When'er I see the flowers grow,
My heart rejoices for I know,
That sometime, somehow, somewhere
There is a God that answers prayer.

Whenever I see pansies nod
Purple and yellow amid the sod,
Something within me deep inside
Tell me too good things abide.

Whenever roses breathe a prayer
Upon a zephyr lifted air,
My faith in nice things is renewed
And I am filled with gratitude.

All these lovely things I know
When'er I see the flowers grow.

Lillian O'Donnell.

A lovely wedding scheduled for August 30th is that of charming Jean McAuley Allan, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Allan of Toronto to Thomas Charles Wilkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilkins, 9 Floral Park Ave., Timmins. The wedding will take place in the Sherbourne St. United Church at 4 p.m. Following a reception will be held at the Co-operative Hall, 846 Pape avenue.

Speaking of weddings we learned day before yesterday that Barbara Ann Scott, World Figure Skating Champion is to be one of the six bridesmaids at the wedding of Betty Caldwell of Prescott and Jimmie Walker of Toronto. It will take place in St. Peter's Anglican Church, Prescott on October 11th. "Ever since I was little I wanted to be a flower girl at someone's wedding but I was never asked. Barbara Ann told us, with a wistful air, however I'm glad someone's asked me to be a bridesmaid, it's my first experience as such and I'm really thrilled, you see, said the lovely blonde queen of the silver blades. Betty is a great friend of mine, she accompanied mother and I to Europe, next to mother, she was the greatest moral supporter I ever had".

Mrs. Harry Webster of Windsor Ontario, announces the forthcoming marriage of her daughter Eleanor to Allan H. Campbell, son of Mrs. John Campbell and the late Mr. Campbell of Nova Scotia. The wedding will take place on Monday, September first at the Church of the Nativity in Timmins. Eleanor has been in charge of the local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses here for the past four years and Allan has been a well known resident of Timmins for the past fourteen years.

Mrs. W. P. Willson, Riverside Pavilion entertained members of the Women's Institute at a delightfully arranged picnic yesterday afternoon on the spacious lawn of her home located on the banks of the Mattagami River. A most pleasant afternoon was spent with pictures being taken, games played and delicious refreshments served.

The meaning of true rest . . . Rest comes from adaption to work, not avoidance of it. The mountains are at rest in their eternal labors. The sea has deep fathoms of motionless calm. The tempest is but a passing breath of the silent firmament. And man, poised and balanced by his conscious mind in the midst of a world of action, can find his rest in his work in harmony with the throbbing, pulsing life of nature in tireless and eternal progress.

Mary Cunik, pay roll clerk on the Municipal Staff for the last four years was the most surprised girl on Friday evening when her fellow employees dropped in to wish her "good luck" and "bon voyage" before she left for Toronto where she has accepted a position. Guests spent a most enjoyable evening socially and later all enjoyed delicious refreshments and a lunch. During the evening Mary was presented with a handsome set of travelling bags carrying with it the best wishes of all. Those attending were Mayor Emile J. Brunette, Mr. and Mrs. Cunik, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Salomaa, J. D. McLean, Johnny Van Rassel, Ernie Martin, Vita Linder, Ida Bouchard, Jean Marshall, Ossie Williams, Margo Lalonde, Gaston Grandbois, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelman, George Lamarche, Yvonne Bazinet, Bessie Cunik, Keith Hoffman, Helen Synos and Mabel Thrasher.

The common senses . . . This is the season for them . . . the time to see, hear, smell and taste, the high noon of summer when, as the poet wrote, "one day in the country is worth a month in town". The woods around the Porcupine Camp these days are exciting and the beaches have their special attraction, but for fine sharpening of the common senses and a complete restoration of the whole soul, I'll take a few square miles of pleasant countryside any day.

It takes some getting used to, this smiting vividness of color, this unhibited openness of scheme. The towns view chopped at the edges by roofs and chimneys and poles and wires, has not prepared us for sky unlimited, for this high blue dome with its shifting puffs of white. We gain a new appreciation of the landscaper artist's difficulty in the matter of selection and tonal arrangement; if he followed the details as recorded on our retina, he would or so it would seem at any other time of year but this moment, be lying. No greens of grain or pasturelands could gather such intensity, no careless slope of daisies could have this white glacier beauty. No mullains could rise with such dramatic grace on exactly the right crest with an uninterrupted heaven behind it. No, indeed, the artist must be cautious with his facts and our credulities, we, on the other hand, can enjoy the full experience without restraint.

To walk down a grass-grown side road is to stir old memories and accumulate some new ones. What's the vagrant winey scent? Raspberry of course, overripe, dark red, hidden among the tangle of canes along the stump fence. Round the next curve there is something else again, an old clearing with the long ago hopes and plans of some forgotten pioneers clearly evident in the yellow briar rose bent with bloom, in the tough remnants of long grass. However there is a flash of black and white among the branches and a bright bird sings cheerily forth. And the slight movement over in the field to the right — yes, it's the snub head of a groundhog gravely appraising us before he takes to the underground. We are the observed as well as the observing, quick eyes and sensitive noses have been taking our measure all along the way.

The little hills tumble and billow, cutting a rough and ready scallop against the clear blue, and as the road dips once more there is a new small world of activity close at hand, a swale from which rise red winged blackbirds gaining their altitude but slowly, the better to show off. The frogs are quiet now . . . but with the dusk the chorus will begin, in perfect pulsing rhythm as if under a conductor's baton, and all agreed on a comfortable midregister pitch. But this is their hour of siesta in the black ooze among the rushes and the wild callas and the stiff shiny arrowheads.

Worth a month in town? I think so, and more also if you stop to reflect that this refreshment of eye and ear is an experience open to all, and that as we store up the uncomplicated pleasure of it, we are merely participating in something that may, in another century or two become a vital Canadiana memory.
