Rev. R. A. Chidwick, rector of St. Matthew's Anglican Church would greatly appreciate the assistance of any persons knowing of a member of the parish who might desire private communion at Easter.

To-day all parishioners of St. Matthew's Anglican Church are reminded that the annual meeting of the Calendar Year Building Plan will be held in the church hall.

A lovely gesture... is the placing of memorial flowers on God's altars in memory of those we hold dear and who have just gone on ahead.

The principals in the love story we are going to tell you about is one William Foster, 32 year old ex-corporal of the British Army, now in Capetown and Miss Lucy Fisher, 26 year old city shop assistant.

Unfortunately for Bill the young woman left the hotel shortly afterwards but not being of faint heart he wrote several letters to her, gave them to the hotel manager, the waiters and other members of the staff.

Fun, laughter and gaiety was the order of the day at Broadway Theatre, Saturday, when hundreds of children members of the Movie Club Broadcast for Bucovetsky's gathered for their weekly jamboree.

Sing song time, with all the young folks lustily joining in, found Bob Harvey warming up on the stage. Mrs. Wilkins accompanied at the piano for both solos and chorus.

We thoroughly enjoyed the jamboree, we loved the ringing voices of the children as they spontaneously took part in the program and loads of fun was the doughnut game.

A large aeroplane was given Rossie Clausi, and Phillip Sinardi won a pistol; these were donated by Bucovetsky's Limited.

All taking part performed splendidly but we make a deep bow to little four-year-old Gerry Drouin who to our way of thinking was the star of the show.

After the show, with fitting ceremony, we were presented with a badge, whereby we became a member of the Famous Players Movie Club.

Bob Harvey, whom everyone agrees is "doing a wonderful job" of that morning program in as much as it provides excellent entertainment for hundreds of children, fosters talent, keeps them off the street and also gives mother - who is always very busy on Saturday mornings - a chance to do her work without interruption.

A courtship that blossomed in war time will culminate in a peace time marriage when Minnie Sears becomes the bride of Abraham Charles Uprichard.

Minnie is a product of Timmins, attended school here. Her fiancé hails from Duntroon, Ontario, but has spent considerable time in the Porcupine.

NEWS ABOUT C.G.I.T. ... that very-much-alive church organization which is claiming vigorous interest from teen-age girls. We thought you would be interested in the various Canadian Girls in Training activities that are current in the Porcupine Camp.

At MacKay Presbyterian Church, leadership is provided by Mrs. George Aitken, and Mrs. Bea Sydor. The Presbyterian girls are engaged in a project that will provide needed supplies for the children in a hospital and a school in India, mounted pictures, children's quilts, face cloths and picture books, will go in their bales to Indore. At South Porcupine, Mrs. John Bawtinheimer and Miss Flora Read give leadership to a group of girls who are planning and making preparations for a party at which they will entertain their friends of the Women's Missionary Society.

Of course, all C.G.I.T. girls and their parents and friends are interested in the new Waskesiu Camp that is in process of achievement... at the beautiful wooded spot of Ice Chest Lake, where a new dining and recreation pavilion is soon to be erected.

Saturday mornings if one would look in on Central School rink they would find girls from the third and fourth Timmins Guides playing hard at broomball. Competition is unusually keen and so far each company has won one and lost one.

The Skating Club colors of blue and gold formed an attractive decorative scheme on Sunday evening when members gathered to enjoy the buffet dinner and musicale and dance which followed, with music supplied by Lieut. Lomas and his band.

Gardenias to Mrs. H. Cybulski for arranging such an enjoyable event. Of much interest to members was the announcement made by Dan Keeley, vice president of the Club, to the effect that a bridge party will be held in the Lounge Room to-morrow night at 8.15 p.m.

Congratulations and a bouquet of orchids to Mrs. A. Booker, war work convener of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, who has completed seven years of splendid service in that capacity.

And a corsage of roses to Mrs. Ron Taylor whom we hear turned into the I.O.D.E. work rooms last week about 14 beautifully hand knitted articles which included lovely patterned sweaters in blue and pink, little socks, dresses and mitts and several other useful articles of children's wear.

The W. M. S. of First United Church are holding a silver tea in the parish hall to which all parishioners and friends are invited. The day... Saturday March 1, the time... 3 until 5 and something which should prove highly interesting to all women will be the sale of hand work.

Notes on the fashion show... Sweet as daffodils and bearing a promise of spring were the refreshing flower hats shown. They seemed to be created especially to drive February from your heart.

The suits... without stretching the sober truth one scrap were wonderful. There was a suit for every possible taste in style, line color and material... there were gabardines, hounds tooth check, and imported tweed.

New and so much wanted were the dresses... flattering styles with the newest touches such as lovely necklines accented with a glint of gold, a drape, a flower, of such details are these dresses made distinctive, elegant flattering; also you can get that wonderfully groomed effect in a red corduroy or a daintily young bolero dress with taffeta front and a bow perhaps.

A thing of beauty is a joy forever... so raved Keats when he wrote those words that have lived through the years and a thing of beauty was the bridal gown worn by Nadine Smith. It was fashioned of white brocaded faille with bustle back, a moulded basque, angelic neckline and sheath tight sleeves.

Beautiful also were the evening gowns, and the debutante frock of white, complete with white ostrich plume and a second one of ice blue satin and net with blue plume.

To our good friends of many years standing, Mrs. A. Fiendel Mrs. F. Dwyer, Rolly Richer and Jack Chatson, goes our three fold wish for a rapid and complete recovery. The first three are patients in St. Mary's Hospital and the fourth is recuperating at his home in Schumacher after spending a considerable period in St. Mary's.

Lovers of music in the Porcupine are due for a rare treat when lovely Mary Morrison and Yvonne Guiguet will appear in a joint recital here. The recital is sponsored by the Porcupine Registered Music Teachers Association and is scheduled for Tuesday March 18, at the McIntyre Gymnasium.

Just a little reminder that the annual meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses will be held in the Council Chambers of the Municipal Building on March 12th. All organizations and citizens interested in the splendid work accomplished during the year by this very worthy order are urged to attend.
