LIBRARY NEWS

Hours: Monday & Wednesday - 2 to 4 p.m.
Tuesday & Thursday - 7 to 9 p.m.

Continuation of last week's list of books donated by Joe Butler:

The Sunlit Field - Lucy Kennedy. The glowing story of how Po and Larry, Brooklyn and baseball, and America itself all struggled to grow up with their hopes and dreams.

The City in the Dawn - Hervey Allen. A saga of colonial times - in Pennsylvania, the Ohio country and New York State.

The Impudent Rifle - Dick Pearce. A story of frontier Army life in the American Southwest.

Proud New Flags - F. Van Wyck Mason. The seldom-told story of the naval war between the Northern Union and the Southern Confederacy.

Vinegar Hill - Franklin Coen. Tells the story of a Southern election and the fiery passions it fanned.

The Infinite Woman - Edison Marshall. As a starting point for his story, Mr. Marshall has taken the life of the great dancer and courtesan, Lola Montez.

The Library will be closed to the public the week of October 29th while the books are being moved to the new location previously occupied by the Improvement District.

AT THE MOVIES

Saturday Matinee - October 27/51 - 2:00 p.m.
"Stars In My Crown" with Joel McCrea, Ellen Drew and Dean Stockwell.

Saturday Evening - October 27/51 - 7:30 p.m.
"The Red Danube" starring Walter Pidgeon, Peter Lawford and Janet Leigh. An exciting story of post-war Vienna and the conflict between Russian and British officials over the repatriation of displaced persons. A British Colonel and his staff with the help of the Mother Superior of a Vienna convent pool their resources in an attempt to prevent the Russians from forcing a girl to return to the country she despises.
