Felix Chenier Death Found Accidental

It was the finding of the jury, summoned to the inquest into the death of Felix Chenier, Hollinger miner who came to his death at that mine last Saturday, that Chenier met accidental death.

The inquest lasted an hour and fifteen minutes, during which time three witnesses were called and the report of Dr. M. J. Kelly, called to the mine after the accident, and Dr. R. P. Smith who performed the post mortem, were heard.

W. B. Ashby, who had worked with Chenier for the past four years, explained that he and Chenier had been rolling muck down into the mill hole on the 675 level, and both had ropes about their bodies.

He could not say for certain, whether the rope about Chenier had been tied or not, but the rope was secured to a rail near by.

The last time Chenier spoke, he asked Ashby to roll his muck down a few moments later, Ashby said he heard the sound of muck rushing down and saw Chenier's light disappear. He made no sound.

The accident occurred at approximately 12.15 and Chenier was removed at about 5 p.m.

Dr. Smith attributed death to a compound fracture of the skull and crushed chest, and Dr. Kelly stated that death had been almost instant.

The jury composed of Ralph Poulin, foreman, and Russel White, Roy Wilson, and Hugh Mulryan, added to their findings, that a staging should be erected over an open mill hole, and that the use of safety belts be enforced when men are engaged in work in dangerous places.

Adele Jergens and Charles Winger have strong supporting roles in this racy, embrace story of a hard-to-please guy, and a girl who lived and yearned.

Heard In High School Halls

BY CARLYLE DUNBAR

The Literary Society of the T. H. and V.S. put on a very successful Mock Trial last Friday afternoon. A large number attended, with a few parents also in the audience.

According to the charges, a certain student named Marceau Levesquancher (Marcel Gelinus) had blown up one wing of the High School, killing 322 human beings and nine teachers. Among those killed was Professor Hypodermis, the villain's hated chemistry teacher.

Judge Bill Maki read the charge, which consisted of murder, arson, willful destruction of public property and disturbing the peace, in English and French. Crown Attorney Ken Langdon conducted his case very ably.

Roger de Brabant, defence lawyer, did his best, and was summing up his case when one Alec Turkinson (Stah Williams) rushed up and confessed.

Attorney Langdon thought it was a trick to set Levasquancher free but the real villain and the defendant proved to be excellent friends—they played pool together. The Judge finally closed the trial, and ordered a new hearing later.

The Mock Trial was planned and directed by Robert Millette, who took the part of the interpreter. It was planned to give students a good idea of how a court operated.

The Photo Club hold their dance this Saturday. Student Cards were issued to all T.H. and V.S. students last week.

Don't forget the Playnite on March 8.

Kiwianians Hear Cancer Talk

The Porcupine Cancer Society was organized in Timmins last fall and the officers and members have been very active in educating and informing the people of the menace of this disease and the need for early treatment of cases.

The thanks of the club for the address was well presented by Kiwanian A. W. Pickering.

Another speaker to address the club was Merrick R. Nutting, business manager of Garden Bros. Circus. Mr. Nutting, who is well known in town, was formerly with Conklin's Shows, visiting here on several occasions and making many friends. Mr. Nutting gave a brief review of the attractions of Garden Bros. Circus. He emphasized the fact that it was not a midway or carnival outfit, had no wheels, rides or concessions, but was a regular circus, featuring elephants, bears, tigers, lions and other wild animals, as well as horses, dogs, monkeys, sals, etc.

Fifty per cent of the program was animal acts, he said. Clowns and aerial acts added to the interest. There were two and a half hours of the best sort of entertainment, and the prices, which included everything (there being no side shows or concessions) were unusually low, especially for children.

The show was booked for New Liskeard, Kirkland Lake and Noranda, being sponsored at these places by the Kiwanians. After the luncheon a meeting of the directors of the Timmins Kiwanians decided to sponsor Garden Bros. Circus at the McIntyre Arena on June 13, 14, and 15.

One of the interesting sidelights at Monday's meeting was the formal presentation of the Karl Eyer Curling trophy. This took the humorous form of a ferocious lion summons to Sol Sky, of the South Porcupine Club to appear before the Timmins Kiwanian Court to answer to the charge of feloniously purloining the aforesaid trophy, simply because he had been on the Timmins team that won the silverware. In a masterly defence, Kiwanian Sol proved beyond doubt that he was innocent of the misdemeanor charged in the summons so solemnly read by Past Lieut. Governor W. O. Langdon, but others were guilty of conspiracy, intimidation, sabotage and general nuisance by attempting to tempt him to do away with the cup.

"His Lordship" gave full acquittal to the accused Kiwanian, but if the three others guilty of suborning the South Porcupine Kiwanian are not boiled in oil, it will be because there is no justice in the world anyway. In the meantime, however, the Kiwanians had a lot of harmless fun out of the trophy which was won so well last week at New Liskeard.

President G. N. Ross was in the chair at Monday's luncheon. Kiwanian F. Woodbury led the community singing, with W. H. Wilson at the piano.

Visitors for the day were: Dr. Graham B. Lane, Medical Health Officer Porcupine Health Unit; President Leo Laporte and Secretary F. A. Robinson, of the Porcupine Cancer Society; Sol Sky and R. L. Ship, of the South Porcupine Kiwanians; and M. R. Nutting, Hamilton.
