LOVELY THINGS

This world holds so much of lovely things--
Such as butterflies with silver wings,
The whispering of pine trees tall,
The gleaming of a waterfall,
Birds that thrill a happy song,
Blossoms where the bright bees throng.

Stars that calmly shine at night,
A sea gull taking off in flight,
The beauty of the setting sun,
The miracle of life begun,
Green things growing from the sod--
All such loveliness speak of God.

Lillian O'Donnell.

Glimpsed some lovely dresses at the dance sponsored by the Order of the Eastern Star held in the Masonic Hall during the weekend. For those "shining hours" Mrs. Jack Easton wore a gown of love-in-the-mist-blue trimmed with lace. Mrs. Bill Shields in blue crepe with overskirt, a lovely pink rose nestling on the left shoulder and long pink gloves. Miss Geraldine Turcotte in white jersey, the bodice braid trimmed and long gloves of chinese red. Mrs. Jack Lake in ashes of roses pink taffeta the swirling skirt styled with panniered sides, and an old fashioned nosegay of blue and rose flowers with matching velvet streamers at left hipline. Mrs. Ron Taylor in printed crepe jersey with accordin pleated skirt and long gloves of deep purple. Mrs. Jen Leng Cameron in a dress featuring the "new look" fashioned of black crepe with overskirt banded with grosgrain taffeta. Mrs. Lou Hudson in black crepe with shoulder straps studded with gleaming multi-colored sequins and necklace of rhinestones and matching earrings. Mrs. H. O'Keefe in black and gold striped taffeta, long black gloves and a beautiful black onyx pendant on long gold chain.

Noticed at the Canadian Travellers Association dance held in the banquet hall of the Grand Hotel. Mrs. Jules Morris in black crepe with peplum of shimmering black satin and a strand of pearls at the neckline. Mrs. Len Fowler in turquoise blue crepe with earrings of a deeper blue. Mrs. Albert Lepic in beige with brown bib, Mrs. Emile Brunette in a two piece dress of red crepe and white polka dots and pearls. Miss Geraldine Lefleur in wine crepe, Mrs. Beaton in a black crepe ballerina dress with clips at the square cut neckline and ballet slippers. Mrs. Sherwood in cool forest green crepe with matching sling pumps.

A night of gaiety is promised all those who plan on attending the Mardi Gras dance to be held tomorrow night at Riverside Pavilion. Sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, this is the first dance of its kind to be held in the district. As an added attraction handsome prizes will be awarded the winners of the best costumes.

And another gala event is the Mardi Gras dance to be held by members of the Moneta Recreation Club on Tuesday evening at McIntyre Arena. Members are now busily engaged on the making of huge masks and other decorations with which to decorate the hall. As a delightful prelude to the dance members are holding a parade coupled with a program of sports to be held in the ball park near the Press building on Saturday evening.

Then on the 13 of this month (remember the date, please do) members of the Ski Club will hold their annual dance. Not only will members of the local club be there but little old Dan Cupid complete with skis and poles and his little bow and arrow slung over his back will be present. There will also be other appropriate decorations of which Ruben Peterson will be in charge.

And Irish eyes shure will smile, so will many others, especially when they know that the local Lion's Club are planning a gala St. Patrick's night dance for their benefit. It will be held at Riverside Pavilion, will be cabaret style and music will be provided by Henry Kelneck and his orchestra.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Mann, 414 Maple street S., was the setting for a delightfully arranged surprise party on Sunday evening. When members of the local branch of the Singer Sewing Machine Company gathered to bid au revoir and extended best-wishes to Mr. Mann who has left for North Bay where he has been transferred.
