LIBRARY NEWSSomething of Value - Robert Ruark

Mr. Ruark, author of "Hunter's Horn" is thoroughly familiar with Africa - which forms the setting for this book. It is essentially the story of how the Mau Mau Terrorists formed and turned against the white man. An absorbing but grimly stark novel -- recommended for those who like an absorbing story, but not for those who prefer gentle reading.

Lumberjack - Jack Fairlie

The true story of an ex-R.A.F. service man who leaves England and becomes a lumberjack in a British Columbian lumber camp. His adventures are quite humorous and Mr. Fairlie is much to be admired for his intelligent reaction to the ridicule of his fellow lumberjacks because of his English accent and clothes.

CREDIT UNION NEWSBorrowers Can Get the Savings Habit

The world is full of get-rich-quick schemes, and a man is wise to steer clear of them. The only easy way to attain great wealth is to inherit it, and since that means is closed to most of us, there remains only hard work, thrift and self discipline.

Most of us never hope to become wealthy anyhow, but almost all of us would like to have a little more saved than we have. There are many ways to save a little bit of money. If you are a borrower, for instance, you can do it by setting a fixed amount of repayment and adding the difference to your share account. Suppose the repayment amount is $10 and the interest on the first payment is $2.50. Make each payment $13 or $14, so that 50 cents or $1.50 goes on your share account the first payment, and as the loan balance goes down the share balance goes up.
