

DUQUETTE AND PAYETTE GRADUATE FROM JUNIOR

brain are still man's most valuable assets."

Mr. J.A. Foley, Head of Maintenance & Construction Div., of Staff Engineering, Kimberly-Clark Corp., then presented the graduates with their handbooks and Certificates of Graduation. The handbooks Mr. Foley pointed out, were personal gifts from Jim Whelan, Chief Engineer of Kimberly Clark. Mr. Foley said that the handbooks may in some cases show a different way of doing things than had been taught. Mr. Foley advised the graduates that when they do any jobs to ask themselves "What is the Better Way". For we all must progress in our vocation and do things the better way. Mr. Foley then congratulated the graduates.

Lou Duquette on behalf of Reg Payette and himself expressed their appreciation to the LongLac Pulp and Paper Company and the Kimberly Clark Corporation, for making this course possible. Appreciation was expressed to J. C. Wig, the Advisory Committee, Ken Hutchinson, all the Supervisors and their respective foremen, Howard Solly, and Cal Harvey.

Lou in conclusion assured the group the Reg Payette and himself will do their best to live up to the standard of graduates of the Junior Trades Program.

IN APPRECIATION

With regard to the untimely passing away of my late husband, Mike Kosco, I wish to express my deepest gratitude to all those who assisted me and my son in making arrangements for the funeral. I wish to extend my special appreciation to the LongLac Pulp and Paper Co. Ltd. administration for their understanding and their full cooperation in every respect. I am also much obliged to all my neighbours and friends for their sympathy and their good-hearted helpfulness during my great distress.

Mrs. Helen Kosco.

A. T. Hudson, Supervisor of Trades and Training for the Kimberly-Clark Corporation, H. C. Laundy, Personnel Superintendent, J. C. Wig, Plant Engineer, the Junior Tradesmen Advisory Committee, Presidents of the Local Unions, and many others.

The head table guests were D. C. Porter, D. Boudreau, G. H. Burke, J. A. Foley, and the graduates Lou Duquette and Reg Payette.

Ted Brown, Vice-President of Local 665, International Brotherhood of Pulp Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, was master of ceremonies for the occasion. Ted called upon Don Boudreau, Electrician Foreman, for the opening remarks. Don congratulated the graduates and urged them to continue to learn in their respective trades.

G. H. Burke of G. H. Burke Jewellers of Port Arthur, was introduced by Ted Brown. Mr. Burke gave the Graduation Address.

Mr. Burke, for a moment referred to the amazing progress made at Terrace Bay. Mr. Burke remembered well when it was known as Black Siding. Each visit here impressed Mr. Burke and he was pleased that this progress was carried to the employees as indicated tonight by the progress of these two men to Tradesman status.

Mr. Burke served his apprenticeship as a watchmaker and he realized the value of apprenticeship programs. Mr. Burke congratulated the graduates on their success, congratulated all those who were responsible or had anything to do with this course. He concluded on this note "Skilled Hands, agile
