Society Secure, And Happy When Individual Is Free

M. E. Williams, of the Hollinger, was guest speaker at the Easter Monday luncheon of the Timmins Kiwanis Club at the Empire Hotel.

He was introduced by Kiwanian A. G. Irving, chairman of the Business Affairs, Business Standards and Support of Churches committee, this committee having charge of the meeting.

"Only when the freedom of the individual is maintained can society be secure and happy," said the speaker. "Organized religion," he added, "is one form of association whereby men gather together to express their higher aspirations and beliefs."

Considering men and women as individuals and as organized groups, and in the larger associations, the speaker pointed out that the basic principles for the larger associations are the same as for the smaller groups. Just as there were differences between individuals, so there would be differences in the larger groups.

The larger the organization, the more difficulty there would be. The quality of people as individuals determined the standard of peace and security of the association. "Only in truly democratic countries can man have the 'good state,'" said the speaker.

Special reference was made to the disintegrating effect of arbitrary leadership. "Over a period of time," the speaker said, "leaders neglect to keep themselves in touch with the individuals. They forget the thousands they are leading. The result is that the leaders are not followed, and the followers are not led. In the national sphere, this leads to civil war and rebellion. In other cases it leads to confusion and other ill-effects. Some unions to-day are split in factions. Business associations may be similarly divided. This is something with which we are all concerned."

One of the main thoughts of his address, Mr. Williams clinched by a quotation from the Readers' Digest: "A country is not made by the number of square miles that it contains, but by the number of square people that it contains."

In closing his address, Mr. Williams quoted selections from "The Blue Flower," a book by Henry Van Dyke. The story, told in parable form, related to the loss of water supply by an ancient village. Some were persecuted and punished for suggesting that faulty marble lining the wells was to blame. Alterations and incantations alike would not remedy the situation. Eventually, the people were persuaded that persecution would not avail, but that for remedy they must turn their efforts and their appeal to "The Source."

Kiwanian R. P. Kinkel expressed the thanks of the club for the thoughtful and timely address, pointing out that it provided much food for consideration and inspiration for all.

President O. R. Kennie added his personal words of thanks to Mr. Williams for his earnest address.

Community singing for the day was led by Kiwanian F. A. Woodbury, with Secretary W. H. Wilson at the piano. The table winning the weekly prize had to give a quartette, while another table with an extra member at it, was penalized by having to join the quartette, thus making a nice little choir for one of the community songs.

On behalf of the committee, Kiwanian Bob Harvey announced that returns from the Easter Seals campaign for Crippled Children had now reached $1,500, and more subscriptions were coming in. The announcement brought a round of applause.

President O. R. Kennie referred to the regret by all members of the club at the fact that Kiwanian Arch. Gillies had to return to the hospital. Sincere hopes were expressed for his early and complete recovery.

F. A. Woodbury, chairman of the Attendance committee, pointed with pride to the record of South Porcupine Club in attaining over 90 percent attendance, with a large percentage of its members having perfect attendance.

Past President W. O. Langdon expressed regret at the passing of A. W. Lang, one of the first members of the Timmins Club, and an ardent and helpful Kiwanian for many years.

Kiwanian A. W. Pickering was appointed to look after the club's part in the Inter-club bonspiel on April 23rd and 24th. A large number present signified their intention to compete in this event.

The only guest for the day was the guest speaker, M. E. Williams, of the Lions Club.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
Camp Kapskasing

It is said that this week all the interned aliens at Kingston will be transferred from that southern town to Kapskasing Internment Camp on the National Transcontinental Railway. There will be about a thousand men so transferred. Since the establishment of Camp Kapskasing as a prison camp for aliens, there has not been a genuine "escape". One reason for this is that there is no place to which escape can be made.

A company of the Queen's Own has been stationed at Camp Kapskasing since its establishment. They have been without leave from twelve to fifteen months but many have built homes and their families up. However, with the temperature reaching seventy degrees below zero their position is not an enviable one.

Increased Mines Tax Revenue

The trip of Mayor J. P. McLaughlin and Clerk-Treasurer H. E. Montgomery to Toronto proved a profitable one. Timmins will be allowed a 1½ percent tax rate on mines instead of the present 1 percent income tax. This will mean an approximate increase of $10,000 to $11,000. Hitherto, Cobalt had been the only municipality permitted to charge mines as high as 1½ percent.

It Takes More Than Three Men To Beat Up Constable Sally

At about 2:30 Monday Morning Constable Sally was accosted by three hasty Italians on the street. After the big fellow, who turned out to be a boxer, had jostled Constable Sally, the three set upon him. The Constable, however, without using either his club or revolver, soon had the big fellow on his back, and with the aid of a sturdy citizen who happened along, soon had two of them in the local jail, after one had run off. Chief Constable and Constable Sally had another tussle with them in the jail but soon had them lodged in cells.

Enough Ore At Dome Lake

Mr. Harry Darling, manager of the Dome Lake Mining and Milling Co., said that Dome Lake and several mines in the district still had sufficient ore to keep running and there was no intention of the Dome Lake mill being sold to the West Dome.

Nine More Recruits

Recruiting in the Porcupine Platoon of the Fourth Forestry Draft is proceeding well in the district with 25 enlisting in ten days. Nine more recruits joined yesterday. They are: Charles Redford, Ernest Bouget, Robt. Mounsell, John Macdonald, Matthew Munn, Enele Canel, Joseph Chevier, Cleistie St. J. J. J. Hughes.

Kirkland Lake Progressing

Since the advent of electric power to the district Kirkland Lake is enjoying a small boom as a mining camp. A number of mines at Kirkland Lake seem to be shaping up to get into the list of real producers before a very long time. The road to Kirkland Lake is to be rock-graded for heavy traffic.

Porcupine Crown

Improvements and additions to the equipment have made possible more economical development below the 500 foot level of the Porcupine Crown. It is said diamond drilling will be carried down to 2,000 feet, the deepest testing yet made in the Porcupine Camp.

The Somme Battle

"We could have broken through at the Somme if we had wanted to," Capt. Tom Magladery, M. P. P., back on sick leave at Sudbury, "It wasn't the British plan to break through," he continued, "the idea being to send back as many German casualties as possible. Our men were so directed as to get the Germans massed, and then we used the artillery with plentiful abundance." Capt. Magladery is of the opinion that every available man is needed to bring the right kind of victory.

THROUGH THE YEARS

Discovery Of The Hollinger

According to S. R. Clarke, Benny Hollinger started from Halleybury with a grubstake amounting to $35. His backer later sold a half interest in his share for $75. When the property was turned over to Noah Timmins a few months later for $30,000 the staker got $2,500 for his pains, and Benny Hollinger received $165,000. The camp was located along an old portage route of the fur traders from the Mattagami River to Nighthawk Lake.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Proposed Playground

One of the most interesting items at the Kiwanis Club luncheon was the report on the proposed playground on the "cyanide" or "slimes" across from the station. The committee had a plan for treating the ground so as to do away with the dust nuisance. The plans suggested a fine playground at one end for the children; three softball diamonds, one football field and a basketball field.

Crippled Youngster

The Kiwanis also had a report on the boy that was being sent to Toronto to be fitted with suitable artificial limbs. The Kiwanis Club of Timmins are defraying all expenses.

Two pupils of Mr. Birrell Bell, Masters Willie Shub on the violin, and Master Jas. McFadden, on the piano, entertained with excellent music.

Vimy Ridge Banquet

The Vimy Ridge Banquet to be held in the Empire Hotel under the auspices of the Canadian Legion promises to be an outstanding success. Among the speakers are Mayor E. L. Longmore, Rev. Fr. O'Gorman, Rev. Ivan Kennedy, Dr. Harrison, Col. Jesse Wright and Mr. Geo. Cole.

Sink Shaft To 3,000 Feet

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Dome Mines it was decided to reduce the dividend and sink No. 4 shaft to a depth of 3,000 feet. It is now at 2,350 feet, or the 18th level.

Mr. H. P. DePencier, general manager, announced that he estimated the life of the mine at two years unless they struck new veins in the sinking of the new shaft.

President Baehle stated they had taken about a $120,000 loss in connection with the Howey option which consisted mainly of diamond drilling.

$10,000 Damages

Mrs. Dimain of the Dome was awarded $8,000 and her son Earl $2,000 by the jury at Halleybury in her suit for $20,000 against Dalton & Cunningham, South Porcupine, for the death of her husband who was killed last May on the Dome Road. William Dimain was killed while riding his bicycle on the way home from his shift at the Dome Mines. The jury were evidently influenced by the belief that the left-hand headlight on the bus which hit Dimain had plain glass instead of the usual lens.

Banquet For McIntyre Workers

A Banquet was held in the McIntyre Recreation Hall, Schumacher, to observe the sinking of No. 11 McIntyre shaft to 4,150 feet—the deepest shaft in the Porcupine Camp. All the workers who took part in the work of shaft sinking were present.

Light Airplanes For North

Four "Moul" aeroplanes of the fast, light type are being purchased in England by the Provincial Government for use in the Northern Air Patrol. In addition to better fire protection the planes will enable pictures and maps to be made of Northern Ontario.

Rinn Bros. Re-Open

This week Rinn Bros. re-opened in their former premises opposite the Gordon Block, with complete new stock of ladies wear. The store and stocks were sufferers some weeks ago in the fire that wiped out the Meyers and Pierce buildings at the corner of Pine street and Third avenue.

The George Taylor Hardware Limited Silver Jubilee Year was brought to a fitting close on Monday when representatives from all their branches met at New Liskeard for their annual convention. The twenty-fifth anniversary was observed with speeches by the president Mr. W. A. Taylor and Mr. R. S. Taylor and a review of the company's history. Afterwards a banquet at the Grand Union Hotel brought the event to a fitting close.
