SOUTH PORCUPINE
High School Holds
First Formal Dance

The "First Annual" Dance sponsored by the Students Council of South Porcupine High School was held on Friday evening last and was a most outstanding affair and success. Some seventy couples (artificially perfect) danced to the music of Ken Tomkinson's Orchestra. They were joined occasionally by the teachers who were easily distinguishable, as they were not "formal".

The idea of "going formal" originated with the students themselves, and they will doubtless remember this dance, when succeeding ones have long been forgotten.

ner was held at the bride's home for the bridal party.

Later, numbers of friends attended a reception at the Airport Hotel, where the bride's mother received the guests in a queen's blue crepe ensemble with hat to match and corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Kosick mother of the groom wore a figured grey jersey gown with black accessories, and a corsage of mauve sweet peas.

Student Parliament Prorogued

The final session of the T. H. & V. Student Parliament was held on June 6th in the school Auditorium. Following the reading and acceptance of the minutes of the last Session the Prime Minister, Ken Langdon, gave a brief report to the Members. He stated that all activities had been wound up and, except for the Field Day, extra-curricular events were now closed for this semester. The Governor-General's assistant made it known that the Government's books would be audited at a later date due to a few outstanding bills and accounts which have yet to be cleared up.

The Leader of the Opposition was called on to give his remarks. He stated very briefly his congratulations to the Prime Minister and his Cabinet on carrying through the first phase of a new system of Government. He also expressed his hopes that the future Members of the school Parliament would carry on as well as their predecessors had done.

The Prime Minister then gave a brief but complete summary of the achievements of the new Student Government. He offered his thanks to the Members of the Teaching Staff who had been so helpful during the year and had given their assistance whenever they had been called on. Mr. Rose, as the Governor-General, had been more than co-operative with the Government and the P.M. offered special thanks to the Principal, Mr. H. J. Runnalls, Mr. Brumpton, Mr. Fennel, and Miss Carthy were thanked for their help and advice. Appreciation was expressed to all members of the Staff who had not been mentioned but who had, at some time or other, aided the Students. And last but not least the Students, especially the Members of Parliament, were thanked for their support without which the Parliament could not have functioned.

The Governor-General, Mr. A. Rose then entered the "Commons" and delivered his brief Speech from the Throne. "Your Prime Minister has given to me a summary of the Motions passed and not vetoed during the year. You have my assent to these motions." Mr. Rose then went on to say that even though all of the Students had not shown a great interest in the Student Government at all times the Members should not be discouraged. "Carry on whether everyone is there or not. You will find when you set out in life that much the same situation exists there." The next few words came very emphatically and wholeheartedly. "I would like to congratulate all those Members present on the work which they have done this year." The dramatic ending to the First Parliament of the Timmins High and Vocational Schools came when Governor-General said, "I now prorogue this Parliament." Following this statement the Governor-General and the Speaker left the House and the Session came to a close.

Exam Time Arrives Year Draws To Close

As you read this column today eleven hundred Students are preparing to write the next set of Exams. For the entire school with the exception of the Upper School, the year is over. Now they must put down in pen and ink what they have learned and studied for the past nine months. The dramatic ending to the First Parliament of the Timmins High and Vocational Schools came when Governor-General said, "I now prorogue this Parliament." Following this statement the Governor-General and the Speaker left the House and the Session came to a close.

Last Column of Year

Thus with the Student Government's activities drawn to a close and the final scholastic day completed, this column also fades into the dark corner until next Fall. For the past few months we have attempted to bring to you, both Parents and Students, the News and Views of our School. We have attempted to familiarize you with our School and with the manner in which the Students manage their extra-curricular activities. We sincerely trust that we have succeeded in doing just that. Before we check off we would like to offer our sincerest thanks to Mr. Merton Lake, the Editor, and Staff of the Porcupine Advance. They have all been of great help to the writer of this column and without their advice and willingness to help us along we couldn't have done what we set out to do.

Thanks also go to Don McPhail and Albert Fisher who have aided the writer a number of times. And thanks to all of the Students for their co-operation.

TO ALL OF YOU — Parents, Teachers, Students and Friends — it's Good Luck, Good Holiday's, and CHEERS!
