

NEWS & VIEWS OF T.H.&V.S

(By Edgar Roy)

Greetings are in order this week to all University Students who formerly attended T. H. & V. A few of the Grads who were in our shoes not so long ago, and who are now wandering about town to see what is cooking on the front burner (which isn't much after they've been in the city all year) are Bil Carren Jack Burwell, Wilf Roy, Dave Rowe, Hart Drew, Clem Nieman, Ernie Cocklin, Doug Baker, Squib Ormston, Warner Burritt and a number of others whom we've heard are back in town but haven't seen as yet. As for the feminine grads of T. H. & V. we are totally in the dark about their whereabouts at present.

It is very comical to listen to Students during their sojourn in the "prison" as they call it, say that they will never again set foot on T. H. & V. ground after they graduate.

Year after year Graduates return to the large dominating building to reminisce and to talk with the Teachers about "their day" and how they used to do this and that. They return to the school to see if anything has changed and as soon as they realize that very few things have changed they yearn to be back in the school sitting behind that battered desk in which students have carved their initials years ago. Naturally that practice isn't carried on any more because with the new desks you would notice the scratches too easily.

When Students have actually lived in a building for some four or five years that dwelling cannot help but hold some fascination to them. We realize that now as we are about to leave. To the grads we say come up and visit the school. Don't just think about it and wonder about it. You're welcome!

The Students and Staff of T.H.&V. send greetings and salutations to Mr. Doug Carriere who is now on the home stretch. Doug has been in the hospital for quite some time following an accident as the "Gulch" and is now beginning to get up and around. We hope to see you hopping soon, Doug!

It has been quite some time since we have talked about the Student Government and its activities. The time has come when the first Parliament of T. H. & V. like all good things, must come to an end. Parliament will be prorogued shortly and with the prorogation the successful year will end. The Parliament as we have mentioned before was introduced to the Students last Fall. This year has been an experiment. Both the Staff and Students wished to find out if such a system of Government would work in the hands of Students. With the barest necessary guidance the Students have proved they can handle responsibilities. They have proved that they can earn and spend money, earnestly and wisely, for a combined body of people. They have proved that they are quite capable of forming their own laws and that they are able to enforce them.

An example of this is contained in the Dance procedure. Last Fall, at the school Dances, smoking in the lavatory was not unknown. The Student Government adopted a Plan to halt this dangerous habit and since then Students have not attempted to return the practice.

Newcomers are set wise to the standards of the extra-curricular activities, and they help us maintain the newly born system. Naturally we do have our "Committee" who look after those who neglect to conform with the Student Laws, but we are glad to say that this Committee has not had to exercise its power very often. We really do believe that once you give a person or a body responsibility he will live up to the set standards.

That is what the Students have accomplished this year. The ice is broken. From now on the Students who assume the Seats in the T. H. & V. Student Government will need only to keep up the good work. If they carry on as the Members have this year they cannot go wrong.

That's all for now. Cheers from T. H. & V.

Jail, Fine and 7 Days Hard Labour

South Porcupine: In Tisdale Police Court, Paul Fournier, of Timmins, was called to answer two charges, and to each of them he pleaded "Not Guilty." The first — of being drunk in charge of a car — and the second of dangerous driving. In his testimony Sergeant Douglas of the Tisdale Police Force stated that on May 9th, Fournier's car was parked outside a hotel in Schumacher. He was "racing the engine" with the emergency brakes full on, and the noise could be heard two or three blocks away. When he, the Sergeant, investigated, he considered the driver intoxicated. His breath smelt strongly of liquor, and he staggered when walking.

When called to the stand, Fournier admitted having had beer, but only four bottles, and that he was "tired" after a long, hard, working day. His defence counsel Gregory Evans, argued that there was not sufficient evidence to convict his client. "One bottle of beer can make a man smell of liquor, as well as a number of bottles, my client was not beligerent and went quietly with the police to the station when requested. For the prosecution, K.C. said "racing a motor and acting Crown Attorney A. V. Waters, attracting attention thereby, was inconsistent with a sober motorist, and that Constable Shaver had to shake the driver to awaken him.

The acting Magistrate, S. Platus K.C., in summing up said that Fournier's actions were consistent with those of an intoxicated man, and sentenced him to seven days with hard labour. The second charge, that of dangerous driving, involved the defendant in an accident in which Mr. Ed. Welt of Schumacher received injuries which knocked him unconscious, and Dr. Siles testified to the treatment the complainant received in St. Mary's Hospital, Timmins.

On May 9th, Mr. Welt had been driven home by Mr. Fitzpatrick. When the car stopped, Welt and another passenger alighted from the Well here we are again. There isn't very much to report in this issue. Last Friday nights parade was used entirely, for preparation for inspection.

Tuesday nights parade started, with an inspection of the ships company by C.O. Hitch. The band, first aid class, color guard, and seamanship, were all busy going through inspection routine. The centre of our boathouses has been found near McChesney's Mill. The men have it chained to a log boom.

Mr. Barnes was busy getting reports ready for Lieut. Commander King. After the inspection we are going to organize a softball team. So Beware! Attention:— Inspection changed to Saturday 7.00 p.m.

'Who said Beaver are Timid' asks Engineer

The Tisdale Township Engineer, had the following story to tell, which some might describe as just "Andy Clark stuff." It seems that on Friday morning one of the township trucks, driven by Rex Ferguson, was proceeding to the "Springs" in Shaw township. They had travelled about a mile, when they saw two large beaver in the road. They stopped the truck, and the animals viciously attacked the vehicle, chewing on the tires.

Another member of the party, Stewart Reid, got out of the truck to chase them off, but they turned on him, and he made a hurried retreat back into the vehicle.

A beaver, as a rule, is a timid creature, rarely allowing itself to be seen, even near its home, and the men were surprised by their most unusual actions.

Mr. Anderson, Township Engineer, who told this story, attributes the attack to the fact that the beaver must have been flooded out of their house, and in consequence were ready to turn on anything that might have been the cause of breaking up their happy home.

No one whom the "Advance" correspondent was able to contact, had ever heard the Beaver termed as vicious, but would like to hear from any of the readers who may have had a similar experience in the past.

right hand side of the car, and he was immediately struck by Fournier's car, which wedged him between both vehicles and was rendered unconscious.

Complicated statements as to the side of the road in which the defendant's car had been driven, and also regarding Fournier's failure to try to avoid an accident by stopping.

Gregory Evans, in his defence, argued that Welt should not have left the car on the right hand side. The magistrate, however, found Fournier guilty, impounded his car for three months, and suspended his drivers' license for one year, plus a fine of one hundred dollars and costs, which was paid into court.
