Hollinger Edges McIntyre By 2-1 Score Last Night

Hann, Levendoski Score As Hollinger Breaks Loose From Recent Slump

Hollinger came out of their slump last night and emerged victorious from a tight, slow ball game with McIntyre at the Hollinger Park. McIntyre was vanquished on the short end of a pinching 2-1 sheet.

The climb from their slump perch was executed through a nine inning rainthreat that never materialized, with Hann and Levendoski bringing in the two deciding runs, Kerr scoring the single tour gathered in by the Mac-

McIntyre started the scoring in the second inning with Kerr romping home on "Sparky" Vail's bunt after an advancement to second by virtue of a walk awarded to Thayer.

Norm Hann retaliated in the third inning in starry style, starting his tour with a double and ending it with Neddow's single.

All was quiet from then on until the first half of the fifth, when Joe Levendoski romped around to home using a single for a starter and Mallo's single to conclude the operation.

Hurlers for both clubs came in for a fair amount of hits with "Sparky" Vail being tagged for eight and O'Don-

ON CAULIFLOWERS AND SUCH:

WHEN THE FISTICALLY AMBITIOUS DUO of Joe Sunega and Mike Popovitch enter the ring tonight in the Timmins arena as the main go on the second card offered to the fight fraternity by the Timmins Boxing Association, it might well be for the betterment of betters if the monetary green were not subjected to risk by laying the same out on the outcome of the battle.

The Joseph proved himself an expertly functioning machine, on his return from the service, in his first return battle with Ernie Sasseville two weeks ago today. And, if anything, Joe has advanced two or three rungs on the conditioning ladder since that time. His timing is letter perfect, he can spar for as long as sparring partners can be found and his hitting power fits into description as well as anything relative to strength does in this year of atomic grace.

As for his opponent, Mike Popovitch, we can write very little other than that we know he was rated high as a scrapper while serving with the Army and that during his fistic endeavours in the service his defeats totalled an impressive zero.

Previous to the above mentioned tilt the Association have arranged a five canto semi-final between two newcomers to the local fight circle, in the heavyweight personalities of Esko Jarvi and Leo Beaulne.

This scrap will definitely be a refer-shaker. For the remainder of the night fans will see action from eight other lads, four of whom appeared on the last card aside from two other bouts to bring the card up to eight fights in all.

THE ROUND UP:

QUOTH THE CHORTLING soul last night, "If you told anyone Thayer hadn't been up yet they'd call you a liar."

With that he turned his good eye to the black cloud that was hanging over the ball park, peered through the dust rolling along the track with the other eye and doubtless wondered if said black cloud marked the presence of Joe Bisflk, (never could pronounce it), on leave from the L'il Abner column or if it was an aftermath of the experiment with the second Bikini firecracker.

The lofty McIntyre fielder went to the plate four times last night in the McIntyre-Hollinger fixture, walked three times and drove out a single on the fourth occasion when somebody slipped up and gave him something he could hit at. Jack made first fine but went out in an attempt to make second, leaving first, being sandwiched and going down with Norm Hann a-sitting on him piggy-back style (we think).

Previous to last night's fixture, Thayer had been swatting in great style since his return from North Bay with a good bracing of the Lake Nipissing air.

Three runs and one driven in was one of his exhibitions last week and predictions for his future work sound and look good.

HITHER, THITHER AND YON:

SCHEDULED FOR SUNDAY is the first step for local pigeon flyers. Birds are being flown from Matheson to Timmins for a first test and after that the fanciers expect big things for their sport.

Since the first mention of forming a club was made, a few of the possible members have withdrawn and those remaining hope that enough interest can be found in the camp to form the club they desire here.

At last Tin Pan Alley has stopped to swiping into the music but the name conceived by another person.

Peering into a juke box we note the steal has been made from the medical profession and for the price of one nickel, "Hurry--hurry--run up, crawl up, get your money up" you can hear Benny Goodman's musical interpretation of "St. Vitus Dance."

Hollinger, Kirkland Lake To Tangle Here Sunday

Part Of Proceeds Will Be Used To Benefit Work Of Y's Men's Club

Hollinger, sitting in second place in the Temiskaming Baseball League, will be out to clip the wings of the league-leading Kirkland Lake team on Sunday afternoon in the Hollinger Park.

A special interest is given this tilt between the two hard-hitting teams because Sunday's game, although a regularly scheduled league battle, is a benefit game on behalf of the Timmins Y's Men's Club in their efforts to raise funds for a combined Y.M. - Y.W.C.A. in Timmins.

Baseball fans are to be given an extra helping of enjoyment at the game, too, by the members of a local band, who will provide music.

Those seeing Sunday's game will therefore have the satisfaction of seeing a top-flight ball game, with all the trimmings, and of supporting better recreational activities for youth in their own home town.

Town Writes Off Old Water Accounts

Old water accounts, some of them three or four years old, and totalling some $150-odd, were written off by the town council on Wednesday. One of the accounts was that of a fruit company which had failed some years ago, leaving a $57 account unpaid.

All possible steps had been taken to recover such amounts, Councillor J. V. Bonhomme assured the meeting.

"Darling, if you marry me I'll satisfy your smallest wishes."

"And what do you propose to do about the big ones?"

Timmins Boxing Ass'n. Stages Second Show; Card Looks Good

For the second time in as many weeks the Timmins Boxing Association has made up a card of prime fistic entertainment to be presented in the Timmins arena and tonight members of the fight fraternity here will do well to seek one of the pegs at the ringside.

The final fracas between Joe Sunega and Emilie Popovitch brings Sunega into a better match than the last time. On the previous occasion Sunega carried a decision over Ernie Sasseville who by he way, spotted Sunega a sufficient number of pounds to lessen his chances.

Popovitch goes in to the ring with nearly the same amount of poundage and carries an impressive army record.

The two bouts not mentioned on the Association's poster will bring Chris Joyce, who earned a decision over Pee-Wee Chartier two weeks ago, in against Les Rickard, who fell to a T.K.O. at the hands of Cliff Varin.

Rickard is known to be a polished leather swinger and big things are expected of him tonight when he goes to battle before the semi-final.

The curtain raiser is a three-canto duel between pint-sized Andrew Martin and Reg. Chartrand. Both miniature gladiators are of the scrappy type and a midget mixup is promised.

The unpredictable fixture of the night is a match of Rheel LeVigne, who fought to a decision over Roger Lauzon during the last card, and George Hamelin, a fighter of promise with a riddle complex in the ring.

McIntyre Shuts Out Hollinger Nine

The Hollinger Bombers were defeated 4-0 by the McIntyre mine at the Hollinger Park on Sunday.

George McShane, on the mound for the Macmen, allowed a scant three hits to the Hollinger nine while Mike Cherevaty, hurling for the vanquished, was tagged for eight hits.

Jack Thayer made a stellar return to the McIntyre club by collecting three of Cherevaty's eight hits and accounting for three of the four runs. Thayer was also responsible for a centre field drive in the initial inning to bring "Wink" Wilson home with the only run of the day.
