New Fire Truck Credited With Saving House From Being Complete Loss

Fire Started in Bedroom; Think Children Had Been Playing With Matches

SOUTH PORCUPINE

The new fire truck recently purchased for the South Porcupine Fire Department got its first work-out on Wednesday morning when a fire call was received from the outside area north of the highway known as Pinelandia.

Firemen found dense smoke pouring from the home of J. Luoma. The 40-gallon chemical tanks were emptied to hold the fire in the bedroom and clothes closet, where the heavy smoke was caused by burning clothes and a mattress. The fire had reached sawdust and chips used for insulation above the ceiling.

The new fire truck was put into use with the booster pumps, water being supplied from the tank on the truck, augmented from a well. This emergency equipment is credited by Maxwell Smith, Chief of the Volunteer Fire Department, with saving the building from complete loss.

Damage was heavy, although some insurance was carried.

Mrs. Luoma was in a cowlart at the time, and Mr. Smith believes that the two children in the house may have been playing with matches. He considers it most fortunate that there was no loss of life.

Women's Ass'n Play Provides Many Laughs

The ladies of the Women's Association of the United Church have been congratulated on the production of a play that went over exceedingly well on last Thursday and Friday nights in the United Church.

This play, "Aunt Tillie goes to town" produced many laughs during the evenings, and possibly none enjoyed it more than the actors themselves. It requires tremendous courage and a good deal of ability to put a play across on a small stage, with very little assistance in the way of "properties".

Moreover, four of the gentlemen characters were portrayed by ladies, and no apologies are offered when it is stated that all the cast were ladies past the first bloom of youth.

It takes a lot of time a lot of will power, an endless amount of practice, and an undoubted sense of humour, to put on a successful play.

These ladies had all that it takes, and two hours of good wholesome fun were thoroughly enjoyed. All the cast were complimented for the success they richly deserve.

It was a financial success, too, which will augment the funds of the W.A.

Miss E. White, who managed the production is to be complimented on the success of her first venture. One item deserves special mention: throughout the play, every word spoken was clearly heard.

The play centred around Aunt Tillie, Trask-(Mrs. Brereton), who hates all men.

Her niece, Pamela, (Mrs. Galbraith) has upset her aunt's equilibrium, first by announcing her forthcoming marriage, and secondly by signifying her intention of spending her honeymoon in Aunt Tillie's home.

Mervin Tucker (the fiancee) arrives at the house suddenly and after depositing his suitcase, goes out to look for a pal who has promised to meet him.

Aunt Tillie is hastily summoned to town and takes Mervin's suitcase instead of her own.

She arrives later garbed in male attire having had a car accident. She has had to wear Mervin's clothes!

In the meantime there is a grand mix-up at the house. Complications involving Mervin's aunt, his employer, his fiancee, and aunt Tillie, are finally straightened out.

Mervin (Mrs. Marjerrison) in a barrel; and Aunt Tillie in tight male clothing; Lucinda the maid grabbing at a man—any man—And Dr. Hattie Bing, chiropractor, banging away with a sledgehammer on the spine of poor Mervin were the hilarious highlights.

The four "gentlemen" deserve a hand to themselves. They looked very nice, all of them (Mrs. Eade especially) but they had long parts to learn, and difficult roles to fill—and filled them well.

Mrs. R. E. O'Donnell Honored by Shower

McMullan, Miss Earl Monaghan.

Mock Wedding Adds Gaiety to Shower

Miss Lucy Olivieri, who on Wednesday of this week became the bride of Cpl. Frank Sicoli, was guest of honour at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of Mrs. T. De Berardino on Saturday evening.

Many very beautiful gifts were bestowed upon the bride-to-be, who is a very popular member of South Porcupine's young people.

A mock wedding, with Mrs. K. Gasparetto taking the bride's part, Mrs. Helen DeLuca as groom and Miss Francesca Cattarello performing the ceremony caused hilarity, and bingo provided entertainment.

Mrs. A. Antoneno won the door-prize.

The hostess served a delightful lunch, assisted by Mrs. Irene Adamo, Mrs. R. Del Rizzo, Mrs. W. Delmonte, Mrs. Della Truant with Mrs. P. Sicoli (mother of the bride groom-to-be) pouring tea.

A very large number of friends of the young couple, both young and older, attended the shower. Among the many present were, Rita Adamo, Lucy DeLuca, Mrs. J. Adamo, Irene Cosco, land; Mrs. Marjerrison, as Mervin Tucker; Mrs. Eade, as Ronald's Employer, and Mrs. Lane, as Charlie One Lung were well and deservedly applauded.

Mrs. Libby, as the maid, excelled herself and was one of the outstanding contributions to the play's success. Mrs. Brereton, in a long and difficult principal part, cannot be too highly praised, and Mrs. Sauder, as a novelist, was convincing.

Dr. Bing, "the chiropractor", (Mrs. Clement) was also convincing, and capable.

Other smaller roles all well-interpreted were: Mrs. Galbraith, as Pamela; Mrs. Mason, as Ellen; Mrs. Whitton, as Mervin's aunt.

During the intervals, Miss Evelyn Clare and Mr. Lloyd Hunkin gave vocal selections which were well received. Harold Smith accompanied them on the piano.

A special 'Thank you' is offered to those who served on the various committees, all assisting in the success of the entertainment.

It is understood that the ladies are taking the play to Monteth in the near future.

SOUTH PORCUPINE Merchants' Windows Feature School Work

Many passers-by stop at three windows in town where our public schools' handwork is being exhibited.

This is well worth looking over too and quite a few of the art exhibits are out of the ordinary. The fancy work section and wood-craft too merit more than a passing glance.

Thursday (tonight) will see parents at the public schools looking over their own particular children's work.

This is Education Week, and, in passing, those who listened to our schools' radio broadcast from the Dome on Monday commented on the very tuneful and sweet duet sung by the Whitton twins, Margaret and Dorothy.
