

DROPPED Between STITCHES

By Phyllis

Very busy ladies these days are the members of the Woman's Association of First United Church . . . Much preparation has been made for their tea and sale of work which will be held in the church basement on Saturday, October 5, from three until six . . . Similar efforts put forth by the W.A. have been unqualified successes and this one promises to be no exception . . . And being Saturday afternoon it will be an excellent time to browse around at the work tables, (as Christmas isn't so very far off and very soon "gifts" will be uppermost in everyone's mind), and enjoy a cup of tea and a snack at the same time.

Renewing old acquaintances in town this week is Mr. Reginald Geen, of Oshawa . . . All music lovers in the Porcupine will remember Mr. Geen and his brilliant piano recitals presented here on two memorable occasions . . . He has also visited Timmins in the capacity of an examining official on two or three occasions, and as an adjudicator for the music festival . . . This time, however, Mr. Geen is visiting in a purely personal capacity, having become very fond of the North through his previous stays here . . . During his brief trip he was the guest of Mr. Edouard Bartlett.

The teen-agers are still talking about the grand time had by all at the Fall Frolic held Friday night at the Riverside Pavilion . . . The dance was sponsored by the Y's Men's Club and the Timmins Youth Welfare Council . . . The decoration committee under Nadyne Smith certainly did themselves proud, the whole hall being covered with attractively colorful pictures and posters . . . Henry Kelneck and his orchestra provided the music for dancing, novelty numbers being an added highlight . . . Songstress for the evening was Helen Synos . . . Prizes for novelty dances were won by Anne Ferguson and Doug Lorey, Anne Barliko and Doug Mawhinney, Lois Eckford and Harvey Greer . . . A special feature greeted by a most enthusiastic audience was a piano solo by Earl Simard, accompanied by Henry Kelneck . . . All in all the event was more than a huge success . . . Patrons for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Brewer and members of the Y's Men's Club present included Dave Wemyss, Doug Loucks and Graham Dunlop.

And while on the topic of dances and the good times usually had at all, we might remind you of that "Hard Times" affair being held by the Kinettes tomorrow night at the Riverside Pavilion . . . From all reports it promises to be loads of fun . . . And another date to remember is Oct. 9, for that is the date you have with the Y's Men's Club for their Thanksgiving Dance . . . Takes place at the McIntyre Gym with Jack Bridges providing the tunes for jive dancing . . . A dozen turkeys are going to be presented as door prizes too, so here's hoping for a lucky ticket.

On Tuesday night at 8:30 the Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion held their regular weekly whist drive at the Legion Hall . . . Prizewinners were: Ladies first, Mrs. E. Stewart; second, Mrs. A. Hass; third, Mrs. J. Cowan; Gentlemen's first was won by Mrs. M. Vedur; second, Mrs. J. Portelance; and third, Mrs. A. Cresley.

Coming up on Sunday afternoon at 1:30 is the Track Meet, sponsored by the Youth Welfare Council, at the Hollinger Park . . . Promises to be an exciting affair, with events open to all boys and girls, (over twelve years), ladies and gentlemen . . . Events will be grouped for Juniors 12 to 14 years, Intermediate 15 to 17 years, and Seniors 18 years and over . . . Working overtime these days is Miss Helen Korri, the energetic young lady who organized the affair, Mr. Don Clarke and other members of the T.H.&V. staff, and the Y's Men's Club who are all pulling together to ensure the success of the meet . . . Sunday was the day chosen for the affair to give those working on week days a chance to participate, and it is noted that in the senior class, that is for 18 years and over, all are open events . . . Added attractions will include a married women's walking race (rumour has it with stockings as prizes), girl's softball and basketball throws, tug o' war, three-legged race and others . . . Mr. Clarke of Timmins High School will be official referee at the meet.

Of Interest To Women New Leather Accessories

BY PRUNELLA WOOD

One smart accessory shop on Fifth avenue has from its inception done remarkably clever things with soft leathers and reptile skins. They dyed the python and the cobra, the water snake and the alligator, into colors that would frighten these jungle denizens. These creatures should be grateful, for nature was never as kind to them as this designer.

Many models are pretty . . . pastel tinted hats loaded with flowers, handbags as pretty as jewelry. For this season just ahead, however, this tailored threesome is appropriate. Folly's cap, gloves and miser's bag of capeskin trimmed with cobra, in red, green, tan or black.

LILLIAN MASCIOLI HAS LOVELY WEDDING

The Sacred Heart Church was the setting for one of the season's loveliest weddings last week when Lillian Mascioli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Mascioli, became the bride of Henry Giallonardo, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Giallonardo. Rev. L. Fontana officiated at the ceremony against a background of summer flowers. Organist was Mrs. J. Mascioli and soloist was Mrs. C. Ciccone, who rendered "Ave Maria" during the signing of the register.

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, was radiant in an exquisite gown of white chiffon velvet trimmed in Chantilly lace, which edged the shoulders of the gown and extended in a panel down the front of the bouffant skirt, and also trimmed the long sleeves of the gown. Her white net veil cascaded to the floor from a Juliet headdress of white chiffon velvet. She carried a prayer book, gift of Father Fontana, which was adorned with white satin streamers and orange blossoms worn by her mother on her wedding day. Maid of honor was Teresa DeTullo, gowned in emerald green chiffon velvet fashioned with fitted bodice, and tiered skirt. Her headdress was a matching green hood lined with yellow, and she wore green mittens. She carried a muff adorned with yellow roses. Flowers girls were Jolee Mascioli, cousin of the bride, and Lillian Carnovale, godchild of the bride. The former was frocked in a ballerina dress of sapphire blue chiffon velvet with short ruffled skirt, fitted bodice and cap sleeves. She wore a matching bow in her hair and carried a muff trimmed with sweetpeas. Lillian was similarly frocked in a ballerina dress in bluish pink, with matching bow and a muff trimmed with sweetpeas. Groomsman was Andy DeMarco, and ushers were Robert Mascioli, and Norman Mascioli. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was held at the Empire Hotel, the bride's mother receiving in maroon chiffon velvet with black accessories and a corsage of yellow and red roses. Later, the couple left for a wedding trip to Lake Placid, New York, the bride choosing a white wool dress, black coat and accessories for travelling.

Upon their return they will reside in Timmins. Gifts to attendants included prayer beads to the flower girls, a glamor pin to the maid of honor, wallets to the ushers and a pen and pencil set to the groomsman.
