Letter On Oregon Floods

Mrs. N. McLaughlin of Matheson who is visiting her daughter and son-in-law who is a Baptist Minister in Portland, Oregon, U.S.A. in the flood area has written to her folks in Matheson advising them that they were safe. This letter is dated June 1st, at 2 p.m. and reads in part as follows: "We are in the South East of the city and are up quite high. The flood is the worst in history and we have the news on continually as reports are coming in all the time, poor souls, great big apartment houses are floating by the dozens. Our Choir director or just came to the door now, he has been banking sand bags all night and all day yesterday. We sure feel upset at the news he brought. They do not know how many lives have been lost and it is too early to give out a figure as the people nearby would be panicky. He told us that 1300 have been recovered so far. The district that was worst hit was Vanport and they are mostly coloured folk but no less precious. Our church is ready to provide beds for fifty downstairs so are all the other churches, schools are full but families are all separated not even knowing if the other is alive. A lot of the children were in theatres and at the Carnivals when the first dike broke at 4.30 p.m. Yesterday was Memorial Sunday. It will never leave our memory even far less those poor people. I will send newspapers with pictures. The Red Cross, Salvation Army, and Scouts are doing a good job. The people lost everything except the few clothes they had on. The crest of the flood is supposed to be reached eighteen hours from now. The late spring is the cause of much of it and the snow and ice from the tops of the mountains, the flood is higher than the one they had in 1898. We are truly thankful to be safe but it sure breaks your heart even to listen to such a disaster. If you hear Vancouver mentioned its a city in Washington state just across the river from Portland." This is the kind of letter one would expect to have from Mrs. McLaughlin.

The local finance committee of the Hospital Board met the Executive Committee of the Matheson Red Cross Society, Monday last, to discuss matters in connection with a new twenty bed Red Cross Hospital for this community. This community which comprises the Black River Township area and Matheson also township of Playfair and Ramore, is at the present time being served with an eight bed hospital. The Women's Missionary Society of the United Church operate this hospital and have done a worth while job.

The hospital building was originally one house, another house was annexed to this building and more recently other alterations have been made when, through public subscription an x-ray was purchased and a dark room had to be used. Some idea of the need of this building can be gathered by the fact that 422 people were admitted and 85 new Canadians born. Some of our local residents have had hospitalization in other places, Troquois Falls, Timmins and South Porcupine.

The Hospital Finance Committee, has been formed for the purpose of determining the possibilities of raising the necessary funds in this community for such a proposed plan.

The proposed site consists of eight lots, four lots were donated by the Black River Township area and four more by individual citizens.

The Committee elected were, Chairman, A. Doucette, Sec. M. D. Kaye, Leo Alarie, C. O. McLean, Dr. Oughtred, Mrs. H. Kennedy and Mrs. A. Bennett.

DALE CARNEGIE

Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People"

This story deals with a vital interest: how to get hold of a plumber promptly. Walter Randall, Phoenix, N. Y., is a student at Syracuse university; also he is a student of how to handle people, as you will see.

Arriving at the university he had the usual present-day difficulty in getting a room. Finally, he landed one. The house was old and the plumbing had gray hair. The town has one plumber, one barber, and so on; and when you needed one of them, the chances are that luck was against you.

Tehre was one bathroom in the house and there were several people to use it. Most of them had to shave. Something got out of kilter and a plumber was needed to come as fast as the Pony Express. Trouble was in the saddle! Water was running through the ceiling of the kitchen.

Walter Randall rushed to the telephone but someone more wise to the ways of the plumber, called out that he was out on a job most of the time and probably there would be no response to the call for days. So Walter decided on another course of action: instead of urging the plumber to come, he would arouse his interest in wanting to come.

He wrote a letter to the plumber. First, he commented on what he had done for the family in the past, saying how satisfactory the service had been. Then he said he hated to impose on such a busy man, but he would appreciate it if he could help them out in their emergency.

He took the note to the plumber's house and left it under the door. Then he went home, but he had hardly got seated before the plumber appeared. He said he was glad to come and he had left other calls to answer this one promptly. He added that he usually received nothing but complaints, that no one ever thanked him or complimented him for service rendered, and that he appreciated Mr. Randall's letter.

When the job was finished, he said, "I've taken pleasure in doing this job; I felt my work was appreciated."

The Rideau Canal, built 135 years ago to prevent Americans from invading Canada, will probably entertain year than ever before in history. The Canal was originally built by British Engineers so troops and supplies could be diverted from the St. Lawrence River where they were subject to being fired on by batteries on the American shore during the war of 1812.

It is with regret that we learn of the death in Matachewan last week of Mr. Christie father of Mrs. Fred Grigger of Hooker Creek. Mrs. Grigger attended the funeral held at Matachewan last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Hagan of Anthony had a visit over the week-end from Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Anthony, Mrs. Bertha Anthony and Mrs. Roach of South Porcupine.

Several amusing things have happened in regard to the election. Last week a half ton truck had a C.C.F. placard in front, at the back a Liberal poster and he was on his way to work for the Progressive Conservative Government. Not to be outdone, Election day there was a three ton truck working for the Department of Highways No. 101 with C.C.F. placards all over the truck. Surely this could be called a Democratic country.

LET'S CUT DOWN ON RUMORS

Rumors are seldom good news. All too often they are not based on fact. Every time they are relayed they stray farther from the truth. Rumors usually hurt somebody—so let's help put an end to them. Gossip lives only when it has listeners . . . dies when the facts are known. By making sure of the facts, each one of us can do his share toward stopping rumors. That's "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.
