AL MCCOLL'S RINK WINS
IMPERIAL BANK TROPHY

In the Bonspeil which brought Terrace Bay's first curling season to a close, Al McColl's rink emerged victorious last Sunday night thereby capturing the coveted Imperial Bank Trophy. The trophy, donated by the Imperial Bank of Canada to the Terrace Bay Curling Club, is for annual bonspeil competition.

Ice conditions, caused by recent mild weather, had forced postponement of the last half of the bonspeil for a week, but by last Friday evening the ice had tightened up and play resumed.

On Sunday afternoon in the fours, Ruth Bangartt's rink was eliminated in a close game by Al Lawson's rink (which incidentally was skipped by Rune Ostling due to Al's return to Sault Ste Marie). In the 12-end evening game for the trophy, it looked like a walk-away for the Lawson rink by the end of the 4th, when the score stood 7-2 in their favour. McColl picked up singles in the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th, to make it 7-6, only to drop two in the 9th to trail 9-6. Faced with defeat, the three-man McColl crew curled like champions as they picked up two in the 10th and one in the 11th to make it a tie going home. In the 12th, a single counter gave Al's rink the jewellery.

For the Lawson rink, skipped by Rune Ostling, it was a tough one to lose. The rink also included Kathy Tracey, third; Al Crockford, second; and Irene Ostling, lead (substituting for Mrs. Cy Camplong). On Al McColl's rink, Bill Lowe was third, while Paul Boudreau threw lead and second rocks, due to the absence of Shiela Lowe (who was forced to retire from play mid-way through the bonspeil) and Ab Keehn.
