

DROPPED Between STITCHES

by Phyllis McCoy

Congratulations are also extended this week to Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Whately, who were married in Toronto on Saturday afternoon. The bride, the former Marie Del Guidice, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Del Guidice, Toker Street, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Whately, of Toronto. Following their wedding trip to Peterborough and other points, the young couple will take up residence in Toronto. Their many friends in the North join us in extending our best wishes for good luck and happiness.

On Monday evening gay crowds of dancers attended the Miner's Union Labor Day Dance, held down at the Riverside Pavilion. Henry Keineck and his orchestra supplied the enthusiastic dancers with top tunes, and the evening was a huge success. An added highlight of the program was the winning of the door prize, a mantle radio, by Roy Nimmo.

Sunday evening (at 8:30) is the big night for teen-agers, when the Youth Rally, sponsored by the Junior and Senior branches of the Timmins Youth Welfare Council, will be held at the Empire Theatre. During the evening the object of the Youth Council will be outlined and the group will be acquainted with work already done, and plans that are made for the future. The gathering will also be asked to name delegates who will later form a Youth Council, as members now are but temporary. A special program has been planned, and will feature Henry Keineck and his orchestra, and solos by Helen Synos and Adelia Pellizari. Also to be featured are impersonations by a British war bride recently arrived in Canada, who before her marriage was an English actress, a skit by a group directed by Mark Frank, and Paddy and his Corn-Pickers. In all an interesting and entertaining program has been planned so don't forget the time and date.

It was a big weekend for the Kinsmen and Kinettes over the holiday, who visitors from Sudbury, Val d'Or, Matheson, Iroquois Falls, Ansonville, and Kirkland Lake were present for the second annual Northern Kinsmen Meet. Also present were Kinsmen Governor of District No. 6, Harold Savoy, of St. John, Quebec, and Deputy-governor R. Thomkins, of Kirkland Lake, but formerly of Timmins. A grand program was planned for the two-day meet, and Saturday started off with golf, the lady non-golfers enjoying afternoon tea at the McIntyre, and the day finishing off with cocktails and dancing in the Auditorium, with Ron Jones and his orchestra providing dance music. A special attraction was little Kathleen Burt who greatly pleased her audience with an attractive hula dance number. On Sunday another musical program was offered including violin selections, vocal solos, piano duets and trumpet selections all of which followed a large banquet during which Mr. Savoy spoke to the gathering, other interesting addresses were heard, and presentations made the winners of the 18-hole golf tournament.

Whoiehearted congratulations are extended this week to Miss Mary Everard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Everard, 52 Tamarack St., who last week was awarded top honors in Spanish Composition at the University of Mexico, which she attended this summer along with three thousand other summer students. Miss Everard was asked to seek a three-year scholarship through the Dominion Government this fall, which would enable her to continue at the university, but instead she has returned to her teaching at Timmins High and Vocational School.

Seeing inspiring country, beautiful scenery, meeting famous people, and having something in the line of ultra-exciting adventure were only a part of her amazing trip. Each afternoon being free of studies, Mary spent this time seeing everything possible and picking up valuable and priceless souvenirs. To have orchids growing outside her bedroom window, to tour in complete and exquisite Mexican costume, to dine at the Canadian Embassy where members were gracious and diplomatic toward their Northern visitor. This was only a part of the wonderful trip, as was the adventurous four-day trip into the tropical jungle, where exotic growth was rampant, and typical animal inhabitants were to be observed.

During her stay in Mexico, Mary lived with Carmelita Labora, an outstanding painter of miniatures, who is regarded by critics as Mexico's present day greatest. She also met many world famous professors, Claire Wallace, noted Canadian commentator; Lily Pons, Igor Stravinsky, Russia's greatest living present day composer and conductor, and Count Jean Rostk, of Montreal. Among her souvenirs Mary has countless items, including a beautiful hand-processed and hand-tooled leather shoulder bag with matching wallets and cases, a Hubert Harmon belt with hand-wrought buckle and matching bracelet, hand-worked baskets, hand-loomed materials, a large sarape, beautiful rings, bracelets and earrings, wood carvings and several articles of Aztec design including wall brackets and candlesticks.
