

PLAN YOUR VACATION FOR HEALTH

As the holiday season rolls around everyone is busy making plans.....where to go, and what to do. Often the planning is as pleasant as the vacation itself, and so it should be, for it takes our minds off the every-day problems and gives us a new lease on life after the long gloomy days of winter.

In our eagerness to get the most out of our holidays, however, we must not lose track of the real reason for holidays.....the opportunity it affords us to relax and get away from the daily grind. Whether you plan a trip to sunny California or decide to spend your holidays fishing, picnicing, exploring nature's beauty spots right here in Terrace Bay, the important thing is to enjoy it and to return feeling rested and able to tackle the every-day problems of another year.

So, plan your holidays with a view to relaxation and enjoyment and automatically you will be planning for health.
