

WATCH FOR CHILDREN AT PLAY

Roads are an inviting place for children to play with toboggans and sleighs and quite often youngsters become so absorbed in playing that they fail to realize the danger of approaching traffic. This is as true at Terrace Bay as elsewhere. The downhill road to the pumphouse on the Lake Shore really does invite use as a sleigh and toboggan slide and since this is so, every effort is being made to make the road a safe area in which children may play. Caution signs are being erected and drivers of vehicles are asked to carefully observe instructions on the signs. Parents are urged to caution their children against playing with sleighs and toboggans on townsite roads in favour of using the facilities of the Pumphouse road.
