

Every year, The Canadian National Institute for the Blind holds tag-days across Canada for the purpose of raising funds to assist the worthy work carried on by the organization which administers to the needs of more than 14,000 blind persons throughout Canada.

A letter has been received at Terrace Bay from Mr. Norman Gilby, Field Secretary of the Institute at Port Arthur, advising that annual tag-days are now being organized for early fall, and Mr. Gilby has offered to assist in arranging a tag-day at Terrace Bay.

In our community there are, no doubt, public spirited citizens who will rally to the support of such a worthy cause and take an active part in organizing a committee at Terrace Bay.

The Editor-in-Chief of "Terrace Bay News" will be glad to furnish further information regarding this appeal.

GOOD NEWS FOR TERRACE BAY HOUSEWIVES

We are very pleased to announce that "Terrace Groceteria" will be opened for business in a temporary location at Terrace Bay about the middle of September. Mr. G.M. Lumbers, owner of the business which will ultimately be located in the modern shopping centre planned for Terrace Bay, advises that the temporary store will carry groceries, meats and fresh vegetables. This announcement will, no doubt, be of considerable interest to all Terrace Bay housewives.

WOODLANDS LOG

By Len Christianson

While away on my vacation, I took time out to investigate Ole "Flapjack" Swenson and although I wouldn't call him a prevaricator, I would say that he handles the truth a little carelessly. He wasn't Paul Bunyan's barn boss! "One-Eye" La Rue was and "Flapjack" was only his assistant. Take warning from this. The truth will find you out! However, this is the only case we have against Flapjack, so I guess we can accept his other stories as the unvarnished truth. He also forgot to mention that there were two oxen, "Babe" the blue ox and "Benny" the off ox who were very fond of "Flapjacks".

I am not very familiar with the recent social activities of the Woodlands Department but I will see what there is for the next issue of "The Terrace Bay News".
