Today

Today is ours--let's live it.
And love is strong--let's give it.
A song can help--let's sing it.
And Peace is dear--let's bring it.

The past is gone--don't rue it.
Our work is here--let's do it.
The world is wrong--let's right it.
If evil comes--let's fight it.

The road is rough--let's clear it.
The future vast--don't fear it.
Is faith asleep--let's wake it.
Today is free--let's take it.

No doubt most of you are looking around early for your Christmas gift shopping. Some of the things you buy will be bought as necessities, but then again its the little luxuries that bolster the spirit and add a touch of glamor to this sometimes prosaic business of living and what better gift in the way of luxury can be given than writing paper. Such a gift adds loveliness to your letters. Lovely sentiments on such papers as Cameo Vellum, Green Bow, Compose, in pastel blue and white with deckle edge with square flap envelope. Swagger, in pastel shades of green, grey, blue and white with deckle edge and square flap envelope. Barber Ellis kid finish in white, blue and grey. And for the man in the family there is Glenlake "Sir" in the popular two fold style. There are handsome cedar chests, beautifully grained and filled with snowy white paper. All these adds smartness and style and again you can have your very own name or the name of your friends printed on the paper of your choice at a very nominal fee Your local Porcupine Advance office will be glad to show you these fine selections so do drop around and see them.

Nothing like a nice note from old friends especially if they are as far away as old England. And we had one from Madge Austin Saunders whom her many friends in the North think and speak about with great pleasure. Madge, who in the past made one and sundry figure skating conscious and who was instrumental in putting the local club on the map informs us that she has been appointed treasurer of the Imperial Professional Skating Association which "gives her just sufficient work to keep her interested in skating."

And Arthur Filmer, a colorful prospector, and local resident, well known in mining circles throughout this country informs us that his little nephew of whom he is exceedingly proud plays a part in the show "Life With Father" that is enjoying a considerable run in Toronto and New York. The little fellow's name is Derek Scott and is the youngest member of the cast being all off two and a half years old. No doubt many persons will remember Derek's elder brother Douglas Scott who was often seen in the movies with Shirley Temple and Freddie Bartholemew. Douglas is now with the American Army stationed in Tokyo but his little brother is carrying on the old tradition of acting which plays such a prominent part in the Scott family.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kuly of Toronto who were married recently in the Queen City. Mrs. Kuly is the former Sally Zepik of Toronto and Bill is well known locally. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kuly, Bill was born and raised in Schumacher. The young couple are residents of Toronto where Bill is conducting a very successful business for himself.

The Rt. Rev. R.J. Renison, M.A., D.D., LL.D. Lord Bishop of Moosonee will dedicate the newly remodelled and enlarged St. Matthew's Church on Sunday the thirtieth of November at 11 o'clock. The most Rev. C.A. Seager, M.A., D.D., LL.D., Archbishop of Huron and Metropolitan of the Ecclesiastical Province of Ontario, will deliver the sermon. The evening service at seven o'clock will be devoted to the dedication of the several memorials which have been erected and placed in the church.

During his stay in the Porcupine, Archbishop Seagar, Toronto, Metropolitan of Ontario, will be the guest of Rt. Rev. R. J. Renison, Bishop of Moosonee and Mrs. Renison at their home, Bishopstope.

An annual event, much anticipated by district residents will be the Princess Alice Club Dance. The gala affair which promises to be the "hit of the season" will be held at Riverside Pavilion, on December 5th. Henry Kelneck and his orchestra will be in attendance.

And now for a little chit-chat--Department of our wildest daydreams; Have any of you folks seen those luscious mutation mink called Koh-in-noor? They're almost pure white with soft black markings down their precious little backs--sort of the same idea as silver fox, only in reverse. They're still very scarce and unusual, especially here in Canada. So will someone please put a small word in to one Mr. Santa Claus about--a coat--a jacket--or even a weeny scarf for us? Well we sure can dream, can't we?

And that brings up the subject of that great approaching day, Christmas. Remember that last year you promised yourself that this year you would get ready ahead of time and miss all the frantic rushing around for gifts and cards the middle of December? After all, you don't enjoy being trampled by crowds so get going, girl, get going.

And here are a few wee ideas about wrapping those Christmas gifts, after you've lugged them home. Use your imagination this year--do something different than the conventional red-tissue-and-green-ribbon. The wallpaper store near you will likely have pretty pieces left that you can buy for a song--alright, for very little money if the man doesn't like songs. Wrap your gifts in this gay paper--fasten 'em with clear color-less Scotch tape--and decorate them with a cluster of holly in one corner. Unusual and very attractive--that's the parcel. Smart and complimented--that's you.

SHORTHAND MUSIC... At music class in session at St. Mary's Hall, school for girls at Burlington, N. J. They learn music by tapping bottles filled with various levels with water. Accompanied by the piano, these youngsters learn to tap the bottles. Each bottle carries the name of the note of the scale.

Many a bridesmaid becomes a bride, bouquet, being in that lady's good contrary to the glib phrase which says "often a bridesmaid but never a wedding bride" . . . due to two fortuitous, vocational opportunities. One: She always has a pretty dress. Two: She has the best chance of catching the bride's

Woman's Ass. Hold Successful Afternoon Tea

Friendly, warm and cheery with pine boughs, cones and a miniature silvered Christmas tree glistening on the fireplace was the home of Mrs. S. A. Caldwell, 16 Hemlock Street, yesterday afternoon when members of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Matthew's Anglican Church held their annual highly successful afternoon tea and bake sale of fancy work and baking.

Mrs. R. J. Renison, honorary president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Moosonee and Mrs. W. L. Hogarth, president of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Matthew's warmly greeted the many guests who attend from throughout the district.

From the large dining table beautifully laid with lace cloth, green and red candles in gleaming branch candleabra, tea was poured by Mrs. H. J. Scavien, Mrs. W. O. Langdon, Mrs. C. Taylor and Mrs. S. A. Caldwell.

The small tables placed cosily around the room were most attractive with white luncheon cloths, a single red candle in a silver holder and decorated pine cones. Serving the guests were Mrs. R. Chidwick, Mrs. John Knox, Mrs. John Walker and Mrs. MacKenzie Keith.

The well laden bake table featuring many delicacies was in charge of Mrs. N. E. Reynolds and Mrs. Albert Cain.

Mrs. J. A. Price was in charge of the candy booth and the work table which featured many lovely articles was under the convenship of Mrs. A. Booker, Mrs. W. S. Ackroyd and Mrs. Gordon Brown.

Mrs. Rymer acted as treasurer for the afternoon.

Twixter's Make Final Plans At Home Mrs. T.E. Pritchard For Forthcoming Bazaar

Mrs. T. E. Pritchard, 54 Tamarack street, was hostess during the weekend to members of the Twixters Club, at a combined work and business meeting.

Final plans for the holding of the annual bazaar which will be held in the hall of St. Matthew's Anglican Church on December 5th, were completed.

The affair which promises to be a highly interesting event will be held in the evening and will feature an interesting program in addition to having many lovely and serviceable handmade articles such as knitted socks, gloves, scarves, sweaters, aprons and novelties of every description for sale.

There will also be homemade candy and a host of other delicacies to please the exacting hostess.

After spending several hours busily knitting, sewing and crocheting the meeting adjourned and Mrs. Pritchard served a delicious lunch.
