those who were down-trodden by a ruthless enemy and lost their all."

"We are asked to give so little—only such serviceable used clothing as can be spared from our wardrobes—that I am confident that our Canadian people, in their enjoyment of the Victory which has been so dearly bought, will not forget those who have borne the brunt of the cost of freedom, and will respond generously to the appeal for used clothing to assist in alleviating the distress and suffering of mankind in Europe."

Similarly, D. A. Hanson, president of the Montreal Board of Trade, endorses the campaign and says: "Distress and destitution did not end with the 'Cease Fire' order in devastated lands. On the contrary the menace of acute suffering in war-torn areas grows as winter approaches.

"The National Clothing Collection is deserving of the most ardent support of every citizen of Canada. Enrollment in the drive of the outstanding relief societies across Canada will ensure thoroughness of organization and efficient operation.

"This effort is one to which the Montreal Board of Trade is glad to accord its enthusiastic endorsement. upwards of 125,000,000 people are in urgent need and Canada must not fail them."

THE LEGION COLUMN

It is rather interesting to note that although the Dart Season did not open officially until Friday, Oct. 5th, there have been no less than 22 contests for the Double Championship Cup, out of which the team of Hazlewood and Beard have emerged with most of the honors. The Double Championship, in case you are not aware of it, is a sudden death affair where you pay your fee, pick your partner and challenge the current holders of the cup. The issue is decided in three games and if you have what it takes you can be a champion for the space of ten minutes, anyways. The holders of the championship must be prepared to meet all comers, and they come fast and furious. At the end of the season individual trophies will be presented to the team of two players who have the most victories to their credit.

A couple of weeks ago Al Wetmore and Jimmie Gordon challenged Hazlewood and Beard (this column is getting behind in its reporting) and took the first game. Bert muntered a few threes and fives under his breath and a couple of incantations to whatever deity presides over the fortunes of dart players, and before they were quite aware of it Al and Jimmie were still on the outside looking in. Beard and Hazlewood had snagged off the two remaining games.

These latter were immediately challenged by Walter Wilkinson and Les Mason. The four players are all members of the Independents and the spirit of rivalry predominated. Walter and his partner won the cup; Beard and Hazlewood could not wait to even wipe the sweat from their brows before placing their names next in line on the challenge sheet, and so it goes on. These two examples are cited merely to illustrate the amount of action packed into these double championships, and they are open to all members at all times. They also help out the Dart League financially.

The games for the Maltais Cup are well under way and in the first event all eyes were on Independents, and they rewarded their supporters by trampling P. V. under and taking all 4 points. Bert supplied 3 doubles and "The Old Reliable" the remaining one. Windsors were in great form, mentioning Tommy Mounsey and Mark especially. This is the same team that functioned so well last season and should not be underestimated. Imperials played a great game against Seven Up and drew. Paddy McAlvey (captain) and Bill MacKay came through with the doubles to get their wins. Bobby Dunsmore put in an appearance with his precision team. White Cross, and drew with Moose. Bobby was in his usual form and started off with an aggregate score of 104; obtaining the two wins. White Cross, on their record of last season, will bear watching.

Seven Up gave Imps a run for their money. Bartillo's coming through with an aggregate of 107. Doubles to win by Bartillo and Maoreal. Bill Nixon (Moose) was in the game with White Cross for all he was worth; obtaining an aggregate score of 109 and a double to win. The other double went to Fred Hocking. St. Matthew's is a new entry to the League and looks like a hard nut to crack. In their game with Windsor they scored 1—Windsor 3. Walter Kevan and Terry O'Connor distinguished themselves by coming through with aggregate scores of 95 and 91 points, respectively. Frank Melville obtaining the win. P. V. was an example of one good team meeting a better one, but they put up a good fight. Bob Lazenby obtained an aggregate score of 100. Legion and Aity-Alt did not play. It is rumored that they intend to divide the points, which doesn't meet with general approval.

The entertainment committee started the Fall and Winter activities with a crib tournament; free—which is remarkable with one Scotchman on the committee. Vets of 1914 played the '39-ers. 1914 came out on top. Scores for the old-timers were Ken McCloud, 593; Sam Hornell 594; Albert Cain 599; Art Saint 575; Fred Simpson 589; O. Maynard 605 (a perfect score); J. M. Paterson 531; Art Jenkins 540; J. H. Knell 412. 1939-ers: R. Morin 572; Walter Greaves 527; Cyril Knell 547; Bruce McChesney 518; G. Morris 554; Geo. Davidson 579; Not recorded 474; Ray Tibb 548; Lloyd Johns 588. Grand total for 1914-ers 5038; for '39-ers—4907.

THIS WAR VICTIM MOTHER and baby believe "the only good Nazi is a dead Nazi". From such a dead Nazi, "Mom" obtained the overcoat which covers her and the baby. Millions of others in war-ravaged lands need all the serviceable used clothing you can give to the National Clothing Collection which will be carried on throughout Canada from October 1st to the 20th. The drive is sponsored by the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund and distribution to the liberated peoples of Europe will be under the direction of U.N.R.R.A.
