Youth Welfare Council Leader Describes Program To Kiwanis

At the regular weekly luncheon of Timmins Kiwanis at the Empire Hotel on Monday, John Angus, president of the Junior Youth Welfare Council, outlined the aims, objects and hopes of the Junior Council, while Don Hardy, Kinsman Club representative on the Senior Council, gave a brief, but effective explanation of how and why this Junior Council had been organized. Kinsman Hardy explained that the Junior Council promised to do a notable work, and had already accomplished much.

President G. N. Ross being at North Bay attending the charter night of the North Bay Club and the district gathering of Kiwanis in that city, the chair on Monday was taken by Vice-President O. R. Kennie. President Ross is well known for his Scottish humor, and Vice-President Kennie gave a hint of his national origin when he smilingly declared that "next Monday's meeting of the club will be held on Tuesday, as Monday is civic holiday."

Secretary W. H. Wilson called attention to the fact that while next week's luncheon would be on Tuesday, there would be a round-table conference on Monday at the usual time, and he urged members who had missed attendance this month, to attend both sessions next week, so as to improve their attendance record.

Visitors for the day were: W. W. Barry, of Pittsburgh, Penn., a Past President of Kiwanis in Nova Scotia; Vincent Woodbury, of San Antonio, Texas; D. A. Hardy, of the Senior Youth Welfare Council; John Angus, president of the Junior Council; Miss Bernice Kosobuski, secretary-treasurer of the Junior Council.

Community singing was led by Kiwanian F. A. Woodbury, with Jack Reid at the piano.

The chairman called attention to the softball match between Timmins and South Porcupine clubs on Wednesday, Aug. 7, at the Buffalo Ankerite Park. Members of the Timmins Club were asked to volunteer as players in this match.

Attention was also called again to the need for delegates to attend the Kiwanis convention at St. Andrew's-by-the-Sea.

Kiwanian Geo. Knowles introduced the speakers for the day. Don Hardy, Kinsman club representative on the Senior Youth Welfare Council, explained how and why the Junior Council came to be organized. This Junior Council represented the teen-agers, and were taking over much of the work in connection with this group. In a few weeks they had already done much, and he believed that they would do much more.

John Angus, president of the Junior Youth Welfare Council, was the guest speaker. He pointed out that although only organized a few weeks, some progress had been made. Plans for the summer had been formulated, and still greater progress was hoped for as the ideas developed and were recognized more generally.

Touching on what had been done to organize sports for the teen-agers, the guest speaker suggested that several new sports might be established here. "But sports are not everything," he said, as he sketched other lines that the Junior Council hoped to follow.

Already, an open dance for those in the group had been arranged for Monday, Aug. 5. Another event planned was a Youth Rally and entertainment. Still another was a Community Fair of an original type. In addition, it was the intention to gather and tabulate statistics in regard to the youth of the community, so that the needs would be known, and the facts available to give to the public.

At an early date, the Junior Council intended to issue a monthly magazine to publicize the aims and objectives of the Junior Council and to keep the young people in touch with each other. At first, this would be in mimeographed form, but it was hoped to develop this magazine along more impressive lines.

The guest speaker pointed out that in the past there was no place for young people to gather here, except around pool rooms, beverage rooms and street corners. The hope of the Junior Council was to provide organized sports and to develop cultural opportunities, so that there would be lots of opportunities for the young people to occupy their time and energy, with benefit to themselves and to the community.

In expressing the sincere thanks and appreciation of the Kiwanis Club for the able address by John Angus, Kiwanian John Beattie took occasion to compliment Kiwanian Geo. Knowles and Kinsman Don Hardy for their good work in having the Junior Council of Welfare organized.

Vice-President Kennie added his personal thanks and appreciation of the speakers for the day.

Prospective Builders Take Council Challenge

Five Permits Taken Out For Homes On Patricia Boulevard Extension

Prospective builders in the Empire townsite at the northwest limits of the town have taken up the gauntlet thrown down by the Timmins town council, when that body suggested that permits be taken out for homes before any expenditure be made for road and water lines.

The permits were taken out in the names of R. W. Hardy, R. B. Stock, H. D. Ostrosker, E. Barkwell, and D. Harvey.

When these gentlemen appeared before council to ask some assurance that the town would provide roads and water lines, so that they could build under the National Housing Act, the councillors felt that the town would also like some assurance that houses would be constructed.

It was recently suggested that the men concerned demonstrate their intentions by taking out building permits.

As a result, the week's total for such permits reached a peak of $39,805. The houses, which will be built on an extension of Patricia Blvd., are estimated to cost $8,000, $7,800, $7,000, $6,000 and $4,800.

Eleven other permits were issued for general repair work, small construction, insertion of posts, and permission to use roads for working purposes.

Fast Freight!

You've heard those thundering wheels... seen that stabbing headlight... as you've watched a long train of Canadian Pacific freight cars rumble through the night.

They are hauling more - much more - than just overnight freight. To children and grown-ups in destitute Europe and Asia, those turning wheels are bringing new hope... perhaps life itself.

To all of us they are bringing food, coal, building materials, household furnishings, lumber, paper, machinery - all the thousand-and-one items which make up a nation's domestic and export trade. And they are doing it efficiently and cheaply... every day and night in the year!
