LARGEST CIRCULATION IN TERRACE BAY

March 9, 1950.

EDUCATION WEEK IS OBSERVED AT SCHOOL

As part of the program of National Education Week the Terrace Bay School held open house on Tuesday evening, March 7th when the general public was given an opportunity of viewing some very fine work of the children which was on display in the various rooms.

In co-operation with the school in the observance of Education week the Kiwanis Club of Terrace Bay sponsored a hobby fair which created a surprising amount of interest and revealed considerable talent of a very high order within the confines of our comparatively small community.

Many of the exhibitors also gave demonstrations of craft and answered numerous questions with which they were plied by enthusiastic spectators.

The Kiwanis Club expresses its sincere appreciation to all who in any way contributed to the success of this first hobby show to be held in Terrace Bay.

Those exhibiting and demonstrating their work were: Mrs. Scowen, assisted by Jane Porter and Valerie McDonald, shell work; Mrs. H. Goodfellow, petit point work; Mrs. P. Rapke, wood carving; Mrs. H. Boudreau, paintings; Stan Hodgkiss, wood work; R. F. Williams, wood work; Bert Lohr, radio work; Ken Hutchinson, leather work; Sue Lumbers and Benito Smith, leather work; coloured photography, Albert Cadieux; R. Wills, rug making; Bert Laundry, chip carving; Dr. J. Shaunessy, making of toys from scrap wood and plaster of paris; Jack Shaunessy, coins and bills of foreign countries; W. M. Vanatter, stamps; Fred Soughton, gems and jewelry; Bob Sheppard, model building.

It is the hope of those sponsoring this show that many other citizens of the community will be encouraged to take up some hobby so that a similar show, but on a much larger scale may be held at some future date.

KEEPING PACE WITH THE STORK

The boys around the office have really been smoking Corona-Coronas this past week. Joe ("ya got my cheque?") Heenan became the proud pappy of a baby boy on Sunday, while Fred ("What's the Safety Slogan?") Soughton is the father of a seven pound daughter on Wednesday. Congratulations to the proud parents!
