Brilliant Moon; Sharp Shadows Cast Last Night

A full moon brightened Timmins like noonday last night. Not one street lamp, nor one store window showed. Third avenue was clear as day. The shadow of the buildings stood black against the snow.

The roof of every house formed a milky-white patch. The white smoke floating from chimneys stood stark against the deep blue sky, particularly the puffs billowing from the Hollinger Mines. Even cigarette smoke waited in sharp shadow across the snow.

At 2:00 a.m. this morning the mercury stood at 18 below zero. All quiet. The Town Hall black, except for the police station windows, and the boulevard bright as day.

And under that full moon last night a handful of snow glistened and shimmered like a thousand tiny sapphires.

Bernard Shaw's latest play is a flop. Oh, well, every new playwright has to win his spurs.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Sports Corner

by DOUG McLELLAN

The local Combines had their taste of Memorial Cup medicine last Monday night when they tackled the fighting Irish from Ottawa's St. Pat's College and they found everything to their liking as they took a 4-1 verdict from the Capitol City kids.

The game could very well have been a pre-view of what to expect this spring when the locals set out on the Memorial Cup trails, as it is quite possible that the Combines and St. Pat's will meet for the right to advance against the O.H.A. winner.

Cream? No, Sir!
Although the win can't be taken from the locals, there are a few things to be considered before you concede that the Combines will knock off the Ottawa League.

In the first place the St. Pat's squad are not the cream of the Valley in their loop, so the Juniors may be crop and are currently in third place in their loop, so the Juniors may be meeting a stronger team than the Irish, unless the St. Pat's can knock off the front-runners.

Minus Three Stars
Another important factor is that the visitors were not at full strength, as three of their top stars didn't make the trip. The trio are making a U.S. tour with an Ottawa University team and so were lost to the Juniors.

Three players can make a lot of difference of a team, and this three certainly will.

The third big thing to think over lies, not with the team, but in the egg-shaped lines of the Ottawa Auditorium, which will be the scene of a couple of the play-off tilts.

The rink is very long and narrow and the tricky corners have always been a big headache for the visitors and a boost to the home-town squad, give the Combine's win too much importance.

Local Considerations
From the sound of this so far you would think that an Ottawa writer was responsible for the babbling, but there are things to be considered from the local point of view too.

To start things off, Coach Jerry Beland, in an effort to give all his kids a chance, dressed 18 men and although the extra kids played well, it meant that some of the more established stars didn't get their turn in the game as often as they otherwise would have.

There is no doubt about it, the locals are a faster club than St. Pat's but they didn't get too much of a chance to put their excess speed to use as the ice was a little wet and slow and the locals, as a result, were slowed down to a walk.

A colder night and faster ice would have made a difference to the Combines cause.

Argue as you like though and you'll come to the same answer each time, it's going to be a good series next spring, should the Combines oust the Sudbury winner, of course.

TORONTO TOTTERS

January 2 is going to go down in sporting history as the date of the one of the most uphill and resounding victories in the annals of sports. On that memorable day the populace of Toronto voted to have sports on Sunday afternoon between the hours of one and six.

The opponents of a decent sport for the people of Toronto tried in many ways to bluff the issue but their trickery was to no avail as the people exercised their right to vote for their choice and went against all but one of the heads of the city, and various church organizations and clubs in the city.

Lampert Stood Alone

The next time you go to Toronto for the week-end and take in a hockey or ball game you can thank Controller Lampert that you are there because he was the man who stood alone in the fight for Sunday sport and won the battle single-handed.

If you were one of the ones against the move, stick to your convictions and don't go near the Gardens or a ball park on Sunday because it would be against your principles.

Just sit in your hotel room and twiddle your thumbs because that's what you wanted when you talked against the whole idea.

Yes, it was quite a victory, but at the same time you have to take off your hats to the Church Leaders of this camp for their broad-mindedness in not making such a fuss here.

ICE CHIPS

Jerry Beland, coach of the Combines, introduced a new tactic the other night that really paid off for him.

On two occasions the Combines were short-handed two men and instead of playing any of his defencemen for that time, he played his first string combination of Labelle Mestan and McLaughlin and the trio

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

KEEP ICICLES OFF YOUR EAVES

Beware the "January Thaw"—warm days and cold nights make perfect weather for icicles. The weight of such icicles is not only a strain on your eavestroughs, but a menace to passers-by! Get a long pole after those aerial icebergs and bring them down before they do harm! It may seem a small thing—but remember, any contribution to the public good, is itself a real contribution to "Good Citizenship".

"Bob, do you know what Day this is?"

"This," said Betty to a momentarily flustered Bob, "is the beginning of a new year with a lot of wonderful possibilities for us."

"The Bank Manager and I were chatting about the new year and he told me what the Bank President had said in his speech about our future."

"And, you know Bob, I never realized before what great possibilities there are for you and me and every Canadian."

In the Bank President's words:
"The underlying trend for Canada is decidedly upward—we are still a young and growing country." There are immediate problems, to be sure. But Canada's unfolding resources and growing capacity to develop them can make the next fifty years a half century of realization of Laurier's famous quotation: "The twentieth century belongs to Canada."
