INCREASE POTATO YIELDS THIS YEAR

by using this new combination insect and disease control program

DITHANE plus DDT

PLAN now to get higher potato yields this year by a program of complete protection... one that includes the proved combination of DITHANE and DDT.

Countywide tests in the U.S. have conclusively shown that DITHANE, sprayed at least once a week, is extremely effective against both early and late blight. The addition of DDT (in such form as Rohm & Haas, 25% DDT EMULSION CONCENTRATE or D-50 WETTABLE POWDER) provides one of the most effective controls of flea beetles, leaf hoppers and Colorado potato beetles.

And your spray operations will be speedier because DITHANE leaves spray nozzles clean.

It's a combination that will give outstanding results. Write P. N. Soden & Co., Canadian Distributor, for a folder which completely describes this program of control.
