CURLING

Membership in the Terrace Bay Curling Club now stands at 116 and the 29 rinks to which the members have been posted have been divided into four groups. By a series of eliminations, winners will be decided for playoffs, the winning rink of which will be entitled to the Grand Challenge Trophy donated by Hudson's Bay Company. In a bonspiel, which in all probability will be held mid-season, a trophy donated by the Imperial Bank of Canada will go to the winners. Members and the executive of the Curling Club would like to thank publicly both Imperial Bank and Hudson's Bay Company for their respective donations of trophies.

In regular curling during the first four days of the schedule winning rinks were skipped by: Kay Isbester, Les Martin, Ruth Bangartt, E. Ostling, R. Normandeau, A. Marcel, J. Johnston, R. Mantere, C. Knauff, A. MacDonald, P. Kerr and B. Dyck.

But that doesn't end our curling news! During the afternoons, townsite ladies make good use of the rink for practices and challenge games. During the past week, a friendly but keen rivalry has emerged between rinks from Laurier Avenue and Hudson Drive. The score at the moment is a win for each, with a game scheduled for Wednesday afternoon Jan. 28th to break the deadlock. If other "all ladies" rinks emerge, it's still not too late for an afternoon schedule or a bit of a bonspiel to see just which ladies' rink could emerge as the best at Terrace Bay.

And incidentally, we understand that since all the "sweeping" began at the Curling Rink, housewives have found it easier to induce friend "hubby" to sweep up the cellar once in a while, now that he has learned to wield a broom.
