WHAT TIMMINS READS

What is Timmins reading? Apart from the local libraries and the Book-of-the-Month club, the most popular books this month are reported to be the following:

Andy Clarke and his Neighbourly News (Ryerson); The Freeholder, by Joseph D. Brown (Morrow); For Goodness Sake, by Nancy Jones (Ryerson); and Medical Meeting, by Mildred Walker (Harcourt, Brace and Company).

John Vintnar is still waging his campaign for complimentary tickets to all school teachers. They tell me he has been joined by a certain school teacher who shares the same views as John. We will do our best John and

TIMMINS TRAIN-JUMPER

A Timmins man jumped from a railway train travelling over 50 M.P.H. He rolled over and over a number of times and then stood up, bruised but unhurt.

He jumped deliberately because everyone in the train was headed for Marcellus and Russian custody. Thus escaping, First Lieut. Kostas Lukosius is now in good health, though without a job, and is living in a private home on Spruce street north.

The nine injured persons at Timmins communist meeting on Monday night? That is nothing to Mr. Lukosius. "Russian officers," he says, "used to come and make speeches to us in Germany—implore us to return to Lithuania."

In the Russian zone? "No, in the British and American zones."

And the Russian officer would get beaten up like that? "More. They would get beaten much more badly than that."

For a time Mr. Lukosius served under the Russian army, and after one month, he says, he was afraid to speak to his best friend—intimately, that is—and vice versa.

Once on a Russian train filled with people and their belongings, Mr. Lukosius happened to enquire where they were going. One did not know. Another did not know. Then another and another. None of them knew. Nor were they inclined to speak at all.

It transpired that they comprised part of one town, half of which was being moved "en masse" bag and baggage to another part of the country, 200 or 2000 miles, they did not know.

Parts of towns, maybe half the townfolk, are moved to another district, maybe once in six months, or in three years, they never know when they will be compelled to move.

What's the idea? Why shove masses all over the country like that one way and another?

Because, Mr. Lukosius believes, it eliminates the possibility of collaboration, getting together, meeting—revolution.

And it is done so much, he says, that even brothers, and fathers and sons, after being separated, will hardly speak to one another upon reunion, or even betray any emotion; that, indeed, they have for so long been afraid to speak and their emotions withheld, that their emotions dry up, do not react at all, even upon the sight of a long absent loved member of the family.

Mr. Lukosius is a professional soldier; but, according to Canadian law, he is not eligible for the Canadian army, must live in Canada for five years before becoming eligible.

Court

Albert Bishop, found guilty last week of forgery and adjourned for one week for sentence was given three months by Magistrate Atkinson on Tuesday. The Bench told Bishop he might have been sentenced to seven years.

Case brought by Chris Kovich against his wife, Violet Kovich, for forgery was dismissed after adjournment from last week.

Delmis Smith pleaded not guilty to a charge of theft of a ring and watch, brought by Frank Spadafore, on or about Nov. 17th. Corporal Fulton accompanied by Chief McInnis and Mr. Spadafore, searched two bags belonging to Smith in the police vault. They found the ring in one bag, and the watch of a coat in the bag, the watch, to both of which articles Spadafore laid claim.

Defendant was represented by Mr. Platus. Chief McInnis said that upon information that Smith had left town, and had left two bags in Foster's Taxi office, he asked to have them brought to the police office.

Spadafore said Smith had been living at his home since coming back to town in September.

After spending some hours in a beverage room on November 12th, a quarrel ensued in which Smith was asked to leave; which he did around 1 a.m. The following day the articles were missed from a dressing table and Forster told him Smith's bags were there.

It was then that he requested the chief of police to search them for the lost articles. S. Platus questioned concerning the probability of other persons having access to the bags while they were in the taxi-stand, as they were not locked.

Smith said he had left for North Bay and had registered with the Un-employment Office there.

After saying that the articles should be returned to Spadafore, the magistrate dismissed the case.

Stanley Nelson paid $5 and costs for having defective lights.

Rio Festerini	332
Percy Burton	310
L. D. St. James	306
Harry Odgen	231
Peter Clarke	228

They tell me that Marcel Grandbois has become quite an adept waiter. Lots of practice eh Marcel. Marcel says he can handle two sandwich trays at a time while also eating and passing out food with his mouth and two arms. You have to admire that boy, he has determination. Marcel says that he has a child prodigy in the person of Lucien Pare.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year To All

Our greatest asset

DOES NOT SHOW IN OUR BALANCE SHEET

Big family — the B of M staff... close to ten thousand men and women serving well over a million and a half Canadians in every walk of life from coast to coast.

These are the people who make the B of M — they are our "greatest asset" which no balance sheet can show.

"I am very proud of our staff," said Gordon R. Ball in his report as General Manager to shareholders of the B of M. "The year has been a heavy one in all sections of our business, and our staff have discharged their duties with untiring energy and efficiency..."

"But mere facts and figures do not, and perhaps cannot, convey to you the spirit and warmth of the services rendered day by day throughout the year, sometimes under most trying circumstances."

"I refer to the staff in many offices where alterations are under way, who carry on with a smile amidst the din of trip-hammers, and with carpenters, plasterers and others working at their trades."

"I refer to the men on the lonely outskirts of Labrador who have unfurled the banner of our institution in territories still undeveloped..."

"I could go on recounting other tales of a spirit in our institution that cannot be measured in dollars and cents, but which is, nevertheless, our greatest asset..."

I am very proud of our staff."
