

A REAL CHALLENGE

Last year, during the period from January 9th to July 21st here at Terrace Bay, LongLac employees worked 192 consecutive safe days for a safe man hour total of 728,825.

As we go to press today, our safe day total is 104 and safe man hours are nearing the 400,000 mark.

To provide an added incentive to all as we endeavour to better our best previous record, Mill Manager D.C. Porter has announced that another Community Safety Party will be staged on completion of 750,000 safe man hours instead of 1,000,000 hours as previously indicated. The 750,000 hour objective ought to be reached about mid-October if we continue to operate without a disabling injury.

And just a word about another objective. Last year, with 5 disabling injuries during the year, we had a frequency rate (accidents per million man-hours worked) of 3.48. We set an objective for 1952 of a frequency rate of not more than 2.50. To-date our rate is 2.85 and it will take all of our efforts to end up the year at the 2.50 rate or less as we can afford only one more disabling injury this year if this objective is to be achieved. So let's do all we can by continuing to prevent accidents! By doing so we will reach our goals!

STORK CLUB

Congratulations to Mr. & Mrs. J. Cumming on the arrival of a girl.
Thursday July 10/52.

St. Martin's Roman Catholic Church, Terrace Bay, was the scene of a wedding at 9 AM. Sat. July 5th. when Glenna Theresa Coughlin daughter of Mrs. Emma Coughlin, Port Arthur, became the bride of James Kerr MacDonald, son of Mrs. T.J. Hadley, London, Ont. Rev. R.J. Roenicke officiated.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. J. Kennedy, the bride was lovely in a white nylon tulle gown and white slippers. She carried a mauve orchid with streamers of lily-of-the-valley on her white prayer-book.

The Bride was attended by her two sisters, Kathleen and Jean Coughlin.

Mr. Bob Monteith was best man and Jock MacCall and Dick Lumbers were ushers.

A reception was held following the ceremony for approximately 125 guests at Hotel Terrace.

Mrs. J. Kennedy, sister of the bride, was dining room hostess and servitors were Esther Niemi, Norma Crockford, Olyve Harrison, Gertrude Bougie, Georgina Balderstone and Betty Visseau.

Before leaving on their honeymoon by motor to Clear Lake, Man. and Regina, via the United States, the wedding party gathered in the Hotel lobby where the Bride threw her bouquet. Gertrude Bougie, Plant Nurse, made the lucky catch.

Out of town guests were Mr. & Mrs. J. Hadley, London, Ont., Miss Gayle MacDonald, sister of the groom, London, Ont., Mrs. E. McLaughlin, Mrs. E. Anderson Mr. & Mrs. E. Bowlier, Miss Shirley MCKinnon, Miss Aileen Jago, Miss Betty Visseau, Paul Clements, all of Port Arthur Mrs. K. Sabourin of Fort William, Mr. & Mrs. L.B. Noonan of Schreiber.

Upon their return the happy couple will reside in Terrace Bay where both are employed.
