Roving Heart

Roving heart, roving heart, break you your fetters,
The long road is calling so be on your way.
Where skies are glowing in gorgeous colors,
Caught in a million jewels from heavens ray.

Go follow the trail where flowers are blooming,
And diffusing a radiance 'neath a pale moon.
Where full grown lambs bleat loud from the hillside
And rose tinted clouds play o'er a lagoon.

Go where the camp fires softly are gleaming,
And shadows are casting gay patterns.
Where sobbing violins sweetly are telling
Of faraway hills, and old caravans.

So roving heart, roving heart, break you your fetters,
Your soul will grow mute the longer you stay.
So go where there's laughter, love and fair weather
And where rainbows live thro' the soft dying day.

Lillian O'Donnell.

Impressive Ceremony Marks Graduation Exercises of St. Mary's School of Nursing

An impressive ceremony marked the graduation exercises of the largest class on record of St. Mary's School of Nursing held in the Victory Theatre on Sunday evening. A capacity crowd of parents, relatives and friends gathered to congratulate and applaud as the graduates received their diplomas and other awards. The class which consisted of 23 members brings the total of graduates from the School since its inception in 1929 to a total of 198. Sister Fidelis has been the superintendent of nurses since the school opened.

Members of the graduating class were Catharine Montgomery, Germaine Raymond, Sheila Beachamp, Kathleen Byron, Lola Corrigan, Winnifred McElrea, Evelyn McKee, Alice Rhyno, Louise Lemieux, Dora Knell, Rita Millette, Mary MacLean, Margaret Mac Isaac, Madeline Boisvert, Patricia Gridley and Irene Borland, all of Timmins, Eileen Soucie, Kathleen Corris, and Olga DiFanti, of Schumacher, Marjory Pera and Jean Seton Adamson, South Porcupine, Glenys Byron, Gold Centre and Grace Latham of Delnate Mines Property.

On the stage most attractive with a profusion of Spring flowers, the girl graduates wearing the immaculate uniforms and caps of their profession stood, each with a lovely bouquet of red roses in their hands. Mr. Gregory Evans, noted barrister, was chairman for the evening. The interesting program opened with musical selections by the Timmins Citizens' Band under the direction of Fred Wojno. His Worship, Karl Eyre, Mayor of Timmins addressed the gathering, extending to one and all a greeting from the town of Timmins. Dr. G. O. Armistage brought a message of congratulation from the Porcupine Medical Society. He said "it was an honor to extend every good wish to the graduating class and spoke of the duties of the nursing profession and of the dependence of doctors and nurses upon one another in the care of the sick." Father B. Dionne brought a message in French from St. Anthony's Cathedral parish.

Miss Ellie MacDonald then presented the St. Mary's Alumnae Scholarship to Miss Grace Latham, who stood highest in the class. Father P. B. Murray presented the J. J. Evans trophy for second highest standing to Miss Lola Corrigan. Mrs. Brunet presented the St. Mary's Hospital Auxiliary prize for third ranking to Miss Madeline Boisvert.

Guest speaker of the evening was Rev. Hugh Martindale who thoroughly stressed the need of a good beginning in the home and inculcating the necessary virtues as a good foundation during the young years. He also reminded the graduates that love of the finer things of life and culture was their duty, and to spread that duty and love wherever they went. He also asked the nurses to remember always the splendid teachings of their instructors.

Mr. Gregory Evans presented the diplomas. Each nurse was called individually and each received her share of plaudits from the gathering. Sister Superior pinned on the medals that each girl will wear henceforth as a badge of her profession. The graduates then repeated the Florence Nightingale Pledge after Father Murray, pledging themselves to a lifetime of service and duty to their fellowmen and their community wherever they are called upon to serve.

Miss Evelyn McKee was valedictorian and stressed the sadness felt by the graduates upon having to terminate their connection with St. Mary's School of Nursing. The meeting closed with a song.

To Hold Tag Day For Adopted Ward At Christie Street

For what better purpose could a tag day be held than for those who gave all for their King and Country? And tomorrow the Ladies Auxiliary of the Miners' Union Local 341 will ask one and all to buy a tag so they might continue to send a parcel a month containing little comforts, that sometimes mean so little to us, but so much to the boys confined in Christie Street Hospital. The ladies for a long time now have adopted a ward, contributing the comforts themselves but they find now, that unless a little help is forthcoming these parcels will have to be discontinued. Rather than disappoint the boys they are appealing to you for help, and Timmins known far and wide for its generosity is asked to respond generously to this most worthy cause.
