Kids Shellac Pigs

Crafts are being taught every afternoon at the Log Cabin, to the children of the four Timmins playgrounds. Mr. Lionel Caron, T. C. A. C. supervisor, is giving preliminary instruction on the casting of plaster of paris in rubber molds. When the plaster has been set the mold is peeled off and the children paint their articles and then shellac them to give them that finished glow.

In the first two days of their work the children have already turned out some very life looking elephants, bears, penguins, rabbits, pigs and dogs. As well as these small ornaments they are making wall plaques and ash trays. From this elementary work the boys and girls will continue on to free modelling, sculpture, and whittling.

More for Tiny Tots

The T. C. A. C. held an executive committee meeting in the town hall. Mr. Sturgeon said swimming lessons were going on fine with a good attendance, and tennis will start this week, with a registration now of 200, and there may be others coming when it gets underway as last year, he added. It was considered opening another playground for tiny tots on the corner of Main avenue and Cameron; it will be thoroughly thought over to see if it will be a good area for a good attendance.

Calling All Bowlers

The Timmins Lawn Bowling Club held a meeting on Sunday afternoon at the bowling greens, Hollinger Park. The ground has been tended by the T. C. A. C. for some time, several times seeded and top-dressed; but, alas, the grass will not grow. The greens are patchy and not in good shape for bowling.

A sample of earth has been sent away to Guelph for analysis and the club and the T. C. A. C. are awaiting the results of the test.

However, the club decided to bowl anyhow, for a short time, so they can keep their club membership together and keep them interested.

It may not be as good bowling as it should be, but at least they still can have lots of enjoyment.

This coming Sunday afternoon will commence bowling again; so, all lawn bowlers, get ready for Sunday; and come and get in the mood of bowling.

A Timmins' Voice From Iron Curtain

There has never been peace in the world and never will be, unless, of course, the fundamental democratic principles are upheld: the right of self-determination for all nations. Not only those nations which are now free, may I point out, but especially those which were or are now enslaved.

A Lithuanian Speaks

If you don't want war — prepare for it. That is very true. But this is not consistent with history; two nations start an armament race for the most dreadful weapons. They race and race but one sunny day they miss each other and live in peace. Such optimism is not even portrayed by American films.

So we can come to very clear conclusion. Then will come the conflict. But for for? It will be bio-fished. Every human sacrificing his life wants to know why he must do so? Why would the Russians go to war? They would know what to say. For they have enough means of force to make all the Russians believe. But how will it be with the democratic world, many will ask, for we have all the freedoms?

It is not exactly so. The last war required the human blood for liberation of the nations from slavery of dictatorship. Soldiers believed and risked their lives for that idea. But do we have what they fought for? Where did the Atlantic Charter disappear to? Who put the chains of slavery for the eastern nations of Europe and Theheran? Maybe the Red Dean could have answered that one.

Fresh Start

Well, it is past. Now we are starting anew; but now we should really destroy slavery. That is what the Red Dean preached. So, who would not believe it.

We must believe, if we do not, it would be too horrible. But who follows the press, who reads the speeches of responsible diplomats, or their official statements; we always hear such argumentations: how can we avoid war with the Russians if they don't keep their promises made in Theheran, if they want Italy, France, Balkans and more. . . .

Some representatives of enslaved nations in London, England, wished to turn the clock of history back and asked that the Russians should step back from the Baltic states, Poland, Czechoslovakia, and the others.

It seems, as I pointed out, to fight for those nations that are free. But if the dictator succeeds in taking the nations by force, it is finished, and it is turning history's clock back. I am sure that the Kremlin could think of "more profitable principles" of fight for the freedom of the nations.

But We Know . . .

It is implied that such considerations do not ruin the confidence of democracy and its noble ideals. It is just a sole mark on an unblemished body. But we must cure it!

The people of those enslaved nations — who are all over the world — are and must be the surgeons of these sole marks of democracy. For they know the life behind the iron curtain. But you — Canadians — you don't know. And the Red Dean doesn't know, although people think he does. But we with experience behind the
