LET'S TAKE A LOOK AT OUR SAFETY RECORD

Ten months of our first calendar year of mill operation have now elapsed during which time we have had 17 disabling lost-time accidents, 2 of which have been serious. Of the less serious accidents 10 have for time losses averaging only 3 days each.

In terms of frequency (the number of accidents per million man hours worked) our rate for the year to date is slightly over 15. This compares quite favourably with nearby mills which have started up in recent years where in one case during the first calendar year of operation there were 83 accidents for a frequency rate of 56.1 and in another instance 102 accidents during a similar period for a frequency rate of 78.5

As we go to press, we have just completed our second calendar month without a disabling lost-time accident and the number of safe days worked now stands at 80 (more than 287,000 man hours). In terms of days, our immediate objective is 100 which can be reached by November 21st. On completion of 100 safe days a gala Community Party will be staged by the Company. In terms of man hours there is an objective, which, if reached, would be a remarkable achievement during our first calendar year of mill operation. BY WORKING SAFELY FOR THE BALANCE OF THIS YEAR, OUR RECORD WOULD EXCEED ONE-HALF MILLION MAN HOURS. In terms of eliminating the pain, worry, reduced income and unhappiness caused by disabling lost-time accidents,
