Melville Moore died suddenly on Thursday, February 3rd, 1955. The untimely and sudden passing of Mel was a deep shock to relatives and Mel's many friends in Terrace Bay.

Mel was one of the original group of employees of the LongLac Pulp and Paper Company coming to Terrace Bay in July 1947. He was employed in the Pulp Department as a Bleachery Operator.

He was very active in the community particularly in the church, to which he donated many hours dismantling south camp buildings for material for the building of his church. He was an ardent sportsman and curler and a member of the Terrace Bay Masonic Lodge. It was typical of Mel that he was working hard in the preparation for the Curling Club's forthcoming Bonspiel.

Mel was born and raised in Port Arthur. He is survived by his wife Lydena, a son Dougie and daughter, Karen.

Funeral services were held for Mel on February 5th in the Terrace Bay Community Church, followed by a Masonic funeral service. Internment took place in Port Arthur with services conducted by Reverend Lavender and Reverend Mercer.
