

First Canada View of 'Searching Wind' Now at Palace

A picture that has been heralded as one of the most important to come out of Hollywood in recent years is showing for the first time in Canada at the Palace theatre. It is a Hal Wallis production of Lillian Hellman's hit play, "The Searching Wind," co-starring Robert Young, Sylvia Sidney and Ann Richards, the report has it that the film takes its place among the movie greats.

It tells a modern, adult love story against the exciting background of world affairs that carry the principals from country to country.

Robert Young is cast as an American diplomat in love with Sylvia Sidney. Miss Sidney does not see eye-to-eye with him on matters that lie close to her heart and returning his love though she does, she refuses to marry him. On the rebound he marries Sylvia's socialite friend, portrayed by Ann Richards, whose father (Dudley Digges) owns an influential Washington newspaper.

Miss Sidney goes to work on the newspaper and her reporting job throws her into contact with Young again and again. Each time their love flames anew, and it is the way in which they and Miss Richards eventually work out their destinies, that is said to make "The Searching Wind" a picture of great interest and enjoyment.

'Night In Paradise' Comes to Cartier Sunday Midnight

Sporting the largest indoor structure ever built for a technicolor picture, "Night In Paradise" starring Merle Oberon and Turhan Bey, comes to the Cartier Theatre as half of a double-feature, program on Sunday midnight, and carries on for Monday and Tuesday.

The mammoth set takes in more than 500 players, numerous animals and birds, and the odd dozen of beautiful Grecian handmaidens, clad in sheer, flowing garments, the man says.

Miss Oberon portrays a Persian Princess, back in the old days when that country was something more than an also-ran at the United Nations conference. Turhan Bey appears as Aesop, in as glamorous a story as that fable teller ever dreamed up.

A top-flight supporting cast includes Thomas Gomez as Croesus, Gale Sondergaard, as a rather nasty bit of work, Ray Collins, George Dolenz and others.

Cartier Features Musical Western

"Rainbow Over Texas," starring Roy Rogers, comes to the screen of the Cartier Theatre for a three-day engagement starting today, and also as the first half of a double bill of unusual interest showing at a special midnight show, Sunday.

Rogers portrays himself, a cowboy star of screen and radio, who returns to his home town in Texas to take part in a celebration honoring him, and remains there to out-wit, out-ride and out-fight a group of modern-day gangsters whose operations would put the bad men of the Old West to shame.

The picture is a well presented musical western, with Dale Evans playing the top feminine role, with comedy furnished by George "Gabby" Hayes, and music by Bob Nolan and the Sons of the Pioneers.

important community service.

The speaker touched on the successful history of the Y.M.C.A. The organization was started in England, and was 120 years old. It operated with success in 67 different countries, being international in the broadest sense. It was based on high ideals, sound principles, clean hearts, healthy minds and sound bodies.

"Youth to-day need to clarify their ideas, ideals and principles," he said, "and for this, constructive leadership is needed." The tendency of youth to group together was noted by the speaker, who commented that this tendency needed guidance and the right leadership.

The bringing of the "Y" to Timmins would not interfere with existing organizations like the Scouts, Girl Guides, and many other worthy groups. Mr. Lambe believed that the "Y" would solve many of youth's problems here.

The "Y" occupied a broad field, and was not confined to any one color, creed or race, or other division. It had three things to offer: idealism, leadership and know-how (experience). Its program was very flexible. Sports of all kinds, camping, hobby shows, dramatics, etc., might be sponsored by local "Y's."

Each "Y" had autonomy. A board of directors, elected at a public meeting governed the community work of the "Y."

There were three types of program Try The Advance Want Ads.

that might be adopted.

The first required no special equipment, use being made of schools, churches, playgrounds, vacant lots, etc. This program would cost about $5,000 to $12,000 a year.

The second plan included a building where there would be a modest lobby, club rooms, game rooms, etc. This would entail an annual cost of $10,000 to $25,000.

The third type was the city "Y"—a type adopted by some 120 cities in the United States. This included a building costing from $150,000 to $800,000, with a yearly cost of $25,000 to $300,000. In this type, however, 60 to 80 per cent of the cost yearly came from income earned in the services given. The income from the other two types was very small.

The type of program for Timmins would be decided by the local board. The speaker thought that a three-year program of type one would prove in practical way the great value of "Y" service to the community. The present information was that it would be two or three years before building material would be available here.

Under any of the plans, it would be necessary to obtain a trained secretary for the work here, conduct a campaign for funds, and make plans for a building or for other accommodation. Mr. Lambe made reference to the success of the "Y" at Sudbury, and urged all members of the club to give their support and co-operation to the plans to bring the "Y" to Timmins.

Worst Criminals Are 16 to 19 Years Old, S. A. Head States

Toronto, Aug. 28.—The worst criminals in Canada today are between the ages of 16 and 19, according to Lt. Col. Wallace Bunton, head of The Salvation Army Prison and Police Court Services Department. "The next worst age group is from 19 to 25."

"Ex-servicemen have not been responsible for even the share of crime that could be attributed to them on a percentage of population basis," he said.

It is possible to trace back to the home 99 per cent of the major crime in Canada, Col. Bunton declared. "This does not always mean poor homes because some criminals came from prosperous homes. Too much severity by parents in some cases, not enough in others, deception of children by parents, the bad example of low-principled parents and broken homes are the background factors that develop young criminals, according to Col. Bunton."

"The home is first, the school second and the Church third in the proper upbringing of the young," said Col. Bunton. "Home conditions are reflected in school conduct and where school conduct is bad there should be investigation of home conditions. Then, too, there is not enough church work among young children."

The Salvation Army prison department has 92 officers across Canada engaged in full or part-time reclamation work among prisoners. Last year personal work was done with 29,787 of them and more than 2,000 individuals were handed over to The Salvation Army by courts and prison officials. According to Col. Bunton, 87 per cent of these are now going straight and efforts continue to reclaim the others.

ONTARIO PARENTS CAN TAKE THESE RECOGNIZED PRECAUTIONS AGAINST THE POSSIBLE THREAT OF POLIO

It is in August and September that poliomyelitis (polio) is most prevalent. During these last weeks of summer, thoughtful parents should observe every rule that will protect their little ones from this disease.

In our Province, comparatively few cases of polio have occurred as yet but in some sections of the United States, infantile paralysis—as it is more commonly called—has reached epidemic proportions.

The Ontario Department of Health therefore urges every family to keep in step with the common-sense precautions outlined below. Read them carefully. Encourage your children to practice them daily. Guard your family's health during this particular period of the year!

SIX SIMPLE PRECAUTIONS:

1. Peel or scrub all raw fruit and vegetables before serving.
2. Protect all food from flies.
3. Teach your children to avoid crowded beaches and pools and swimming in dirty water.
4. Avoid over-fatigue and if possible have your children rest for two hours each afternoon.
5. Prevent your children from suffering sudden chills, or exposing themselves to too much sun.
6. Make sure your children wash their hands before eating.

If your child is ill do not hesitate to seek medical advice
