Police Travel By Dog Team

The report of two Provincial Officers of their wild trip over hundreds of Miles through the snow by dog team in Northern Ontario's wilds would form the basis of a romantic and thrilling modern story of adventure. The officers referred to, Constable McCurdy of Fort William and Constable Bromley of Sioux Lookout received a report from Hudson, north of the most northern point of the Grand Trunk Pacific, to the effect that the Hudson Bay post had been burglarized. The cash box with $50 and two registered letters containing cheques from the Government for the families of Indians serving at the front were stolen.
