LIBRARY NEWS

There is a natural tendency during summer time to borrow books from the library and lay them aside until the fall to return them. However, there are borrowers who are using the library constantly all year round and are eagerly awaiting the return of several of the books which have been set aside. Therefore, in order to allow us to give satisfactory service to all those using the library it would be appreciated if overdue books were returned promptly.

The Liner - Edonard Perssón

A dramatic sea story of a liner in distress and the momentous decision to be made by the captain of the ship which comes to its assistance. The sinking of the doomed ship is most graphically described by one of its rescued officers.

Tom Swift and His Giant Robot -

Victor Appleton

Another in the Tom Swift series of books written for boys. This is one of the latest books published in this series.
