Dick Day, the new mail boy, certainly believes in the old adage "A new broom sweeps clean". He's in and out of the offices a dozen times a day. Good luck Dick and welcome to Terrace Bay.

Back from Duluth wan and worn Bob Sheppard managed to gasp, "I did it, she said yes", then he collapsed and was laid up in bed for a few days. On his recovery we found out he was referring to Miss Esther Jersild of Neenah, Wisconsin, who has agreed to share the remainder of her days with "Laughing Robert" our shepherd of the Terrace Bay News flock. Best of luck to you both!

WISH I WERE SINGLE AGAIN!

With all the marriages soon to take place, we feel we should comfort the poor soon-to-be-chained males with some timely philosophy. Remember fellows, a married man is lucky! He has a wife to help him out of all the troubles and worries he would never have had if he had stayed single.
